WEST VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS ASSURE HARMONY AT POLLS

Will Be No Bolt at the State Convention at Wheeling.

CANDIDATES AGREED

Gubernatorial Aspirants Declare the Enemy Shall Be Given No Comfort.

SENATOR ELKINS WILL PRESIDE

By WALTER J. CHRISTY.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wheeling, W. Va., July 11.—While the contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination is exciting, and both Dawson and Teter are claiming victory, there is nothing to indicate that party harmony in West Virginia will be endangered by the result of the convention that will open here tomorrow. The selection of ex-Senator Henry G. Davis as the Democratic vice presidential candidate has been notice to the party managers that factional quarrels must terminate with the adjustment of the convention.

The Democrats had hoped that the contest for governor between W. M. O. Dawson of Charleston and Charles F. Teter of Philippi would grow so bitter that the losing side would bolt the Republican convention and divide the party this fall. This was impressed upon the national leaders at St. Louis and the nomination of Davis was secured. With a quarreling Republican party, he was expected to redeem West Virginia to the Democrats and put upon the statue books a law disfranchising the negro voter a la Maryland style. Since returning from St. Louis Davis has given notice to the Democratic leaders that they must nominate C. Wood Daily of Elkins for governor.

A Bolt Not Expected.

Both Teter and Dawson say tonight that there is no danger of a bolt. They expect things to occur in the convention which will insure party harmony in the fall. Both agree that Davis will bring much strength to the Democratic ticket, but expect to experience no difficulty in again securing a Republican victory in November. With a few exceptions the same opinion is expressed by the followers of both candidates.

The plan of the Democracy to capture the entire state government and both branches of the legislature cannot be carried to a successful completion. Part of the scheme is to defeat Senator N. B. Scott for re-election, and give the seat to John T. McGraw, the Democratic national committeeman from this state. The Republican leaders are fully acquainted with the plans of the enemy and do not propose to do anything here this week which will give them aid or comfort.

When the Democratic leaders put Davis on the ticket for vice president, they figured that it would in a measure at least tie the hands of Senator S. B. Elkins and his several sons who take a lively interest in Republican politics. Senator Elkins is a son-in-law of the vice presidential candidate. Tomorrow Senator Elkins will be here to act as temporary chairman of the convention, and show that he will not allow relationship to interfere with his duty to party. It is doubtful if he would have come here had not his father-in-law been honored by the Democratic national convention. Mr. Elkins comes up for re-election in two years.

Talk of Bribery Is Heard.

While there will be no lack of harmony in November, there will be a lively time in this convention. Feeling is running high tonight and there are stories of bribery of delegates. The state committee is passing upon the innumerable contests and the descisions are leaving the customary sore spots which disappear after the convention. The town is packed with people from all over the commonwealth, and the convention promises to be the largest and liveliest in many years. Every inch of ground will be bitterly contested, and the winner of the nomination will know that he has had to battle. Men of all descriptions are crowding the lobbies of the McLure house tonight and there are few straddlers. Each man has his favorite and is ready to fight for him.

With lines so tightly drawn, it is difficult to secure an impartial statement on the situation. Friends say that Dawson came here with a majority of the delegates and can hold them unless the Teter forces win them away. Dawson says that he wouldn't sit in the gubernatorial chair if he had to purchase his nomination. Teter replies that talk of bribery on his part is but the wail of the defeated. Several back county delegates have been talking about attempts that have been made to bribe them, but the prices quoted

CAUTIONED AGAINST BLUFFS

By AUSTIN BEACH.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wheeling, W. Va., July 11.—Dawson's delegates and supporters held a rally at the Carroll club auditorium this evening that was a thriller. United States Marshal J. K. Thompson of Putnam county, former Democrat and confederate, presided. Ex-Gov. Atkinson, who will probably place Dawson in nomination, was to have made the principal speech, but a long, hot ride from Charleston was too much for him and he was forced to go to bed in his arrival. From a sick room he dictated strong appeal to Dawsonites to stand pat. This was read by Gov. White at the conclusion of his own talk, he being put forward to take Atkinson's place.

White, red-headed, hopeful and debonair as ever, was never in better form and never spoke with more feeling. The reception he got was enthusiastic, the large crowd cheering for nearly 10 minutes. About the time he was ready to speak a large banner reading, "We got here without passes," was unfurled and again the crowd cut loose. White's warning was against the danger of a stampede. He said:

"Keep sweet, keep cool. Be patient, don't get mad. Wait; don't let the policy of brag, bluster and bluff wear you out. Wait all summer, if need be, till the roll is called and then vote as you are instructed and expected to. You have the votes to win and the people, the common people, are behind you. In the 42 years history of West Virginia Republicans have never disregarded instructions, and I cannot believe that the boast of opposition that they did not get the delegates at the primaries, but have them now, is true. I know that Dawson will win both in the convention and at the polls in November."

White's Tribute to Dawson.

Gov. White paid an eloquent tribute to Dawson's qualifications as a leader of West Virginia Republicans for the 27 years he has been at the head of some Republican committee and for the past 13 years at the head of the state committee. He told how 13 years ago Dawson, at the earnest request of Senator Elkins, sold his newspaper at Kingwood and came to Wheeling to devote all his time to the organization of the Republican party. How in the following year, 1892, when an awful Republican slump took place all over the country, Democratic electors slipping in in Ohio; Pennsylvania choosing a Democratic governor and New York and Indiana going Democratic, West Virginia, under Dawson's pilotage, shaved the Democratic majority in this state down to its lowest and last ebb. Said White:

"Dawson never steered you on a shoal and never wrecked you on a reef, but always landed you in the Republican harbor of victory. He is the rarest, truest, noblest, most honest, most unassuming Republican I have ever known. He has been tried, tempted and insulted, villianously so, but has always remained cool and calm. He is one of those of whom we are told that 'he that ruleth his own spirit is greater than he that taketh a city.' He never struck a false note and never was there a man presented for the office of governor of West Virginia, who had the experience and qualifications for the office that Dawson has."

In this connection White named over the governors of the state, himself included, and named Gen. Goff when he came to Fleming's place in the roll, whereat there was a scene of wild enthusiasm surpassing anything that had taken place. Gov. Atkinson in his message warned delegates against any dark horse movement and again declared himself out of anything looking to such a compromise.

Dawson Appears at Meeting.

About 10 o'clock Col. Dawson made his appearance at the Carroll club auditorium and was given a reception that made all other demonstrations of the evening pale. It was not expected that he would be present, the supposition being that he could not leave the continuous meeting of the state executive committee,

CHICAGO CHRONICLE IS FIRST TO BOLT DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Publisher Seymour Declares Act of St. Louis Convention Was Cowardly and Platform Is Quibble Because Delegates Were Dominated by Bryan.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 11.—Tomorrow the Chicago Chronicle, established in 1895 as a Democratic organ, will appear as a Republican newspaper. The publisher, H. W. Seymour, said today:

"The act of the St. Louis convention was cowardly. The platform was a quibble adopted because the convention was dominated by the Bryan silver element, and the others were afraid to put the candidate before the people on a sound money basis for fear they would lose the silver votes. The Chronicle is done with these cowards and henceforth it will support the Republican party."

Asked about the political belief of the owner, John R. Walsh, Mr. Seymour said that he was "as good a Republican as anybody." The Chronicle bolted Bryan in 1896 and supported Palmer and Buckner. At the eleventh hour in 1900 it gave half-hearted support to the Democratic ticket, but finally could not stand for it.

It has given President Roosevelt and his administration some hard knocks. Mayor Harrison has never had its support.

FAIRBANKS CALLS ON THE PRESIDENT

Vice Presidential Candidate a Guest of Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

PLANNING FOR THE CAMPAIGN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 11.—Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, Republican candidate for vice president, is a guest at Sagamore Hill tonight. He came directly from Indianapolis and was accorded a cordial reception at the station as he alighted from the train. He responded to greetings by lifting his hat. Senator Fairbanks was driven directly to Sagamore Hill. As the open carriage passed through the village, Senator Fairbanks was recognized by many persons.

His reception at Sagamore Hill was characterized by noticeable cordiality. President and Mrs. Roosevelt, National Chairman George B. Cortelyou, who also is a guest of the president, gave Senator Fairbanks a hearty greeting. It was the first meeting of the president and Senator Fairbanks since they were nominated by the Chicago convention, and they exchanged personally the felicitations each had previously offered the other by telegraph and by mail.

The arrival of Senator Fairbanks was preceded by an important conference concerning the demands of the campaign and preparing speeches of acceptance. The parties to it were the president, Mr. Cortelyou and Cornelius N. Bliss of New York, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Chairman Cortelyou declined to be interviewed. He was here, he said, to confer with the president and Senator Fairbanks.

Mr. Bliss arrived from New York and was taken to Sagamore Hill in one of the president's carriages. It was expected that he would remain here until tomorrow, but he was obliged to return to New York this evening. Mr. Bliss declined to discuss the details of the afternoon's conference.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained Senator Fairbanks and Chairman Cortelyou at dinner tonight. After dinner the president, Senator Fairbanks, Chairman Cortelyou and Mr. Loeb conferred in the president's library. All information concerning the conference was withheld. It is known, however, that in a general way the conduct of the campaign, the president's speech of acceptance of his nomination, the part Senator Fairbanks is to take in the campaign and other matters of detail were considered.

Senator Fairbanks and Chairman Cortelyou will leave for New York at 11:15 a. m. tomorrow.

Earthquake Shocks Felt.

GUAYAQUIL, ECUADOR, July 11.—Two long, heavy earthquake shocks were felt here last night and also at several other towns in the republic.

One Day's Pay Only For Election Boards.

Under no circumstances will more than one day's pay be given to the members of the election boards for their services today, emphatically declared Controller Larkin last evening. This does not apply to judges of election, each of whom is entitled to one day extra for making the return count. Clerks of election boards and constables are also entitled to one day's pay. This action will produce earlier returns from some districts. There are election boards in this city which will not complete the count until after midnight in order to draw two days' pay. There will be no use in doing this today, for it is one day's pay and no more under any circumstances.

TWO PLAYERS DIE FROM LIGHTNING

Bolts Killed Jeffries at McKeesport and Barrett of Cumberland on Diamond.

COMPANIONS ARE SHOCKED

Two baseball players were killed on the diamond by lightning yesterday, Charles Jeffries of the Johnstown club at McKeesport and Joseph Barrett at Cumberland, Md. In each case two companions of the men killed were stunned by the shock.

Before 500 people gathered in Steel Works park, McKeesport, to witness the baseball game between the Johnstown and Steel Works team, Charles Jeffries, left fielder for the former club, was struck dead on the field by a bolt of lightning at 3:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Jeffries was practicing with his team in the field when the captain called his men to the benches.

Jeffries started toward the home plate and when he was about in the center of the diamond there was a blinding flash and terrific roll of thunder. When the spectators recovered from the shock Jeffries was lying face downward on the field. The bolt struck him fairly on the head.

Dr. R. J. Black hurried to Jeffries and pronounced him dead. The game was called off and the body was taken to the undertaking establishment of Philip Volk to be prepared for shipment to his home in Lancaster, Pa. Jeffries was 28 years old and a widower. He is survived by a son, aged 4, and his parents. Jeffries was one of the best ball players in the state and was about to leave the Johnstown club for the American league. Guy Johnson and Nelson Sanders were shocked by the bolt.

A message received from Lancaster says that Jeffries was one of the popular young men there. The news of his death cast a gloom over the town.

Joseph Barrett, aged 16, son of Samuel Barrett of South Cumberland was killed by lightning this afternoon while playing second base on the baseball grounds at the Baltimore & Ohio round house.

TOO MANY CIGARETTES CAUSE WOMAN'S DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—(Special.) Excessive indulgence in cigarettes caused the death of Catherine McGuire, who died yesterday in her room in the rear of 931 Noble street. This was brought out by the investigation made by the coroner and evidence introduced today at the inquest. The woman was employed in a restaurant. She seldom was without a cigarette between her lips. This habit caused heart disease.

MONEY ISSUE IS FORCED IN Republicans to Lay Stress on Inconsistency of Enemy's Position.

STIR UP DISSENSIONS

Thus It Is Hoped to Bring Colorado Into Roosevelt Column in November.

TILLMAN IS CHAMPING BIT

"Do you think the money question will be an important issue in the forthcoming campaign?" was asked Postmaster General Payne today.

"I am sure of it," he quickly responded. "The action of the Democrats at St. Louis has forced the issue."

Already the Republican leaders and spellbinders are preparing to thrash over the coinage problems which they were able to expound with such success in 1896 and 1900. Although Judge Parker has done his best to commit the party to the gold standard and there is apparently no difference between his intentions on this question, if elected, and those of President Roosevelt, the Republican plan of campaign will be to bear down hard on the gold standard.

A new edition of a pamphlet circulated in 1896 and 1900 is being printed. It will show all the bond issues of the government and the amounts of the reserve at various periods under varying conditions. In his speech of acceptance President Roosevelt will bear with great emphasis upon the success of the gold standard and the Republican party's unswerving advocacy of it.

Looking Toward Colorado.

Chairman Cortelyou and Secretary Dover of the national committee, which has quarters here temporarily, are gathering all possible straws to see which way the political wind blows. Some indications of discontent of western Democrats at Judge Parker's action are observed with satisfaction by party leaders and administration officials. They see a chance of enough internal dissatisfaction being stirred up within the Democratic party to give strong promise that Colorado will turn Republican.

Senator Tillman of South Carolina has arrived in Washington from St. Louis, suffering from a throat complaint which may compel him to remain silent during the campaign. The senator chafes under this restraint, for he is anxious to again don war harness and get into the strife on his own "anti-Roosevelt" platform. He said tonight:

"I remarked at St. Louis the other night when everything was so uncertain that either the devil had caught us and was rushing us toward the precipice or that providence had taken a kindly hold on our affairs. I am now greatly inclined to the latter view. It had been my intention to take no part in the canvass, for my throat is in bad condition.

Just Aching to Talk.

"But now, unless the doctor forbids, and the party wants me I will work as hard as I did in 1896 and 1900. Then I was a silver man and now I'll work for—well, I'll work to beat Roosevelt. 'Anti-Roosevelt' is my platform. I am for a return to constitutional government and law. I'm tired of imperialism at home as well as abroad."

"What do you think of the effect of Judge Parker's action upon party harmony?"

"I left the convention just before it adjourned. I talked to few of the delegates afterward, but what anger I did observe on the part of the men from the west I considered temporary resentment. I believe that it was far better for Judge Parker to speak when he did. His action effectually prevents the Republicans from injecting the money issue into this campaign. We had hoped in the committee on resolutions to settled the question of a money plank without any minority, but it was impossible. It was the most bitter debate in that committee that I ever experienced. Why, I was playing the role of pacificator, compromiser. I was the conservative. Now you can imagine how warm it was if I was to be found on the side of the moderate."

President Diaz Again Re-Elected.

MEXICO CITY, MEXICO, July 11.—The formal election for the president of the republic of Mexico took place today. The electors met, transacted their business and announced the election of Porfirio Diaz as president and Ramon Corral as vice president.

FAIRBANKS GOT QUICK SHAVE AND ESCAPED CURIOUS CROWD

Senator Pulled the Barber Chair Back from the Wall and the Bootblack Asked: "Who Is de Tall Guy?"

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Senator Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, was delayed in Long Island City for nearly an hour today. While waiting for the train for Oyster Bay, Senator Fairbanks thought to pass the time by getting a Long Island City shave. Accordingly he went into the establishment of Farley Meyer, followed by his secretary, Russell King.

"Who's next," shouted the senator.

"You are," roared back Meyer, the proprietor.

Dodging the chandelier, the senator grabbed the barber chair, and pulling it about four feet further from the wall, threw himself into it with the remark that full grown people must have room, also confiding to John Volmer, who was assigned to shave him, that he was in a hurry, but he "reckoned" the barber might "take time enough to whet up his blade pretty well."

"Who is de tall guy?" asked Tony, the shine boy, of Mr. King, pointing to the senator.

"That is Senator Fairbanks, the Republican candidate for vice president," answered Mr. King.

Despite the incessant battering of the hammers in a nearby shop this conversation had not been lost by a bystander, and it soon became noised about that Senator Fairbanks was being shaved in Meyer's shop, and a crowd gathered that suggested the escape of the senator by a side door.

KUROKI IN REAR OF KUROPATKIN

Said Now to Be Able to Force Engagement at Any Time.

OKU IS CLOSING IN

WARSHIPS CLOSE UPON ARMY

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

General Count Keller's Headquarters, Via Liao-Yang, July 11.—A serious fight is expected soon. The opposing forces are now occupying the hills on opposite sides of the valley of the Lyankhi river, where it crosses the Liao-Yang road. The Russians, both officers and men, are anxious to contest the Japanese advance.

Tokyo, July 11.—Gen. Kuroki is in the rear of the Russian position at Liao-Yang and is in position now to force a general engagement whenever he desires. This news has not been made public as yet, but your correspondent is assured from high sources that it is correct.

The Japanese, according to these reports, occupy Ku-Kia-Sze and Yen-Tai, on the roads between Liao-Yang and Mukden, and it is believed have cut the railroad between these two places.

The news from Port Arthur is of the most encouraging character. The Japanese are relentlessly closing in on the place and its capture is a matter of but a few days. The foreign attaches assigned to the Second Japanese army have been informed that they are to leave for the front on or about July 20, and the press correspondents are to go one day later.

There is a belief current here in well-informed circles that it is the purpose of the Japaneses to make the fall of Port Arthur, the taking of Yinkow and the general attack on Kuropatkin, which it is believed will result in the utter crushing of Russian power in Manchuria, almost simultaneously.

Will Finish Work in August.

When the final effort will be made, only the commanders in the field and the war council know, if they do. In best informed circles here, it is freely predicted that the whole object of the Japanese campaign will have been accomplished before the middle of August, and Russia will be so crippled that she will recognize the hopelessness of further resistence.

CHEEFOO, July 11.—There was heavy firing at Port Arthur from midnight until 8 o'clock this morning.

The Port Arthur Novi-Kral of July 7, a copy of which has just reached Chefoo, contains an account of the operations around Port Arthur from July 3 to July 5. It says:

> Heavy fighting has occurred between the first line of defenses and the Japanese. The results are not announced. Nevertheless, little at a time, the facts are becoming known. Our side sent scouts to ascertain the position and strength of the enemy, and whether they were protected by trenches. It was possible to find out the exact strength of the Japanese, but they do not number less than 30,000 men. The Chinese credit them with 60,000. Thirty thousand men are not sufficient for operations against a fortress like this unless they expect assistance.

Neither Gains Points.

> After three days' fighting the positions of the two armies were as follows: On the left flank we retained the position we originally occupied. The forcing of our right flank back, previous to this, was rectified, and now we have both Green and Semaphore hills in our hands. In front of these hills we were not opposed, but we are being heavily shelled from both sides. The enemy retired a considerable distance. Of course, all this was not won without losses, some of which will strike the hearts of our countrymen.
> We started to take the offensive the night of July 1, when we began a strong attack. Our soldiers, who had been forced back at Kin-Chou, were waiting for an opportunity to get at the Japanese. The result was most satisfactory. The infantry marched out as if engaged in maneuvers, while the artillery, taking up a position, opened a fierce fire with shrapnel on the enemy's line, resulting in their retirement.
>
> During the three days' battle the Novik and a fleet of gunboats left the harbor daily, covering the right flank of the army and stopping the fire of the enemy's artillery. On July 4 the Novik fortunately obtained the range of the enemy's batteries and did frightful damage to them. All the morning the gunboats, without receiving any return fire, shelled the enemy's troops marching toward our defenses. The Japanese fleet appeared in the afternoon and our gunboats returned to the inner harbor without sustaining any damage.

Warships Follow Army.

YIN-KOW, July 11.—Japanese vessels have been seen off Kai-Chou. It is believed that they are keeping in touch with the advance of the land forces and that if the Japanese take Ta-Tche-Kiao, which is understood to be their objective, it is thought that a landing will be made simultaneously at Yin-Kow.

The fighting at Kai-Chou consisted of a series of skirmishes on July 7 and July 8, ending with the occupation of the town by Gen. Oku's troops.

The Japanese began to push their advance north at dawn July 9 and since then they have proceeded steadily. They kept their artillery well to the front and shelled and occupied Pintzan, seven miles north of Kai-Chou, at noon, July 9. It is now reported that they are in close touch with Ta-Tche-Kiao.

Gen. Oku is said to be wearing a Chinese costume.

Japanese scouts are close to Yin-Kow. They can be seen on the neighboring hilltops, from which they occasionally fire upon the Russian outposts.

Detailed Reports for Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 11.—Col. Ordioff has arrived here from Liao-Yang with detailed dispatches from Gen. Kuropatkin to the emperor. Reports to the effect that he brought complaints from the commander-in-chief seem completely without foundation.

SUDDEN STORM WROUGHT HAVOC

Residences and Electric Cars Are Struck by Thunderbolts.

HAIL ADDS TO TERROR

Highland Park Almost Ruined and Suburban Gardens Devastated.

STREETS BECOME TORRENTS

Residences struck by lightning, street cars put out of commission by thunderbolts or the washing out of tracks, city parks almost reduced to chaos and suburban lawns and gardens ruined was the record made by one of the fiercest and most circumscribed summer storms that ever struck Allegheny county.

With a cloudburst, a torrent of rain and hail, accompanied by dazzling lightning and deafening thunder, fell upon the eastern section of the city shortly after 5 o'clock last evening. The torrents crippled the street car lines, electric light and telephone service, and created inestimable damage to private and public property.

As far as the city proper is concerned, the storm found its limits east of Craig street, and while the lower city and Allegheny were spared, the Millvale and Etna districts shared in the destruction.

Highland Park Bombarded.

Highland park suffered severely. Plants and foliage of all descriptions were either completely rooted out by the fast accumulating waters or were torn to shreds by the cutting hail which fell in two-carat chunks. The pathways were turned to running brooks, carrying in their wild course shrubbery and even young trees. Mounds and embankments were washed away like straws in a whirlpool and the damage created in the park will foot up thousands of dollars.

While the storm was at its height, the house of J. B. Stenger, Forbes and Murdock streets, Squirrel Hill, was struck by a bolt of lightning and the chimney torn asunder. Leaping down the chimney hole, the lightning escaped by tearing out huge chunks of plastering from the house, while the family, who were on the ground floor at supper, rushed out in terror. The damage is estimated at $300.

Two More Houses Struck.

The home of Thomas Nepple, next door, was also struck, a portion of the cornice being torn away, almost demolishing the roof. A house adjoining, a frame two-story dwelling, unoccupied, was also struck, tearing away a greater portion of the porch and damaging the front.

Within five minutes after the storm broke a raging torrent swept under the Lincoln avenue bridge, swelling the little creek which runs from Spring lake into a wild river. Tool boxes, stationary engines and other machinery, the property of the contractors who are erecting the Brilliant cut-off, were swept away at the pleasure of the current. For a time the rushing stream reached the banks of the Beechwood boulevard and damaged the roadway.

Storm Was Fierce in Homewood.

Residents in Homewood were severely affected. Lawns and yards were divested, in many instances, of all their foliage, while cellars were flooded with little exception.

Humor added to the scene of destruction. On Lemington, near Lincoln avenue, the upper portion of a fruit stand, still bearing the wares of some progressive Italian, floated down the swollen stream. Several boys leaped into the water to recover the fruits and candies, greatly endangering themselves. Walter Mellkin, aged five, of Broad street, near Highland avenue, fell in his frantic efforts to keep up with the stand and was only rescued after several spectators had leaped into the water and bore him out.

In Lawrenceville, east of Twenty-ninth street, the storm was also keenly felt. At Fifty-seventh and Butler streets a washout carried such an accumulation of rocks and mud upon the car tracks that traffic was suspended for an hour. Butler street extension to Heights run bridge was buried under refuse from the hills above, and the ravine under the bridge was inundated by backwater.

Panic Among Traction Passengers.

Lightning struck a Mt. Troy street car in Lowrie street, Allegheny, shortly after 6 o'clock. The flash burned out the controller, and while no one was injured, the panic-stricken passengers leaped out into the rain and sought shelter in an engine house.

Henry Saw of 105 West Fourth avenue, Homestead, was thrown across a room in his house by a flash of lightning. He had been sitting at an open window and was found on the opposite side of the room unconscious. He will be confined to his bed for two weeks.

Etna and Sharpsburg property was damaged to an extent estimated at $8,000. Main street, Sharpsburg, was flooded from Pine creek to Tenth street. Stock was damaged in the business section.

A sudden rise in the Allegheny river swept away boats moored at Ferry street. A gasoline yacht owned by J. E. Nevergold was sunk by being struck by a floating houseboat at Moorehead's mill.

Sharpsburg Streets Blockaded.

A large force of men were endeavoring to clean the streets of Sharpsburg at a late hour last night. Trees and fences were blown down during the hailstorm.

The house of J. J. Lutz of Lutz & Schramm, was struck by lightning and Julius Lutz, aged 17, was seriously affected.

In Etna, Butler street was flooded and street car traffic was suspended for an hour. A landslide on the Butler plank road near the Belvidere hotel threw a street car from the tracks and suspended traffic. No one was injured.

The house of W. J. Adams, 1005 Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg, was struck by lightning. The roof was damaged.

RUSSIANS SHOW LITTLE FIGHT

CAVALRY ALONE KEPT ACTIVE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

TA-TCHE-KIAO, Saturday, July 9, Via Liao-Yang, July 11.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, who has just arrived with the Russian rear guard after a running fight from Kai-Chou, half way to Ta-Tsche-Kiao, says:

We evacuated Kai-Chou today (Saturday) after a fight lasting throughout Friday. We made a short stand at Pintzan, seven miles north of Kai-Chou. The Japanese kept on our heels and there were constant exchange between the Russian and Japanese batteries. The Japanese advance stopped eight miles south of here. The fighting along the road was lively, but our losses were small.

There had been preliminary skirmishing and maneuvering for position around Kai-Chou since July 5. On that day two companies were caught in the hills to the eastward and surrounded by six Japanese battalions. They cut their way out, however, and returned to Kai-Chou, bringing many wounded.

On the morning of July 6 our scouts reported that a strong Japanese force was taking up a position in the hills to the southeast.

Cavalry Makes Dash.

On July 7, Eckart, with a small detachment of mounted volunteers, made a bold and rapid sweep through and around the Japanese lines, and returned with exact information as to the disposition of the enemy. Eckardt penetrated clear to Senuchen and found two divisions moving in three columns in three parallel valleys toward our left flank. The main Japanese force bivouacked at Vafangow early in the morning of July 8. The hills to the southward and eastward Kaichou were apparently deserted, but we were aware that the Japanese were ready to spring. We had destroyed the railway bridge south of the town and had a strong line of rifle pits along the bank of the river.

It was a brilliant morning. The Japanese began to advance from the defiles, where they were concealed, and taking cover behind the thick trees and in the gardens south of the river, kept their batteries on the hill tops carefully masked.

While the Japanese crept forward 100 yards, keeping up a fierce exchange with our riflemen, another column started to work around our left through a deep valley. The sound of a heavy rifle fire at the railway station told us that the column had struck our outposts. Then our battery behind the station opened fire and the advance in that direction was checked.

Japanese Driven Back.

We had a squadron of cavalry and a battalion of infantry across the river, and through the golden haze we could just see them maneuvering to meet the Japanese column which they engaged fiercely. The Japanese finally rolled back.

In the meantime the Japanese cavalry on the extreme west tried to creep around the shore of the gulf of Liao-Tung, but our batteries headed off the cavalrymen and drove them in confusion. By noon the advance was checked at all points, though growing numbers of Japanese were seen gathering in the hills and their batteries threw an occasional shot.

Both sides held their respective positions through the warm starlit night. Japanese reserves were hurrying up and concentrating for a morning attack, but we had held out as long as advisable in the face of the growing number of the enemy, and quietly prepared to evacuate.

The Japanese advance commenced at dawn, at first quietly and cautiously and then with a rush of 35 infantry companies hurled themselves across the river. They must have been surprised to find themselves unopposed and greeted only by the smoke of the warehouses which we had set on fire before retiring.

Our batteries had got away long before the arrival of the Japanese and were in a position north of the town from which they greeted the enemy with a hail of shrapnel as he started to follow our retreat.

The entire day was marked by a long series of artillery duels. The enemy's front covered the plan on both sides of the road and the defiles in the eastern hills. Wherever an advance movement appeared it was greeted by the bark of the quick firers and the drumming of the machine guns.

Quick on Retreat.

There was little rifle fire. The Russian main column was already proceeding north and a few Cossacks were hovering in the rear supporting the batteries.

At noon the Japanese artillery arrived and engaged the Cossack horse battery. The Russians made no attempt to seriously contest the ground, but retired to a fresh position, at the same time worrying the enemy.

The whole of our artillery, remaining in the rear and covering the infantry retreat at Pitzan, allowed the Japanese to come up and then shell them. Again the fight developed with some warmth, while the Japanese brought up fresh batteries with which they pounded the village.

Gen. Stakelburg hung on until late in the afternoon. We could hear his guns growling behind us as the column moved north. Quiet then ensued, and the march was then continued uninterrupted to Ta-Tche-Kiao.

There has just been captured here a Japanese who, from his attire, seemed to be a bank clerk. He speaks Russian fluently.

VICTORY FOR JUSTICE.

Russians Will Be No Longer Condemned by Administrative Order.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 11.—The system of condemning political prisoners by administrative order has been abolished by imperial degree and persons accused of political crimes henceforth will be tried by the courts, under the regular procedure. This reform is most far-reaching, ending forever the arbitrary condemnation to exile or even death of political suspects without the intervention of the courts.

It is considered to be one of the most sweeping reforms of this generation and it is understood that it was recommended by the council of the empire, with the acquiesence and approval of the minister of the interior, M. Plehwe.

JUDGE CONFERS WITH SHEEHAN

Meet in Road at Esopus and Drive to Latter's Summer Home Nearby.

NO TELEGRAM SENT TO HILL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 11.—From the lips of William F. Sheehan, Judge Parker early this evening learned of the reception his message on the gold money subject got in St. Louis. Mr. Sheehan talked with Judge Parker for an hour, going into the fullest details and lauding the work of Senator Tillman.

Sheehan very frankly told Judge Parker that not one of the 450 or more politicians at the convention would ever have recommended Judge Parker's action in sending the now famous dispatch. Sheehan said that the dispatch was received by him when he was already fagged out and further increased the trouble he then had on his hands.

With the exception of a statement bearing his signature in which he denies that Judge Parker at any time telegraphed a message of any kind to Senator Hill during the latter's stay in St. Louis, Mr. Sheehan would make no statement. This statement is as follows:

"I am authorized to say that no telegram was sent by Judge Parker to Senator Hill, on any subject, while the latter was at St. Louis."

Hill Invited to Esopus.

Judge Parker sent a letter to Senator Hill at Albany inviting the latter to come whenever it suited the senator's convenience. Judge Parker did not specify when he would like to see Mr. Hill.

Mr. Sheehan arrived at Esopus this afternoon. He was met at the station by Mrs. Sheehan, and was driven to his summer home near Rosemont. On the way Mr. Sheehan met Judge Parker, who was driving. The two gentlemen alighted and greeted each other. Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Sheehan then drove to the Sheehan house in one carriage and Judge Parker and Mr. Sheehan in the other.

Judge Parker returned home from Mr. Sheehan's residence at 7 o'clock, after which he dined.

This afternoon, in reply to his telegram of congratulation to former Senator Henry G. Davis, the nominee for vice president, Judge Parker received the following:

"Elkins, W. Va., July 11, 1904.

"Delayed in reaching home. Thanks for your telegram. Most cordial congratulations to you and the country on your nomination. I feel proud and highly honored to be associated with you on the ticket. HENRY G. DAVIS."

Cleveland Is Pleased.

Among the many telegrams of congratulation received today by Judge Parker was the following:

"Buzzards Bay, Mass., July 11.

"You must permit me to express my gratitude and admiration for the splendid manifestation of honor and courage you have given to your countrymen and to the Democracy in your St. Louis dispatch.

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

An explanatory statement of the long silence of Judge Parker was given by a close personal friend of the judge this afternoon. As a jurist, said the authority, Judge Parker had kept silent on political questions. He believed that it was not compatible with the dignity of a judge on the bench to discuss such questions. When he was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the presidency, Judge Parker thought that the people of the country knew his views. He had voted for Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900, and he had done so not because of, but in spite of, the silver plank.

Judge Parker had no intimation of the subject matter of the platform until after he had been notified by newspaper men of his nomination, said the authority. When he had gone for his horseback ride he realized that if he allowed the convention to adjourn without knowing his financial views, the people would regard as true Mr. Bryan's statement that Mr. Parker was tricking the convention and the party. It was then, said the informant, that Judge Parker decided to send a telegram to the convention.

Hill Denies Some Stories.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11.—(Special.)—"I received no telegram whatever from Judge Parker while at St. Louis during the Democratic national convention."

Thus spoke former Senator David B. Hill at Woolferts Roost tonight, denying the published statement that he received on Friday a telegram from Judge Parker insisting that the so-called Williams financial plank in the preliminary defeat of the platform be altered.

"The story is ridiculous," he added, "if any such telegram had been sent I would have received it. Fully 200 dispatches came to me during the progress of the convention, but not one was from Judge Parker."

Senator Hill, highly pleased with the outcome of the convention and fully confident of the success of the Democratic ticket, arrived in this city at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The senator was slowly recovering from the fatigue and excitement of the convention when he was seen by your correspondent this evening.

He smiled when he learned of the report that a break had occurred between Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan and himself over the reading of the Parker gold standard dispatch to the convention.

"That is pure nonsense," he replied, "we returned from the convention together. There never was a word of misunderstanding between us. These who attended the conference of the leaders during the recess of the convention knew what my position was."

A FRANTIC MOTHER.

New York Woman Goes Insane as Result of Blinding Flash of Lightning.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—Fearful that at any moment she and her children will be killed by lightning and driven into an agony of terror by the rumble of elevated trains past her window, Mrs. Mary Russell of 766 Columbus avenue, was in such a condition that today she was taken to Bellevue hospital and placed in the psychopathic ward.

During a heavy thunderstorm Tuesday Mrs. Russell, with two of her children, a daughter born only five weeks ago, and a son 16 months old, were sitting at a window enjoying the cool air brought by the rain. Suddenly there was a blinding lightning flash. Mrs. Russell, her children in her arms, rushed down two flights of stairs, and would have gone out into the downpour of rain had not her neighbors stopped her.

Since then Mrs. Russell has been in ceaseless terror. According to her husband she has tried to jump from a window, but was prevented. He called in a physician, who advised that she be removed to the hospital.

LIGHTNING STRUCK HOME OF JOHN W. GRIGGS

PATERSON, N. J., July 11.—(Special.)—Lightning struck the house of John W. Griggs, former United States attorney general, in a severe thunder storm this evening, making a rent in the western wing of the building and setting the wall paper on fire. The damage, however, was slight. The trolley cars in this vicinity were put out of commission for several hours by the storm.

Mayor Jones Dying.

TOLEDO, O., July 12.—(Midnight.)—Mayor Jones is still alive, but it is announced that he can live but a few hours. His temperature is 104, pulse 164, respiration 50. Since 9 o'clock all efforts to arouse the mayor have been futile. Dr. Grosh announced to the members of the family at that hour that he could do nothing further and left them with the patient. His pulse then was irregular and barely perceptible at times.

seem too low to make the stories sound plausible. From $50 to $125 is the figure mentioned.

Both candidates have been making demonstrations of their strength tonight. The Dawson men held a big meeting at which the delegates were addressed by Gov. White. He told them to stand "pat" and be ready to stay here all summer. Teter has bands out on the streets and men are carrying banners bearing the inscription "Everybody Is For Teter."

"You can say that I will be nominated by this convention," was the statement made by Dawson tonight. "I am not in doubt about the result. I have elected a very large majority of the delegates and they will vote their instruction."

"There will be 795 delegates in the convention and it requires 398 to nominate," said Mr. Teter. "I will have 475 votes in the convention. The state committee has named my candidates for temporary chairman and temporary secretary of the convention. They are Senator Elkins of Elkins, and John Lininger of Harrisville. The latter was opposed by Douglass Hughes, suggested by the Dawson forces. The vote in the committee was 8 to 5 in favor of Lininger. Dawson is sitting on the state committee and voting on the contests. I filed a protest hoping to appeal to his conscience asking him to retire when questions affecting his candidacy were being considered. He has declined to do so.

Election Will be Safe.

"The Democrats have no ground for expecting the Republicans to do anything in the convention which will disrupt the party. There will be no lack of harmony in the fall, no matter who is the candidate. The nomination of Senator Davis for vice president will make the fight a little more strenuous, but we will win."

Mr. Dawson denies that he is showing bad faith by remaining on the state committee. He says that he would like to retire if the question of his successor could be settled. He claims that the Teter men want to put one of their number in his place and he has to remain on the committee to protect his interests.

The issue in the gubernatorial contest is the question of taxation. Dawson stands committed to legislation to place a tax on the oil, coal and gas interests. He argues that the corporations are taking the natural resources out of the state, and should pay something for the privilege. Teter is credited with having the backing of all the corporations, while Dawson draws his strength from the farmer. Dawson has long been in politics and is a past master of the art of marshaling men. For years he was chairman of the state committee and is now secretary of state. Teter is a lawyer.

The Teter managers claim to control the state committee that is making up the temporary roll of the convention. They say that they will have nine of the 15 members of the committee on credentials. Dawson's leaders dispute this claim. During the day the committee passed on the contests from Wood, Cabbel and Wetzel counties. The 32 delegates elected for Teter were seated in the Wood county case. Dawson had been counting them, but according to the private figures he mentioned tonight he can spare them. The 24 votes from Cabbel county were given to Dawson. In the Magnolia district of Wetzel, Dawson won the four delegates, and Teter secured the two from the Center district of the same county.

Strengthened Teter's Strength.

Emmet Showalter, one of the Teter managers, says that the nomination of Davis has resulted in strengthening the candidacy of Teter. He says that the business interests of the state want him. "Many of the men who helped to redeem the state from the Democrats and hold it in the Republican column," said he, "would not support Dawson in the fall because of his antagonism of the business interests on the tax question."

Dawson says that Teter has no right to claim Senator Elkins as his temporary chairman. He announces that he asked Elkins several months ago to preside over the convention. He also denies the story which is passing on the contests, but Col. Dawson, having secured a pair, was able to absent himself for a short time.

He addressed his supporters in a few forceful words. Calmly and dispassionately he announced that he would be the nominee and that he would be elected; that he would be a governor without partisanship; that he would be as the father of a family; a righteous governor for the rich man as well as for the poor man; who would as zealously guard the rights of capital as those of labor. His talk was characteristic of the man—sober, serious, thoughtful and very much to the point. At its conclusion the packed hall rose to its feet and cheered itself hoarse.

Senator Elkins was expected in at 10 o'clock tonight, but at midnight it was learned that the engine of his special had been derailed at Grafton and that he would not be in until morning. He is traveling in the private car "Graceland" of his father-in-law, Henry G. Davis, the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

that Elkins will be fought if there is an attempt to make him the permanent chairman.

Senator Scott will not attend the convention. His private secretary, John Steels, says that the senator had an important business engagement in Colorado which compelled him to go there at this time. There is general disappointment over his failure to appear, and many delegates think he should not have allowed business to interfere.

The convention will meet at noon tomorrow in the Wheeling Park casino. Five thousand people are expected to attend. The program is to do nothing tomorrow but the perfecting of the temporary organization and the naming of the committees. By Wednesday morning the committees are expected to report and nominations may be made that afternoon. Some of the delegates think that they will not get away from here before Friday.

In addition to the gubernatorial nominations, candidates are to be selected for secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general, auditor, superintendent of schools, two supreme court judges and presidential electors.

Candidates Are Numerous.

The following men are candidates and it is claimed that neither Teter nor Dawson has made a slate:

Secretary of state—Charles W. Swisher, Fairmont; L. W. Wade, Braxton county; M. F. Kendall, Parkersburg.

State treasurer—George C. Cole, Weston; T. T. McDougal, Wayne; Newton Ogdin, St. Marys.

Attorney general—H. Campbell Richards, Wheeling; Clark W. May, Hamlin. The latter is president of the state senate.

Auditor—Arnold Scherr, Keyser; John S. Darst, Huntington.

Superintendent of schools—Charles W. Briller, Wheeling; Prof. A. L. Anderson, Ohio; J. Russell Trotter, Buckhannan; Supt. Miller, Fairmont; L. W. Corby, Spencer.

Supreme court judges—T. A. Brown, Elizabeth; Judge Warren Miller, Jackson county; F. W. Nesbit, Wheeling; Judge T. P. Jacobs, New Martinsville; Frank Cox, Morgantown. Judges Dent and Miller retire from the bench and Dent is not seeking a re-election.

Many of the delegates are wearing an unique "stand pat" button. It shows a hand holding four aces and a picture of Roosevelt.

It was supposed that the delegates were all here, judging from the size of the crowd, but the announcement was made this evening that some time tonight two train loads would arrive from the Grafton section of the state.

After a fight lasting four hours tonight, Dawson won the Kanawha county contest. The Teter men had tried to seat their 48 delegates. By a vote of 9 to 4 the state committee decided that Dawson's delegates were entitled to have their names on the temporary roll.

BURR M'INTOSH, FIREMAN.

Former Pittsburgher's Strong Voice Equal to Fire Alarm System.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—Deep roars of "Fire, Fire," in tones worthy of a Viking in a storm, rumbled through the Waldorf side of the Waldorf-Astoria tonight and drew hundreds of patrons to their windows. They found Thirty-third street filled with smoke, which was being blown against the side of the hotel and gave it the appearance from Broadway of being on fire.

In the street a big man with a blonde mustache was holding his Panama in his hand and waking the echoes of Astor court. It was Burr McIntosh, actor and photographer.

Writing letters in his office, at No. 34 West Thirty-third street, he heard the crash of glass in an adjoining building. Running to the street he saw smoke in No. 24 West Thirty-third street, the second and third stories of which are occupied by M. Bloch, maker of children's clothing. Mr. McIntosh's alarm brought a policeman and fireman, and the blaze was extinguished after causing $2,000 damage.

Bryan Leaves for Home.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—William J. Bryan left St. Louis tonight for his home in Lincoln, Neb. He said that he felt better after two days of comparative rest, and that he expected to be fully recovered within a short time. Mr. Bryan came to the convention suffering from a cold, which was augmented by the exhausting ordeal through which he was compelled to go.

Bought the Mansfield Club.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., July 11.—The announcement is made today that E. Hoskins of this city and D. D. Lewis of Marshall have bought the franchise of the Mansfield (O.) base club, and will transfer the club to this city. Ted Pace of Mansfield, the present manager, will retain his position. The club is in the Interstate league.

PNEUMONIA ON LIST.

Philadelphia Board of Heath Declares Disease Contagious and Doctors Must Report.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 11.—(Special.)—Quite an innovation in the matter of enlarging the list of transmissible or contagious diseases has been decided upon by the board of health, and in the future all practicing physicians will be required to report them to the bureau as soon as they are brought to their attention.

In the past it has been incumbent upon the medical fraternity to report all cases of smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid and scarlet fevers, but under the new regulations the list is greatly increased. Pneumonia has now been placed on the list.

ZANGWILL'S NEW COMEDY FOR MISS MAUDE ADAMS

LONDON, July 11.—(Special.)—Miss Maude Adams is to have a new comedy, which Israel Zangwill will write. Charles Frohman has arranged for the play to be ready in three months' time, and Mr. Zangwill leaves London at once to give his time exclusively toward completing the work. The comedy is one of rural England, in four acts. Mr. Frohman has also renewed his contract for the English rights of M. Rostands "L'Aiglon," so that when Miss Adams appears in the new Zangwill comedy here she will have "L'Aiglon" as a second play.

Druggist Bitten by Tarantula.

J. K. Lewis, aged 28, a druggist of Bavaria, Pa., was bitten on the index finger of his right hand by a tarantula shortly after last midnight. He purchased some bananas in Smithfield street and on reaching into the bag was bitten. His finger began to swell rapidly and he went to the Homeopathic hospital, where it was dressed. The physician said the wound was not dangerous. Lewis went home after having the finger dressed.

SUICIDE FOUND BEFORE MIRROR

Hand Was Still Upon the Trigger 24 Hours After His Death.

KILLED HIMSELF IN A HOTEL

With his finger still upon the trigger of his revolver, J. M. Miller of Cleveland was found dead sitting before a mirror in his room in the Seventh avenue hotel last night. He had shot himself and had probably been dead 24 hours or more. A bullet had entered his right temple, and death had been instantaneous.

The man registered at 2 p. m. Sunday, and asked for a choice room, to which he went immediately. About 10 o'clock last night a chambermaid reported that she had been unable to enter the room. The door was forced and the suicide discovered. The man had not used the bed.

The dead man is supposed to be connected with the Superior Foundry Company of Cleveland, stationery among his effects indicating this.

C. M. Miller appears on the stationery as treasurer and general manager of the concern.

The man was dressed in fine clothes, his appearance indicating that he belonged to a good class. He was about 42 years old and rather stout. He had about $26 in his pockets and wore a gold watch. Nothing among his effects pointed to any explanation of the suicide.

A message was sent by the coroner to C. M. Miller of Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 11.—Joseph N. Miller, who committed suicide in Pittsburgh last night was, until Sunday, a resident of Louisville, Ky. He went to Pittsburgh from that city Sunday to accept a position. He is in no way connected with the Superior Foundry Company of Cleveland. His brother, C. M. Miller, is manager of that corporation here, and when seen tonight at his home said that his brother was evidently prompted to commit suicide through despondency over the death of his wife, which occurred two years ago. Mr. Miller returned tonight from a trip up the lakes and found a telegram awaiting him announcing his brother's act.

The body of an unknown man was found drowned in the Monongahela river at Demmler yesterday afternoon. He was bathing on Sunday and got beyond his depth, and before aid could reach him he sank.

The coroner was notified last night of the death of a man in a mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at Verona, who was crushed by a fall of slate.

W. J. Shirey, a coal miner, aged 39, was found dead of alcoholism yesterday in the woods in Plum township, near Unity. According to the testimony the man had been drinking alcohol diluted with water.

WEALTHY MAN'S SON SHIPPED AS STOWAWAY

Youth Was Pressed Into Service During a Sixty-Eight Day Voyage.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—From a home of luxury John Guild, 11 years old, son of a wealthy shipbuilder of Hilo, Hawaii, shipped as a stowaway more than two months ago and arrived here today, tanned and hardened, aboard the merchantman California. Captain Barrow, who knows the boy's father well, did not find the lad aboard until he was two days out to sea. He decided not to spoil him with indulgence and immediately pressed him into the service of the vessel.

The boy says he had a great desire to see the world, but his father would not permit him to leave home, so he concluded to embark himself. By watching the steamers he found the California touched at his port on her way from Honolulu, from which she sailed on May 1. He stole aboard and concealed himself in the coal bunkers. Two days later, half starved, he emerged on deck. It was too late to put back, so the boy started on his 5,000-mile journey around the Horn, a trip of 68 days. He will be taken back on the California's return trip.

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY.

—Samuel L. Hardy, aged 7, of 1322 Carson street, was struck by a street car and received a severe scalp wound yesterday afternoon.

—Twenty-two cases of typhoid fever, three of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria were reported in Pittsburgh yesterday. This report virtually covers the cases developing Saturday, Sunday and yesterday.

—Joseph Smith, aged 9, of 1241 Liberty avenue, had his right hand badly torn by the explosion of a railroad torpedo with which he was playing last evening.

—Samuel A. Fredericks, aged 10, of 844 Talbot avenue, Braddock, accidentally shot himself through the hand with a revolver yesterday.

—Frank Santoud, an Italian of 817 Sawmill alley, Allegheny, had his head cut and two ribs fractured by a breaking boom on a new building in Spring Garden avenue yesterday.

—William E. Black of 508 Dawson street and Joseph Cregan of 514 Pawnee street were run down last night by a runabout containing an unidentified young couple at Federal and Lacock streets, Allegheny. They were both badly bruised and may be seriously injured internally.

—Joseph Gillissie of 2226 Penn avenue was arrested yesterday. He is the agent for an insect exterminator. It is alleged that after giving a demonstration of his powder at the house of Mrs. Iantha Verner, 68 South Fourteenth street, he left, and a gold watch almost simultaneously was missed.

—Harry Davis, now of Clairton, was arrested yesterday charged with deserting his three small children at South Thirtieth and Mary streets some weeks ago. His wife is wanted on the same charge.

FREE SILVER ISSUE IS DROPPED BY DEMOCRATS

George W. Guthrie Declares the Party Is Now Irrevocably Committed to the Gold Standard. Very Little Enthusiasm Left.

"The Democratic party is more strongly committed to the gold standard than it would have been had the platform contained a gold standard plank," said George W. Guthrie yesterday. Mr. Guthrie, who was a delegate to the St. Louis convention arrived home yesterday.

Mr. Guthrie said the circumstances under which Judge Parker's message was read, the speeches that were made for accepting him as the candidate; the fact that the arguments of Bryan had no effect, and the overwhelming majority with which the convention agreed to send a telegram to Parker, means more than if the committee on platform had quietly reported a gold plank and the convention had adopted it.

"The main issues of the campaign will be Rooseveltism and the tariff," said Mr. Guthrie, "and in connection with the tariff, the trusts."

Col. James M. Guffey returned home last evening. He was seen at his house and said that he had nothing to add to the interview given by him in St. Louis.

The rank and file of the Democracy which did not bolt the ticket in 1896 think that Bryan showed himself to be the biggest man in the convention. They believe that if he does not bolt the ticket, even though he may take no active part in the campaign, he will be stronger with the party in 1908 than he was four years ago. Bryan said he would accept "any vice presidential candidate New York wants," and his friends here think that was a deep move, because if New York should not be carried by the Democratic candidates its delegation will have but little influence in the next Democratic national convention.

COLUMBUS, O., July 11.—(Special.)—J. M. Guffey spent three hours in Columbus this morning on his way to Pittsburgh. Col. Guffey said of the work of the St. Louis convention:

"The conventon has done its work and done it well. The candidates selected and the platform upon which they stand ought to meet the approval of all Democrats and good citizens everywhere.

"Judge Parker's telegram and the convention's reply made up an incident that will appeal to the hearts of the American people. Judge Parker acted in a straightforward, manly and courageous way and his statement and the approval of his position, after full discussion and explanation upon the floor of the convention, should satisfy the people that the business interests of this country will be safe under Democratic rule. Judge Parker and Senator Davis are well known to the people. Their lives have been spent in full view and their character and conduct are above reproach. With these ideal candidates the Democracy presents a platform from which all dead issues have been eradicated; a plain, open statement.

"I know nothing of the reported plan of the national committee to elect Taggart of Indiana chairman. Furthermore, I do not believe that the committee would think of doing anything to displease or humiliate Mr. Parker. The meeting of the committee for reorganization has not yet even been called and it is a trifle early to talk of the election of Chairman Jones' successor."

POPULISTS CONFERRING WITH BRYAN DEMOCRATS

Surprise Is Promised When the Extent of New Movement Is Announced.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—After three conferences held by members of the executive committee of the People's party with prominent Bryan Democrats who are dissatisfied, not so much with the platform as with the presidential nomination made by the Democratic national convention, it has been decided to call a national conference of Bryan Democratic leaders within the next 30 days to decide on some line of action during the coming campaign.

This statement is made on the authority of George F. Washburn of Boston, national treasurer of the Peoples party, who, with several members of the national executive committee of that party, has been in St. Louis attending the Democratic national convention. Mr. Washburn, when asked to divulge the names of some of his associates in the conference, declined. The extent of the movement and the names of those engaged in it, he said, would be made public when the call for the national conference was issued and their prominence, he added, would be a surprise.

A number of those present in the conference, Mr. Washburn states, were Missourians, while others were from Mr. Parker's own state. Commenting on Judge Parker's nomination, Mr. Washburn said:

"Next to Cleveland, the Populists desired the nomination of Parker. His nomination emphasizes the parting of the ways of the allied forces, and will help immensely to restore the Populist party to its former strength and effectiveness.

EXPECTS TO BEAT THE OREGON'S RECORD

New Freight Steamer Minnesota Will Make Fast Trip Around the Horn.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Much interest is felt by shipping men in the forthcoming voyage of the big Great Northern freighter Minnesota to the Pacific coast, in which it is generally believed she will attempt to break the record made by the battleship Oregon.

The Minnesota is one of two of the largest merchant steamers ever built in America and is intended for the James J. Hill orient trade. She is still at New London, where, with her sister boat, the Dakota, she was built. The Minnesota is applying the finishing touches for her long voyage of 14,000 miles, and she will leave the latter part of this month.

Newport News, Va., where she is to fill up with bunker coal, will be the Minnesota's last North Atlantic calling port. The immense size of the ship and the belief that she is faster than the builders are willing to admit, are responsible for the opinion among steamship men that all records will be broken.

When the Oregon made her historic trip from the Pacific to the Atlantic, it was thought that even if she succeeded in dodging the Spanish warships the voyage would take about 75 days. As it was, she made the journey from San Francisco to Key West in 68 days, but made calls at Valparaiso, Rio Janeiro, Bahia, Para and Barbadoes for coal. Adding about two days for the run from Key West to Newport News, the time which the Minnesota has to beat is 70 days.

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company's steamer Nebraskan, using oil for fuel, made a 12,000 mile trip from San Francisco to the metropolis last February in 52 days, 7 hours and 26 minutes. This was the record trip between the ports for a craft burning liquid fuel.

The Minnesota is expected to not only take a big slice off the Oregon's actual running time, but to outstrip the Nebraskan's record as well.

Declares Law Unconstitutional.

TITUSVILLE, PA., July 11.—Judge Frank J. Thomas of the Crawford county courts today handed down a decision at Meadville, declaring unconstitutional the act of assembly under which liquor dealers have been found guilty of violating the pure food laws.

The case was that of the Pure Food department vs. Fred J. Keoburt and Nicholas Keoburt, liquor dealers of Meadville, who were found guilty of selling blackberry wine adulterated with salicylic acid and colored with analine dyes. As the title of the act contains no reference to alcoholic liquors, Judge Thomas holds that the act itself has not been violated by selling adulterated liquors. He further declared that liquors are not foods.

Unknown Woman Found Murdered.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The dead body of an unknown woman about 28 years old was found in the entrance to a tenement house in East Twenty-ninth street, early this morning. The jugular vein had been severed. From marks on the neck, the woman had evidently been choked before her throat was cut. A light gauze bandage, soaked with blood, covered the wound, which was still bleeding when the body was discovered.

Youngstown Firms Consolidate.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 11.—(Special.)—A consolidation of the Youngstown Foundry and Machine Company and the Youngstown Steel Castings Company has been effected under the name of the former. The following are the officers elected: President, Thomas Parrock, vice president, T. B. Van Alstine; general manager, W. J. Wallis; secretary and treasurer, Frank A. Williams. The company will operate both plants.

Alice Roosevelt Will Go Home.

BOSTON, July 11.—(Special.)—Miss Alice Roosevelt left the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lee, on Chestnut hill, this morning for Magnolia, where she will pass several days with her aunt, Mrs. Fessenden. After a short stay there she will return directly to her home, it was stated at Chestnut hill this morning, and not visit Bar Harbor.

Has Alleged Hold-Up Man Arrested.

Walter Turner, a negro of Crafton, was locked in Central station at 2 o'clock this morning on complaint of Frank Lunardy of 524 Fifth avenue. The latter alleges Turner held him up at First avenue and Grant street and threatened his life unless he handed over his valuables. Lunardy gave up his watch and then followed Turner till he met an officer. Lunardy was also held.

CANDIDATE DAVIS TAKES A HORSEBACK RIDE

Will Go to Bedford Springs, Pa., for Two Weeks in August.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ELKINS, W. VA., July 11.—More than 300 congratulatory telegrams were received today by ex-Senator Davis following his nomination for vice president on the Democratic ticket. Among these messages was one from Judge Parker. The expression of weariness which the convention left on Mr. Davis' features had disappeared this morning when he arose at 7 o'clock after a sound night's rest and took a horseback ride over the country roads back of his home. This is a favorite diversion of his.

"I feel 20 years younger," he exclaimed when he came back from his ride, flushed from the vigorous exercise. "I'd rather ride a hore than go to the opera any time. Yes, I'd rather ride than go fishing even," he added with a laugh.

Today has seen a steady stream of townsmen going to and from "Graceland." All were cordially received by Mr. Davis himself or his private secretary, Mr. Robb. The vice presidential candidate refuses to talk on the money question until Judge Parker has made a statement. He has made no campaign plans, but has arranged to meet ex-Senator Hill in two weeks for that purpose. He will go to Bedford Springs, Pa., for two weeks in August.

Cleveland Recovers from Illness.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—Dr. Joseph D. Bryant returned from Sandwich, N. H. tonight and denied a report that former President Grover Cleveland had been seriously ill. Dr. Bryant spent several days with Mr. Cleveland. He said tonight: "Mr. Cleveland was suffering only from a slight indisposition. He was not dangerously ill at any time. He is perfectly well now. That is why I am back in New York."

SMUGGLERS' NEW SCHEME LEARNED BY INSPECTORS

Trunks Carried on Which Are Pasted Labels Showing They Have Been Examined.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Behind the arrest of the Marconi operator and a hospital steward of the Kaiser Wilhelm II., charged with smuggling Sumatra tobacco, the customs officials have unearthed a new and ingenious method of smuggling diamonds, silks, tobacco and other merchandise which should pay a high duty.

Its beneficiaries, and possibly its promoters, are believed to be merchants of this city, some of them men wealthy and prominent.

Smuggling in trunks, carried as passengers' baggage, upon which labels indicating that they had been properly examined and passed by the inspectors were surreptitiously pasted, is the method.

Four arrests in all have been made so far and a large force of special treasury agents was at work nearly all night in seeking other persons accused of participation in the frauds.

Those under arrest are George Kroncke, the operator; Robert Fritch, steward; John Koster and John Heitman.

ALEXANDER DODDS.

Furnace Production About Same.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 11.—(Special.)—Through the absence of J. G. Butler, chairman of the Bessemer Pig Iron association, the monthly report has not been given out. It is understood that on July 1 there had been no change in the active capacity. The only change is in the workings of the United States Steel Corporation furnaces. Last month there was 80 per cent of the capacity active and the amount this month will not fall short of that.

McKeesport Has a Bond Issue.

At the meeting of select council of McKeesport last evening an ordinance was passed authorizing a special election on the question of a $125,000 bond issue for a municipal electric light plant.

HAMILTON'S

Remember, we have moved from Fifth Avenue to Hamilton Hall, 531 and 533 Wood Street, Pittsburgh.

Only a Few of Those Upright Pianos Left at $100. But Here's Good News For Belated Customers

The 22 upright pianos which we advertised at $100 each to close them out quickly proved a magnetic attraction to music lovers hereabout. Only a few of those instruments remain unsold. They will probably all be disposed of quickly.

However, we don't wish any of our friends to be disappointed. And as this sale has awakened an unusual demand for medium priced pianos of good quality, we have decided to include some brand new instruments at prices ranging from $145 to $200.

They are remarkable values, never intended to sell at these prices, and we hope that persons interested will make their selections without delay, as we shall not continue these prices indefinitely.

You will understand that the $100 pianos have been used somewhat. But those which we offer at $145 to $200 are all new and are really superior to those that we ordinarily purchase for renting purposes. Moreover, the renting season is past and will not be resumed until September. Therefore, we prefer to include these new pianos in this clearance sale and purchase others to take their place later.

There are over 100 from which you can make your selection, and you will find here now, as always, any piano that Hamilton's sell is a meritorious instrument, no matter how very low the price.

We cannot urge you too strongly to attend this sale, but if you can't come, write or telephone for further particulars.

ADMINISTRATION BILLS BLOCKED

Opposition Prevents Passage of Meter Payroll Ordinance and Other Measures.

FAST SPEED FOR TROLLEY CARS

Anti-administration members of common council had enough votes yesterday afternoon to prevent a suspension of the rules and thereby blocked the passage of a number of measures reported from the finance committee, including the ordinance authorizing an annual payroll of about $30,000 to pay employes to instal water meters throughout the city. The opposition permitted the rules to be suspended and the ordinance authorizing the purchase of 5,000 meters to be put on second reading to enable them to debate the bill.

William Brand said that 5,000 meters would not be enough to supply the entire city and that no consumer could be assessed meter rates unless all consumers were taxed alike. He asked that the ordinance be laid over to learn from the director of public works the number of meters required for the whole city. The administration members had a majority and passed the measure finally.

The administration members made a funny mistake. The Bigelow resolution providing for the transfer of $3,000 from the Point bridge fund to pay the expenses of running a ferry at the Point until the completion of the repairs to the Point bridge was defeated by the votes of the administration men. D. J. Bole made the motion to pass the bill, and then voted against it with others of his faction. They realized their error some time afterwards and then had reconsidered their action and adopted the resolution.

None of the business messaged from select council was acted upon, but the following measures, passed first by common council, were concurred in by select: Ordinances repealing the opening and widening of Webster avenue from Fulton to Mercer street; authorizing a contract to establish a ferry from Pennsylvania avenue to the West End, for grading, paving and curbing Curtin, Brushton, Glencaladh, Climax, Lydia, Howorth, Callowhill, Avalon, Dupp, Perry, Dunbar and Davidson streets and Emery alley, and for sewers on Shiloh, Marcella, Republic, Ellsworth and Benton streets, and in the rear of Boggs avenue.

An ordinance, which is said to conflict with the state law, regulating the speed of street railway cars, was introduced in select council by Max Friedman. Several weeks ago he announced his intention of introducing an ordinance limiting the speed of traction cars to eight miles an hour. Instead his ordinance permits them to run at a speed of 10, 12 and 16 miles an hour outside of the downtown district. The state law limits the speed of all railroad street cars to eight miles an hour within city limits.

The ordinance limits the speed in the downtown district to eight miles an hour; between Grant street and Boquet street, by way of Fifth avenue and Forbes street, and between Grant street and Center avenue, by way of Wylie avenue, to 12 miles an hour; east of those points to 16 miles an hour; on Second avenue, from Grant to South Tenth street, to 10 miles an hour; east of South Tenth street to 16 miles, on the Smithfield street bridge, on Carson street to South Seventeenth street, to 16 miles; on the hilltop line to 10 miles, and the same on Water street and Duquesne way, and on West Carson, South Main street and Wabash avenue, 10 miles.

Friedman introduced another ordinance requiring street cars to carry hoisting jacks. The complaint is made that the cars are not equipped with jacks, and that whenever a person is run over a car cannot be lifted from the victims' body.

Select council postponed action on Roenigk's artesian well ordinance until September. It also postponed action on a resolution directing the city solicitor to discontinue collection on tax liens due prior to 1897. The committe on entertainment of Filipinos reported an expense account of $4,879.36, which was approved. Peter Hermes presented an ordinance for the vacation of Gas alley, between First and Second avenues.

MAY MAKE TEST OF VALUE.

Etna Borough and County Assessment of Isabella Furnaces Conflict.

The citizens of Etna are indignant at the reduction made by the county commissioners of the valuation of $722,150 placed on the Isabella furnace property of the United States Steel Corporation to $556,650. The borough assessor had placed the first rating and council's were surprised to get a check for taxes on the county rating. The tax collector was instructed to return the check and notify the corporation that unless it paid taxes on the full valuation a levy would be made when the proper time came.

The citizens say that while small properties are being assessed at their full value and the figures raised to the limit, the corporation's figures are not in proportion, and the reduction made by the county commissioners is illegal since it was made after the time had passed for taking appeals and without notice to the borough. The commissioners defend their action by stating that the property was inflated beyond its true value simply because it was the steel corporation. They also say assessors have no idea of the true value of machinery and lands belonging to such corporations.

Porter; Station 22, transferred to South Twenty-seventh and Sarah streets; Station 2, transferred to 2460 Ward street.

Two Fined for Fast Driving.

Edward O'Neill and Frank Hutchison, both of Sewickley, were arrested and fined $5 each before Justice John Johnson of Sewickley on the charge of fast driving. A stop watch was held on the men Saturday while they were speeding and it was charged they exceeded the speed limit.

MAYOR COULD NOT SEE COMMITTEE

Sabbath Observance Association Called, but He Was Too Busy to Meet Them.

MINISTERIAL MEETINGS OPEN

Two religious committees called upon Mayor Hays yesterday. One was successful in seeing the chief executive, while the second was informed that the mayor was busy.

The executive committee of the Sabbath Observance association, of which the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory is chairman, called at city hall to get the aid of the mayor in restricting business on Sunday. Dr. McCrory said yesterday that the committee did not wish to enforce the law by compelling each offender to pay a fine of $25 and thought the mayor could bring about the desired results without great financial loss to the offenders. However, the mayor was not seen and the committee will make another effort to see him early next week.

The committee met in the Central Young Men's Christian association parlors yesterday afternoon and heard reports from their prosecuting agent, P. T. Gamble and their attorney, W. T. Tredwell. Detectives under Mr. Gamble have been securing evidence against the employes of Kennywood and Southern parks and have entered 25 suits. Others will be made this week. Unless the mayor can be induced to enforce the law against tradesmen who do business on Sunday the committee has determined to have every offender arrested and prosecuted.

Want No Noise.

A committee from the Sixth United Presbyterian church, North Highland avenue, called upon Mayor Hays yesterday morning and asked that the gang of trackmen repairing the street car lines along Highland avenue be restrained from working on Sunday and during evening services in the church. The congregation was annoyed last Sunday and the workmen were compelled to desist only after Director Bigelow had been appealed to. The mayor assured the committee that their requests would be carried out.

At an adjourned meeting of the Monongahela presbytery of the United Presbyterian church, held yesterday afternoon in the Third church, Diamond street, trial sermons were heard from Clarence J. Williamson, Sunday school superintendent of the Sixth United Presbyterian church; J. G. Rainey of West Pittsburgh and J. B. Fortunato of Pittsburgh. Mr. Williamson was granted a license to preach. Mr. Rainey was sustained and will be ordained in West Pittsburgh on the evening of July 17. Mr. Fortunato, an Italian, who is to carry on the work among his compatriots, will be ordained in the Third church, Diamond street, on Sunday evening, July 31. Presbytery adjourned to meet at the ordination of Mr. Rainey in West Pittsburgh on July 17.

This Is

and there isn't a woman in the two cities, nor within a hundred miles of them, that doesn't know the significance of the occasion as conducted in this store. We gave the gist of the Remnant News yesterday afternoon, and this morning we want women to read about how we are going to sell ready-to-wear garments today.

Such Little Prices Were Never Named for Women's Clothes.

Look through the following list, select what is needed, and in your own interest be as early today in the second floor department as you can.

Women's Suits of All Materials

Mention of cloth suits of lightest woolens, of cotton washable suits, cotton and silk waists, for prices that are about as trivial as any ever quoted by this store.

Cloth Walking Suits—

Only one or two of each style, but in the aggregate quite a lot of styles.

$5.00 Suits. Not many of them, and when we tell you the lowest former price for any suit in this lot was $20.00, you'll know that's a signal to be in the department by a quarter to eight.

$7.50 Suits. About 25 in all, and all of them this season's most fashionable models. The skirts alone are worth much more than we ask for the entire suit.

The suits at $10.00, $15.00, $20.00 and $25.00 are all from styles that sold for $25.00, $30.00, $35.00 and up to $50.00.

Cotton Dresses.

Different materials from the sheerest stuff to the suits of linen.

$2.50 Suits. These are of white linen and they are shirtwaist style. Pleated and hemstitched. All clean and fresh

$3.00 Suits. These are from a lot of colored madras Shirtwaist Suits that sold for $6.00. There are only a few of them.

$9.00 for Dresses that formerly sold for $18.00 to $22.00, and $15.00 for those that sold for $25.00 to $40.00. Fine organdie dresses in white, light blue and pink, trimmings of lace and embroidery. Some are a bit mussed from handling.

$3.00 Dresses. White Shirtwaist Suits of pure linen that formerly sold for $5.00.

$1.75 Dresses. Either blue or black lawn, as best suits your fancy. Solid grounds with white polka dots. Formerly $2.50.

$10.00 Shirtwaist Suits. Linen Suits, mostly white. Former prices were from $20.00 to $30.00.

Handsome Silk Waists.

Broken lines of fine to finest Silk Waists, many of them of foreign make.

$2.00 Silk Waists. On this table will be found the $5.00 waists, and they sold fast for that figure. Peau de Soie, Taffeta and other silks. During the season we sell no silk waists in a regular way for less than $5.00—so you will know what this remnant-day price means.

$3.50 Silk Waits—originally $6.00 and $8.00. There will be two tables filled with these $6.00 and $8.00 silk waists, and you may choose for $3.50. High class, all of them, all the silks used in waists, all colors and all sizes.

$6.50 Silk Waists—the Remnant-Day price, lowered from $10.00 and $12.50. On these tables will be found those charming waists that remain from our most admired models. Sizes broken to some extent, here and there a slightly mussed waist, but in the sizes represented there are plenty of waists, and most of them are clean and fresh.

Cotton Waists.

Let your eyes rest for a moment on that paragraph referring to Fisk, Clark & Flagg Waists.

50c Cotton Waists that sold in season for $1.00 and $1.50. White, if you say so. Plenty of colors, if you prefer color. All more or less mussed from handling.

$1.50 Waists that sold in season up to $3.00. Waists of white linen, waists of white lawn, all perfect. Matchlessly trimmed with either lace or embroidery for those who prefer trimmed waists. For women who like the severely plain waist, there are waists just plainly tailored.

$3.00 Waists. This is the great bargain. For this price women can buy either Fisk, Clark & Flagg Waists, or that other equally famous waist, the King. All are the regular $5.00 grade. Choice from white linen or oxford cloths. All sizes from 32 to 44 bust. Of the Fisk waist there are 11 styles, and the King is represented by 12 different styles.

The foregoing is but a bare mention of the many good things in this second floor department for women that will be recognized by an early visit today. It is the best Remnant Day layout ever made by this store.

Tuesday, July 12, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

A conference was held at Oyster Bay yesterday, attended by the Republican candidates for president and vice president and the chairman of the Republican national committee. It would be but natural if the conferees rejoiced a little over the snarl into which the Democracy has fallen, but if they did they gave no sign to the outer world. They were simply going over the plans for the campaign that will be on in force as the heat of summer wanes and for which preparations must be made. Incidentally, being mutual friends, they enjoyed each other's society, the sea breezes and the other comforts of a fine summer home.

Incidental to the arrest of a youthful wrongdoer, there is a fresh allegation that a school of crime is being conducted in this city by a pair of the most accomplished and dangerous of "Fagins." If such is the case it ought not to be beyond the power of the bureau of detectives to locate the chaps and bring them to the bar of justice. The teaching of crime to boys is in itself one of the most heinous offenses against the welfare of society. One can hardly conceive of anything much worse, and it is a practice that should be broken up without delay. It ought not to be extremely difficult to get evidence against malefactors of this class.

Another victory was scored by Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk yesterday, when Charles J. Denny, former member of the St. Louis municipal assembly, pleaded guilty to the charge of bribery in open court. It has been a long and hard job to clean up St. Louis, but it has been pressed forward by Mr. Folk with an energy and persistence that are irresistible. St. Louis is probably not very much worse than other large cities, or some that are smaller, but the giving and taking of bribes had become so flagrant that decent public sentiment revolted and demanded relief. Close to the opportunity appeared the man with the courage and fidelity to grasp it. St. Louis is gradually being cleaned out, to its great benefit.

Emperor William's message to the Finland regiment, of which he is the honorary colonel, by order of the czar of Russia, has created a sensation throughout Europe. There is some difference of opinion as to whether it transgresses the bounds of neutrality, though it is conceded to be in bad taste by those who contend that it does not commit the German monarch to support of the Russian cause. It will naturally be offensive to the Japanese, but it is probable they will not give it official attention. Such a message emanating from any other ruler in Europe would portend serious trouble, but William of Germany has so often shocked the world by ferocious language not followed by hostile acts that there will be a disposition to await further developments before taking any particular notice. The kaiser's bark is worse than his bite.

Tyranny is nearly always petty. Its gross wrongs are an aggregate of petty inflictions. A startling example of what it can descend to is afforded by the order issued at Berlin forbidding children of Polish parentage to visit the farms of Poland during the summer. It has heretofore been a custom for Polish families in the city and those on the farms to exchange children for a season, thereby giving the city youngsters the benefit of a few weeks in the country and those of the farms a sight of city life. The authorities profess to believe that the Berlin children are taught the Polish language during their visits to the farms and that seditious thoughts are planted in their minds. So they must not go to the country any more. Finland has no more just grievance against Russia than this imposition of unnecessary hardship upon the Polish children in Berlin.

Reports, more or less reliable, tell of a further Japanese gain in the advance upon Port Arthur and the destruction of two Russian ships. Some doubt may well be entertained concerning the latter report, as no details are given as to how, when or where they were destroyed. The other report is more credible, for the Japanese are evidently determined to take Port Arthur and have proven both ability and reckless courage. At the north end of the peninsula the Russians acknowledge the loss of Kai-Chou—also called Kaiping—after pretty severe fighting. Reports from Russian sources also declare that Gen. Kuroki's eastern column is now advancing along the main road to Mukden, with the apparent intention to attack the line of communication. The fact that Gen. Kuropatkin remains south of Liao-Yang may indicate that he does not fear this movement on account of the strength of his guard at the ancient capital, or because he has supplies at Liao-Yang to stand a siege.

West Virginia Republicans.

While there has been a spirited contest for the Republican nomination for governor of West Virginia between W. M. O. Dawson of Charleston and Charles F. Teter of Philippi, there is every assurance of party harmony after the convention, which is assembling in Wheeling. The candidates and their friends agree in saying there will be no bolt and no desertion, no matter who captures the prize. This will be a disappointment to West Virginia Democrats and to some extent to the national leaders of the party.

It is now understood the selection of former Senator Henry G. Davis for the vice presidential nomination at St. Louis was dictated on the assumption that a Republican quarrel would contribute to carrying West Virginia for the Democratic electoral ticket. It was believed the candidacy of Mr. Davis would contribute to that result. Even though New York and other states might be lost, a victory in West Virginia for the electoral ticket would probably carry with it the election of a Democratic legislature and the ultimate elevation of the Hon. John T. McGraw of Grafton to the United States senate. This explains the otherwise inexplicable turn of the St. Louis convention to Mr. Davis, who had not previously been mentioned for the vice presidency, and who gloried in the fact that he bolted the Democratic national ticket in 1896 and 1900.

Whatever ground there may have been for this assumption last week there is none now. The West Virginia Republicans understand the situation thoroughly and appreciate the necessity for presenting a united front to the enemy. They do not propose to permit their state to slide back into the Democratic column after all the trouble they have had in making it Republican. Since the Democrats secured the seating of Gov. Fleming, by a contest after the election of 1888, West Virginia has been reliably Republican. The state was lost that time because the margin of majority was so narrow. There has never been any possibility of a contest since, and an honest difference of opinion as to which of two good Republicans ought to be governor is not going to cause the party to play into the hands of the Democrats this year.

West Virginia has developed marvelously during the past 15 years. It has enjoyed an increase in population and wealth almost unprecedented. As its population has grown so has its Republican majorities become successively larger. Prosperity harmonizes with Republicanism, and not only did the new population add to the Republican vote of the state, but the exemplification of the unity between Republican policies and prosperity converted many of the old-line Democrats to a new way of thinking. They are not likely now to throw away what they have gained.

No Sanity, No Safety.

There is a pitiful effort on the part of Democratic leaders here and there to make it appear they are happy. The Hon. Bourke Cockran, who fled the field at St. Louis when Bryan forced the elimination of the feeble gold plank designed for the platform, declares loudly that Judge Parker's telegram has made everything right. Our own Col. Guffey puts on a brave face and says he is well satisfied. But as other Democrats went their way homeward, Democrats almost as influential as those named, they fill the air with a silence so dense that they are unrecognizable as Democrats.

Cockran and the others who have spoken admit that an inexcusable blunder was perpetrated when the platform was patched up without a gold plank. They pretend to believe that Judge Parker's declaration has mended the situation. Mr. Bryan and his followers have not recovered their breath, but when they do they are likely to have a different story to tell. They may find some consolation in the fact that they are not formally repudiated by the platform, and the thought that it is not so hard to even scores with the man who has repudiated them.

The Hon. David Bennett Hill, to whose efforts Judge Parker owes much if he prizes his nomination, uttered a classic sentiment about that platform, which was exclusively reported in The Gazette. "Platforms are like sausages," said Mr. Hill; "one is apt to have less confidence in them the more he knows how they are made." He might have added that some lack of confidence may be warranted by a knowledge of who made them—either sausages or platforms. No confidence can be felt in this Democratic platform, certainly, not even with Judge Parker's supplement.

Obviously there is still a divided Democracy. The two wings of the party are not flapping together in harmony. Platform principles have probably no vital significance to either wing except as personal interests are involved. A gold utterance is essential to the enthusiastic support of August Belmont, American representative of the Rothschilds. Hence it becomes important. A gold plank was offensive to the silver mine owners, so it was left out. During the war this same party protested against the issue of treasury notes and a few years later it protested against having any other money than treasury notes. In 1894 it was issuing bonds to maintain the gold standard and in 1896 it was devoting all its energies to the destruction of that standard. Today it does not know where it stands on the money question and would have passed it in silence but for Judge Parker's interference, and it resents the interference. There is no such thing as a "sane and safe Democracy." There never has been. Its periods of power have mostly been periods of disaster and uncertainty.

The Bond Election.

It is an important election that occurs today, of vital interest to every citizen. The questions are whether the city shall be bonded for certain purposes, the total amount involved being $7,000,000. Of this total $5,000,000 is for the purification of the city water supply, for which an issue of bonds was voted five years ago. Owing to delays in starting the work, when it was undertaken the amount was insufficient to cover the estimates for the work. The United States court, upon petition, enjoined the city from proceeding any farther, and that has caused another delay, adding to the cost of the necessary plant. Meanwhile enteric diseases are terribly prevalent, and these are charged to the impurity of the water. Under these circumstances it appears hardly necessary to appeal to the good citizens of Pittsburgh to vote today for an issue of bonds to raise a sum ample to cover every estimate.

The other proposed issue is for $2,000,000 for the reduction of the grades on streets radiating from the court house—the removal of the "hump." We believe every citizen understands this project, which has been discussed periodically for 21 years.

This election is important enough to call out every vote in the city. These issues should be carried or defeated decisively. Every qualified elector should express his will at the ballot box. There have been bond elections in the past in which less than one-fifth of the normal vote of the city was registered. It should not be so today. Every vote should be polled.

Lives of great men oft remind us
That if we would be sublime,
We'd be swimming when they find us
Just about convention time.

This is the day the Merchants and Manufacturers start for the conquest of West Virginia. It is a friendly assault, however, and may good will go with them.

Washington's chief of police has forbidden his patrolmen to pick their teeth in public. Well, as the old saying goes, fingers were made before forks.

Germany explains that the kaiser did not mean anything by his telegram to the Wiborg regiment. Certainly, nothing but empty courtesy.

The silver lining which Bourke Cockran has sewn on that cloud is a little too clumsily done to commend it as a neat piece of political handiwork.

Should the packers and butchers at Chicago decide to strike we may all learn to do without meat without considering the price.

Announcement by the Chicago Chronicle is the first straw to show how the Democratic wind is not blowing to harmony.

Now that the Japanese have got the key to Port Arthur we shall expect no aimless fumbling around the keyhole.

Irrigation in Nebraska.

The statement that light is breaking in on Nebraska is not to be taken in a political sense. That occurred some time ago, even if the Boy Orator of the Platte is still going around seeking whom he may devour. The administration has just reserved 1,000,000 acres of land from sale preparatory to establishing great irrigation works that will make it the most valuable soil in the state. This is only a beginning, as most of the land west of the one hundredth meridan is not used, and much of it will be irrigated in time. For the present the 1,000,000 acres is to be taken in hand, because it lies near the Platte, and the waterways of nature can easily be used. The land is now worth practically nothing. It has been open to sale for nearly 50 years, and is so arid that only occasionally is it used even for grazing.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Immense Losses by Forest Fires.

Maine has begun a systematic survey of its forest area on the co-operative plan with the bureau of forestry, of the United States department of agriculture, which bears half the expenses. Last year forest fires caused a loss of 250,000 acres, entailing a pecuniary loss of over $1,000,000. The new investigation is a step toward a system of legislation, of supervision and of fire prevention, by which every state in the Union might profit. No one of them has as yet systematically adopted any effective plan to fight fires, though Pennsylvania has begun earlier than most the acquisition of large areas and New York has its great forest reserva in the Adirondacks. Maine has attacked the problem of the forest under private ownership.—Philadelphia Press.

How Baltimore Has Recovered.

Baltimore furnishes a new exemplification of the fact that a town may be very thoroughly destroyed by fire without serious check to its business and without at all daunting the spirit of its inhabitants. The year 1904 has been a year of activity. It is also the season of political effervescence and uncertainty. But Baltimore goes right on. The American yesterday said "Baltimore's wholesale and retail businesses are as good as they ever were at this season of the year and the prospects were never more satisfactory." The news from the Chesapeake will give the greatest satisfaction in Philadelphia, which has only admiration for the pluck and progress of its sister metropolis.—Philadelphia Record.

The Question of Pure Milk.

Arrests of adulterators of milk have become everyday occurrences, but why were the inspectors so inactive preceding the "interference" of the state dairy and food commissioner? Dishonest milkmen have given their skimmed milk a creamy look by the addition of annatto and preserved it by the use of formaldehyde for months and years past, and the complaints of physicians to the health department on the subject have been loud and persistent. Occasional raids by the inspectors, separated by long periods of official indifference, are not calculated to insure babes and invalids against being poisoned by "doctored" milk.—Philadelphia Record.

Where Japan Will Get the News.

The Japanese will doubtless read with vivid interest the Russian account of the brilliant work of the Vladivostok fleet, the more so since they are not likely to hear the same from their own reports or those of foreign correspondents.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Shameful Extravagance.

We direct the attention of the proper authorities to a common extravagance in the matter of sound. To have in operation a new fog horn and a band concert on the same night is "wasteful and ridiculous excess."—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Talked of in Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—The annual battle for the lives of Manhattan's sick babies has commenced. With a new appropriation of $25,000 from the city, together with 200 medical inspectors and an increased district nursing corps, the bureau of health expects this year to be better able than ever to combat with the deadly disease among the infants of the tenement districts. The reports show there has been an alarming increase in sickness among children. But this is hardly remarkable when the existing conditions are taken into consideration. The relentless sun beats all day long upon the shadeless streets, and the heat radiating from the pavements at night, together with the foul smells and crowded houses make the tenement districts almost unbearable.

It is into these sections the vast corps of the bureau of health doctors and nurses have directed their energies and the tots wasting away with disease are, when possible, rescued from their surroundings and sent to one of the outlying hospitals. After several weeks of treatment they are restored to their parents. Dr. John J. Cronin, assistant chief medical inspector, said today that he is now making every effort to have the streets of the tenements flushed every night as the fresh air, after the sprinkling of the streets, he feels certain will go a long way toward alleviating the sufferings of the poor.

Tired of Answering Questions.

A Fifth avenue merchant, who has the misfortune to have his shop across the street from the new public library building, has rented the fence surrounding the big structure. He has a sign painted upon it for the information of out-of-town visitors who have made it a practice of asking him what building was in course of construction. The sign which was just finished today bears the following inscription

"New York Public Library—Astor, Tilden and Lenox foundations. Fifth avenue area 500x370 feet; Forty-second street area 500x270 feet. Old reservoir which formerly occupied the site, removed in 1899 and the foundations of the new library were begun in 1900. The erection of the building was actually commenced in 1902 and when it will be finished no one knows. All are welcome."

A large crowd watched the painters at work and made comments on the sign, especially the sentence relating to the library completion.

Seeking a New York Engagement.

A. V. H. Hewitt, a well-known young Pittsburgh actor, who spent most of the season just ended with the Grand Opera House Stock Company, is in New York in search of a metropolitan engagement. Since his arrival here he has met a number of the "big" managers at whose hands he has received very courteous treatment.

Uninsured Hide in Their Bombproofs.

The man who carries no life insurance will wear an anxious look for the next three days, for 1,000 agents of the Prudential who won the home office effort prize of a three days' visit in the metropolis free of all expense, have descended upon New York. They may be here on pleasure, but the hotel corridors tonight are filled with groups of men while the air is ladened with expressions alien to the conversation of the ordinary layman.

Popular Airs by Birds.

Teaching birds to sing, the new wrinkle adopted by the London fanciers, is soon to be tried in this city. They find they can demand a larger price for members of the feathery tribe which can warble tunes that sound like "Bedelia," "Hiawatha" or the other popular airs. A young girl is placed near the cage and plays the flute by the hour. A bird at first takes no notice to the strange tremulous whistling notes and it requires much patience on the part of the teacher. After some time the bird begins to repeat the first bar. That is the cue for the teacher and the air is taken up on the flute where the birds stops and gradually, bar by bar, the bird is taught the full tune. A bullfinch is said to be the easiest to teach to sing and when they are declared proficient they have a market value of from $50 to $100.

Hit While Slumbering in Cradle of the Deep.

The British steamship Shimosa, while nearing Sandy Hook lightship before daylight this morning, ran down a sleeping whale. The officer on watch saw the dark object in the water and was certain his ship was about to run upon land. He gave a signal to stop the engines, but before this could be accomplished everyone was awakened by the "thud." There was a moment's silence while the Shimosa glided on; then just abaft the steamship's racing screw a whale appeared floundering in the water and blowing as indignantly as any whale might be expected to do which had been disturbed just as it was taking its morning beauty sleep on the surface of the peaceful Atlantic. It did not seem to be hurt much and the ship was uninjured.

Telegram Was Not Delayed.

The Western Union Telegraph Company refuses to be implicated in the delay of the message sent by Judge Parker to Mr. Sheehan at St. Louis, relative to the platform of the Democratic party. General Superintendent Brooks today said the telegram had been delivered promptly from Esopus and handed to Mr. Sheehan personally at 2:30 o'clock p. m. at the convention hall. Why Mr. Sheehan kept the nation in suspense the remaining time is yet to be explained.

Human Spiders Work High in Air.

"Steeple Jacks" were engaged today in placing a new flag pole in position on the south tower of the postoffice building to replace one that was taken down a month ago. The old pole, which was 70 feet in length, had been on the building for 15 years or more. A growing defect in the big stick rendered it hazardous to float a flag from it any longer, and it was ordered down. Crowds lined Broadway and Park row as the nimble steeple climbers began their dangerous work, and when John F. Hassler, one of the human spiders engaged in the work, clambered to the uttermost height of the mast to float a flag and to adjust some of the guy ropes, there was a tense straining of nerves.

The new pole is of Oregon pine, 65 feet in length, and will extend for a trifle more than 50 feet above the top of the south cupola, which is nearly 200 feet above the street level. The weight of the pole is 3,800 pounds, and to secure it in position, it is set to a depth of a little more than 10 feet in a socket.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Who have founded their faith upon
The holy text of pike and drum,
And proved their doctrines orthodox
By apostolic blows and knocks.
—Hudibras.

If ye listen sharply ye'll hear the roar of the Boyne water, for this is the day all true Orangemen celebrate, and "Boyne Water" is the tune they march to.

So listen and ye'll hear it and see the orange-colored banners and trappings, with the Stars and Stripes floating majestically over all.

It was a great battle fought on the banks of the Boyne in Ireland between the Protestant forces under William of Orange, and the Catholics under James. History tells us there were 30,000 men on each side, and that they fought even handed nearly the whole day, but at last William's men made a dash that broke James' ranks, and his army fled, leaving 1,500 dead behind, while the other side buried 500 of their men.

* * * * *

There are no survivors of this battle, and it is doubtful whether there are any folks here who trace their lineage back to those who were in it, for it took place in 1690.

But there are those who are filled with the same spirit that moved those who fought on that occasion, and some of them may show it today, for hardly an Orangeman's day passes that more or less bloody heads are not reported. You may think these scraps are most unbecoming on the part of religionists, but they are nothing in comparison with the doings long before and long after the battle of the Boyne, for it was the persecution of the Protestants that led to the uprising against James II., before which he fled to France, the stronghold of Catholicism, as well as the most powerful country in Europe at that time.

It appears that James had allowed the Jacobites to hunt Protestants, high and low, confiscate and destroy their property and take their lives, all in the name of religion.

William put a stop to their pillaging and the guerrilla warfare that had been going on for a long time. And strange to say, neither side seemed to thank him for it. They had grown so accustomed to it that they rather liked it.

* * * * *

The north of Ireland became the headquarters of Protestantism as well as the home of the Scotch-Irish. Of this clan we know much, for many of them settled in Pittsburgh when it was yet a military post. These sent for their friends and they multiplied so rapidly that this became largely a Scotch-Irish town.

And there are some here yet, and not a few, of which fact we are given to boast not a little. They came of good fighting stock, which was just the sort of people needed here in early times, and they are all right in these later times.

The battle of the Boyne did not change the religion of the contestants, although it made England a Protestant power, for the religion of the throne was the religion of the nation, no matter what the religion of the people.

Nor did it bring with it a complete cessation of hostilities, for the Protestants could not forgive the Jacobites for what they had done while in power and allowed few opportunities to pay them back in their own coin to pass unimproved.

Orangeman's day was ever a day of small battles and sometimes of such great riots that parliament had to pass stringent laws for the regulation of both religious factions.

* * * * *

The battles of the Boyne was fought 214 years ago, but the fight between the two factions had been going on for a long time, so that we may safely speak of it as the 300-year war.

The next longest, probably, is known as the Thirty-Years' war, which was also a religious war growing out of the reformation. There were no distinct and definite issues, the contestants simply being for or against the pope, and that without regard to nationality. Every European nation took a hand in it, and some suffered from costly revolutions. These were also favorable times for ambitious princes, dukes and the like to wage war against their neighbors and if possible gain a little more territory, and with it a little more power.

In short, the Thirty-Years' war was a sort of universal scrimmage; or, if you prefer, the agitation preliminary to the clearer definition of religious questions. The people everywhere were greatly wrought up and took strong sides for and against popery. This accounts for the clearness and the sharpness of the lines separating Catholics and Protestants today.

* * * * *

How much longer the 300-year war will continue no one knows, but we do know that the Scotch-Irish are not the people to give up as long as there is a speck of life left in them, nor to miss a chance to hit the other fellow's head.

There being the same blood in the adherents of each side we may safely conclude that the war will be continued as long as there are Scotch-Irish people, but it will become milder and more humane as the blood grows thinner and cooler.

Only religious wars have continued so long. Political strife is short lived as compared with religious. This is because the latter relates to the life of the soul, which is eternal, while the other relates almost entirely to the present life, which is of comparatively few days.

And while we may condemn religious strife, and look back with horror on the inquisition, the cruelties practiced in the name of religion, and the shameful persecution of civil, industrious people, the philosopher sees that all this was necessary, or at least it seemed as a test of faith and courage, and made men strong and reliable.

It was the severe trials of the children of Israel that made the remnant that reached the land of Canaan so strong, which strength is clearly shown in the Jew of today.

* * * * *

This country is no little indebted to the persecutions of the Jews, to the Thirty-Years' war, and to the conflicts between the Orange flag and green, because out of these fires, as it were, came the metal that makes our government and its institutions stanch and strong.

These survived because they were fit to survive and their posterity will continue to control and to rule as long as it is fit, and no longer.

And while we are proud of our Scotch-Irish people, let us not forget that those who faced them were far from being poltroons, and are to this day as ready for a fight as they were 214 years ago, or any year since. Both sides have learned much during these years, and their wild blood has become so tamed that its possessors are not always in a fighting humor.

There is room enough in this broad, goodly land of ours for the orange banner and the green as long as they are content to wave under the folds of Old Glory, don't you think?

The Populist Lesson.

Judging from the power which the Populists at one time wielded, we should say that there is always danger, much as we dislike to admit it, that even the enlightened American people, or a very large part of them, can be partially swept from their feet, if the conditions are right. Given discontent, bad times, the almost complete disappearance of sane and courageous men, and then the foolish and disloyal and the crack-brained can make a mighty showing in this enlightened nation, if the career of the Populists is a sound criterion.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Sure Index.

Nobody will be surprised that the betting in New York on the result of the election of 1904 is 2 to 1 on Roosevelt. Occasionally the betting fraternity has been astray, but it has never been astray when any such odds as this was offered. The bets represent the opinion of the shrewdest men in the country, and are usually a good reflex of the political situation. Democrats as well as Republicans are offering the odds on the Republican presidential ticket. They will continue to offer odds throughout the campaign.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Chippewa Land

THE STROLLER.

The opening of the Rosebud reservation has been heralded far and wide as disposing of the last great tract of Indian lands that the government has at its command. This is an error, however, for in Northern Minnesota, lying along the Big Fork river 270 miles to its emptying into the Rainy river, is the great reservation of the Chippewa nation, containing scores of thousands of acres of timber land, among the most valuable in the United States. Not only is this territory rich in pine, but beneath its surface lie deposits of coal, while some of its hills are underlaid with mica. It is a famous game country, for here are found not only moose, bear and deer in large numbers, but myraids of water fowl that breed in the wild rice swamps, and small fur-bearing animals whose number has been but slightly diminished by the infrequent raids made on them. In the days of old John Jacob Astor and his American Fur Company, this region was better known to the professional hunter and trapper than it is now, for the Big Falls of the Big Fork—about 80 miles down from the river's source—for a long time marked the disputed boundary between the doughty old New Yorker's men and the trappers of the Hudson Bay Company.

◇ ◇ ◇

Many a sanguinary conflict took place in this region between the rival forces of the two companies. On the bank of the Big Falls is located the cabin of old Dan Campbell, a hermit squatter, who for 30 years has lived a solitary life there, convinced that some day the iron horse will come snorting through the 150 miles of wilderness that lies between him and civilization, and that a prosperous manufacturing center will spring up on the banks of the cataract of whose water power he will be in supreme command by right of eminent domain. From the bed of the river beneath the falls, old Dan has fished out many a relic of fierce encounters between Astor's men and the Hudson Bay Company. Half a dozen rusty old muskets adorn the walls of his cabin, besides knives, hatchets and other implements which the waters have yielded up to him. One of the legends preserved by the Chippewas of the Big Fork is that on one occasion late in the fall, when the river was swollen by the autumn rains, a big scow-load of Astor's men came down as far as the falls and anchored for the night. Believing that no enemies were near they went to sleep on the boat, leaving only a solitary sentry on duty. Him, a party of cat-footed Hudson Bay scouts, creeping up in the darkness, set upon and killed before he could make an outcry. Then, slashing the ropes that bound the scow to the shore, they let out savage and exultant yells as the craft with all on board, swept over the falls to death below.

◇ ◇ ◇

All along its course, the Big Fork river is dotted with mounds. Even the Chippewas possess no traditions concerning these, so antiquated are they. Not long ago a party of scientists from the University of Minnesota made a fleeting examination of them and pronounced them to be nothing more than the work of Indians who probably preceded by centuries the present savage dwellers along the river. Into one of these mounds on old Dan Campbell's place, a party of three was permitted to dig. On its surface was a young oak, while the layer of new soil that surmounted the original mound was fully three feet thick. When that was removed, the diggers found that they had struck a layer of earth of almost stony hardness. An afternoon of labor brought them near the center of the mound, and there their efforts were rewarded by finding a skeleton around whose neck was a heavy copper collar, while old Dan promptly claimed as his reward for permission to dig. Besides the skeleton were found a tomahawk, the remains of what had once evidently been a string of wampum, a delicate flint, evidently such as was used for lighting a fire, and at least a score of pieces of clay pottery, some of them finished with pretty designs.

This pottery find was easily explained by the the fact that across the river from old Dan's place, and extending for at least a half a mile along its shore, were easily distinguishable the remains of a series of kilns in which the ancient dwellers had made their wares. One had but to scratch the ground almost anywhere to bring up fragments of utensils made of the same material as those which were found in the mound. Unfortunately it was not possible to unearth a single whole specimen.

This art of pottery making, if it was ever known among the Chippewas of the Big Fork, is now lost to them. Nearly all the utensils which they now use for domestic purposes are made of either willow withes or of birch bark, and it is amazing to see the variety of uses to which the latter is put. The willow, too, is scarcely less useful and among its other utilities the party in question had opportunity to see how the Chippewas made from it their substitute for tobacco, known as kinnikinik. From the inner bark of the willow a soft, delicate fiber was scraped and dried. Sometimes the Indians soak it in a concoction made by steeping a piece of precious plug tobacco, but if they have none of that on hand, they simply smoke the fiber as it is. The strength of the worst toby ever invented is as nothing to it. A pipeful is sufficient to put the average pale-face "down and out."

◇ ◇ ◇

Reduced by disease the Indians of the Big Fork number now only a fraction of the population that inhabited the territory a short time ago. In their garb and manner of life they approach crude savagery. During the summer months the breech-clout is still the only article of dress worn by many of the men of the tribes up toward the Rainy and near Deer River, a village on the heights near the headwaters of the Mississippi, shoddy "store clothes" are much more in evidence. True to the characteristics of their nation as far back as history runs, the Chippewas are a peaceful folk, and the traveler along the Big Fork is never in the slightest danger from them. They are inveterate gamblers at their savage game of "moccasin," however, and one petty tribe in contest with another will frequently play away everything in the world it possesses, and then be compelled to borrow enough crazy canoes from the victors in which to reach home.

Grip the Source of Appendicitis.

In the special cable to the Herald Dr. Lucas Championiere of Paris is quoted as saying that grip is the original source of appendicitis, and that the latter disease is more frequent according as meat forms the larger proportion of one's diet. This statement, howeverr is only partly true. Most authorities on surgery claim that appendicitis is merely an exceptional complication of grip, and that excessive meat eating is a causative element of the bowel affection only in the sense that the habit may invite intestinal torpidity. Otherwise, if the learned professor's theory should hold good, we should have epidemics of appendicitis following and going hand in hand with those of grip, and there would be very few meat eaters left.—New York Herald.

A Climax Spoiled.

James A. Reed, who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Missouri against Joseph W. Folk, is a northerner, having been born and reared in Iowa, but when he is speechmaking in the rural districts of Missouri he is very profuse with compliments to ex-Confederates. At Boonsboro, in Howard county, when he was running for governor, according to Mr. Folk, Mr. Reed told in eloquent language how Judge Gantt, a local hero, who fought under Stonewall Jackson, acted when he was shot in the knee. He retained his martial spirit, said Mr. Reed, and, wrapping one arm around a sapling, he pulled himself to his feet, and with the other hand waved his hat as his comrades charged. "Yes," yelled some fellow in the crowd before it had time to applaud, "and I'll bet your daddy was the man that shot the judge." The handclapping was drowned, much to Mr. Reed's discomfiture, in a roar of laughter.—New York Tribune.

LABOR BODIES ARE IN REVOLT

Turn Against Bond Issues After Meeting of Common Council.

BILL IS DEFEATED

Administration Refused to Pass Ordinance Restricting Employment on Contracts.

MORE REPORTS OF OPPOSITION

Labor organizations of Pittsburgh are in open revolt against the bond issues. After the refusal on the part of the city administration yesterday to put an ordinance through councils regarding the employment of labor on the hump, filtration and other city contracts, the representatives of about 25 organizations held a meeting in the City hall and voted to appeal to the workingmen of the city to vote against both bond issues today.

The labor organizations, each represented by one or more members, attended common council yesterday afternoon and asked that body to pass an ordinance providing that contractors doing work for the city shall employ no person who has not served his apprenticeship and who is not a practical and finished journeyman in his respective craft or trade; also, providing that the mayor and directors shall enforce the ordinance or annul the contract in the event of the failure of any contractor to comply with it.

Labor Ordinance Buried.

The ordinance had been buried by the finance committee at its last meeting, by referring it to a sub-committee. An effort was made yesterday by councilmen friendly to the labor bodies to have the bill recalled from the finance committee and passed, but was defeated after a long wrangle. The labor representatives were given the privilege of the floor, after some protests on the part of the administration members, and they all made an earnest appeal for the ordinance, claiming that no union man or finished craftsman could get a job on city work, nor could any contractor compete for city work who paid his workmen union wages.

The administration opposed the passage of the ordinance, offering in lieu thereof a resolution to the effect that none but union workmen should be employed in the removal of the hump or the building of the filtration plant. The labor committee declared that this resolution was a "gold brick;" that it was illegal because the courts had decided that no discrimination could be shown either for or against union or non-union men on public works. While the labor men were insisting upon the passage of their ordinance, the administration members forced an adjournment.

Labor Men Incensed.

The labor men were incensed at the treatment they had receved from the administration and after common council adjourned they held a conference in city hall and agreed unanimously to advise the workingmen of the city to vote against the bond issues today. Frank Porter of the Bricklayers' and Masons' union and E. J. Gildernew, president of the same union, gave out a statement after the conference.

"We have been instructed to advise every workingman in Pittsburgh to vote against and oppose the bond issues tomorrow," said Porter. "It is evident that the administration intends to employ only the cheapest labor to remove the hump and construct the filtration plant. They will bring in Italians, Hungarians and thousands of unnaturalized foreigners to do the work. We did not ask councils to employ union workmen, for we knew that councils would have no right to make any such law, as the courts have held that no discrimination can be shown in favor of union men.

"We did ask that councils pass an ordinance preventing the employment of inferior workmen who draw inferior wages. The resolution, which was presented by the administration in council this afternoon, was submitted to us at 1 o'clock and we rejected it, giving as our reason that it was plainly illegal and would be of no effect. If we can get word to our organizations in time, every polling place in the city will be manned tomorrow by men who will work against both bond issues."

Turned Against Bond Issues.

The labor representatives at the meeting of common council were as follows: Frank Porter, bricklayers' union; D. J. Gildernew, president bricklayers' union; Thomas Blackburn, president of the painters' district council; William Finnegan, structural iron workers; H. F. Smith, hoisting engineers; William Boate, United Labor league; E. F. Welsh and J. J. McKee, plumbers' union; J. E. Thompson, the machinists; Henry W. Legleitner, president of Building Trades council; John Fernau, district master workmas Knights of Labor, who represents among other organizations, pavers and rammers, curb setters, asphalt workers and laborers; Thomas Tobin, structural iron workers; Charles Jenkins, vice president of boilermakers; Maurice J. Breen, bridge and iron structural workers; George Boyd, structural iron workers; George A. Hess, president of Iron City Central Trades council; John Anderson, hoisting engineers; E. A. Maginn, steamfitters and helpers; N. S. Glass, Sheet Metal Workers; Frank Curran, Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers. These men and others were appointed by the labor organizations to visit councils and to present the matter to the mayor and other officials of the city.

Resolution Declared Illegal.

It was late in the afternoon when William Brand got a chance to move to recall the labor ordinance from the finance committee. I. J. McKelvey, who presided in the absence of President Ward, had left the chair and called C. W. Helmold to take his place. McKelvey had in his hand a typewritten resolution which had been prepared by Director Bigelow. Brand was the first on the floor and was recognized by Helmold. Brand's motion was seconded, but at this point McKelvey interrupted. Helmold realized that he had blundered in carrying out the administration program by recognizing Brand first. After considerable hesitation he gave McKelvey the floor. Brand denounced the action of the chair and took an appeal.

The administration members rallied to the support of Helmold and sustained him, 22 to 15. The vote was as follows:

Ayes—Bole, Collins, Dengler, Frankel, Hammer, Hoge, Hughes, Kalchthaler, Maslowski, Mathews, Myers, McKelvey, McNally, O'Brien, Pfannkuch, Porter, Roenigk, Scott, Shenkan, Taylor, Walls, Zeuger—22.

Noes—Bailey, Barr, Bergmann, Brand, Cronmiller, Fullerton, Gibbon, Girdwood, Gulland, Lewis, Milby, Morin, McKnight, Perley, Simon—15.

Denounced as Gold Brick.

The debate was then on McKelvey's resolution and the representatives of the labor bodies were heard. In behalf of the organizations addresses were made by Joseph G. Armstrong, D. J. Gildernew, Frank Porter and Thomas Blackburn. They all stated that the McKelvey resolution was illegal and asked that the ordinance held up in the finance committee be recalled and passed. Councilman Gulland and Brand declared that the McKelvey resolution was a "gold brick" for the labor organizations. Gulland said the administration knew that a bill could not be legally passed on the day of its presentation.

Brand said every bill of this character must be referred to a committee and said the words "union labor" in the resolution would kill the measure in court. While this debate was going on McKelvey moved to adjourn, which was carried by 19 to 17 votes, this being regarded as a test vote. The members voted as follows:

Ayes—Bole, Dengler, Frankel, Hammer, Helmold, Hogue, Hughes, Kalenthaler, Maslowski, Mathews, McKelvey, O'Brien, Porter, Roenigk, Scott, Shenkan, Steel, Taylor, Zeuger—19.

Noes—Bailey, Barr, Bergmann, Brand, Cronmiller, Fullerton, Gibbon, Girdwood, Gulland, Lewis, Muth, Morin, Myers, McKnight, Rapp, Simon, Walls—17.

Bigelow Talks of Election.

Both branches of councils adopted the resolution transferring $15,000 from the fire fund to pay the expenses of today's bond election. William Brand in common council and A. H. Leslie in select offered an amendment to take the money from the Point Bridge fund, instead of the fire fund, but the amendment was voted down in both branches. Brand and Leslie said they were opposed to taking the money from the fire fund, because the mayor and the director of public safety had told councils that there was no surplus in the fire appropriation and no money to give the firemen a vacation.

Director Bigelow said yesterday that both bond issues would win today, but he declined to give any figures. He said he expected a very light vote.

"All the returns ought to be in tomorrow night by 10 o'clock. There will be no excuse for any ward or district to hold back the returns," he said.

No Money for Workers.

"Will any money be spent at the polls?" he was asked.

"Not a nickle," was his reply. "We expect the pay roll to work for the bond issues, but no money will be spent to carry the election."

Select Councilman Thomas O'Brien of the Sixteenth ward, the only Orphan member of councils, said yesterday: "The hump bond issu will be licked badly in the Sixteenth ward."

Cmmon Councilman A. M. Barr of the Eighteenth ward, declared: "The hump bond issue will be defeated overwhelmingly in our ward."

It is the general supposition that the weather will be hot today, but no thirst that craves strong drink can be assuaged legally, unless one belongs to a club. The saloons will be closed. The law, requiring the closing of saloons on election days makes no exception of bond elections. Allegheny saloons will be open.

ALLEGED GREEN GOODS MAN IN NEW YORK JAIL

Michael D. Ryan Is Said to Be the Ring Leader in the Traffic.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Michael D. Ryan, alias William W. Link, known as the "King of Green Goods Men," and said by the federal authorities to have made a large fortune by traffic in "green goods," was forced to spend tonight in a cell through failure to furnish $5,000 bail.

Ryan has figured prominently in the "green goods" game for 20 years, having been mentioned by George Appo at the time he betrayed the secrets of the "spid" game before the Lexow committee, as one of its ringleaders. The indictment on which he was arrested was found in January last, but no attempt has been made to apprehend him until the case against him was completed.

The complaint alleges that Ryan tried to sell bogus money to George W. Kenny of Bogart, Ga., who was instructed to forward all telegrams to William W. Link, No. 135 Liberty street, New York city. Kenny was cautioned to send no letters.

Ryan was arrested in an uptown eating house by United States Deputy Marshal Blake. When the prisoner was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields, his attorney, Joel R. Marx, contended that the officers had arrested the wrong man.

FEMALE WEAKNESS IS OFTEN DUE TO CATARRH

A Grateful Wife and Mother Restored to Health After Years of Suffering.

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. J. P. Regnier
"My friends say. How well you look."

MRS. J. P. REGNIER, 754 W. 20th St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I am anxious to show my gratitude for what Peruna has done for me, and hope this will reach the eyes of some woman who has suffered as I did. For two years I had intense pains regularly every month, had headache and backache. At such times I was hardly able to be about, and felt very weak and worn out. I am now feeling very well, but would not be without Peruna in the house. When I see my children are not feeling well and have a little cold, I at once give them Peruna, and they know it does them good, so they take it without any trouble. I am a new woman since I began taking Peruna. My friends say, "How well you look;" and I tell them what made me well, so some of my friends are going to try it themselves."—Mrs. J. P. Regnier.

Women all over the United States recommend Peruna. They praise it as a remedy particularly adapted to their peculiar ailments. But they do not stop there. They recommend it as a family medicine; they give it to their little children. They say they would not be without it in their homes.

Not a Cure-All.

What, then, is Peruna? Is it a cure-all? No such claims are made for it. Peruna cures catarrh and that is all it does cure. But many ailments called by countless different names are dependent upon catarrh, that is catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrance lining some organ of the body. Hence Peruna cures catarrh of the pelvic organs (female weakness), with the same surety as it cures catarrh of the nose or throat, or the many other catarrhal ailments of children.

Thousands of women suffer from pelvic catarrh and catarrhal nervousness and don't know it. If you feel fagged out, begin at once taking Dr. Hartman's Peruna. It will relieve your catarrhal affliction and all your organs will be restored to health. Buy a bottle today, as it will alleviate your case.

General Kuroki's Army Sees Evidences of Russian Losses as It Advances.

RAIN DON'T DAMAGE ARDOR

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

GEN. KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS, IN THE FIELD, Tuesday, June 28, Via Ping-Yang, July 10, Via Seoul, July 11.—For the first time during the war, newspaper correspondents and military attaches have been permitted to accompany the Japanese troops on an advance, instead of remaining behind with the head quarters of Gen. Kuroki. Almost all the correspondents are now attached to the staffs of the division generals, and although they are not on the fighting line they now witness the operations from a closer range than heretofore. Lieut.-Gen. Ian Hamilton, one of the British attaches, travels with Gen. Kuroki; Col. Hume, another British attache, and Col. E. H. Crowder, of the general staff of the American army, are to go with the western column, while Capt. P. C. March of the artillery corps, U. S. A., is to travel with the eastern column.

The country throughout which the army is advancing is a succession of ranges of closely wooded hills, with narrow valleys between them. The valleys are sown with corn and beans and are traversed by many streams. The roads are winding and rocky. There are many steep passes and the engineers were required to do much road building.

The Russian force on the Pekin road before Mo Tien pass consisted of two regiments of East Siberian infantry, with four guns, and an outpost of 300 cavalry. There was a succession of fresh graves, each surmounted by a wooden cross, upon which had been penciled hastily the name of the buried man, marking the line of the Russian retreat.

Sunday was oppressively hot, and the army on the Pekin road camped in shadeless and sandy fields. The soldiers improvised shelters of boughs and cornstalks, but still they suffered much from the heat. Monday brought a heavy and chilling rain, and the army was soaking for 24 hours. There were few tents, and the men huddled under trees or built shelters on the banks of the river, but most of them slept in the fields, with little to protect them from the rain.

Today, Tuesday, it is still raining, but the army is again on the march. The men, dripping wet, are plodding steadily on through the deep mud.

Neither sun nor rain affects the army of Japanese soldiers, who are in fine condition, confident of victory and keen to meet the enemy. The men are wonderfully hardy, and there is remarkably little straggling or dropping out of line.

The Chinese in this region complain that the Russians confiscated all their grain and provisions, and they are now helping the Japanese in all possible ways.

SENDS TROOPS AFIELD WITH HIS BLESSING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MOSCOW, July 11.—The emperor's second journey to South Russia to speed the departing troops has thus far been attended by demonstrations similar to those made during his first tour.

At Kolomna, after holding a review, the emperor addressed the troops, expressing his assurance that they would maintain the honor of the Russian arms. The emperor, who was mounted, raised aloft an ikon and the officers and men sank to their knees while his majesty made the sign of the cross with the ikon above their bowed heads and conferred the blessing of himself and the empress upon them.

PENZA, RUSSIA, July 11.—The emperor arrived here to-day. After accepting the gift of a sacred scroll from a Jewish deputation, his majesty reviewed the troops.

In addressing the soldiers, he recalled the fact that he passed through Penza 13 years ago on his return from the far east and said that the object of his present visit was to invoke God's blessing on the troops who are leaving for the front with the determination to bring the war to a favorable end, and one worthy of Russia.

RUNS UPON LEDGE.

Canadian Liner Boston Makes Port With Twenty Feet of Stem Carried Away.

YARMOUTH, N. S., July 11.—With her collision bulk head full of water and 20 feet of her stem carried away, the Dominion Atlantic railway line steamer Boston, Captain Stanwood, from Boston, arrived here today with 240 passengers.

Capt. Stanwood reported that at 7:30 o'clock this morning the Boston struck on the southwest point of West Cape ledge, where she remained for 20 minutes. A dense fog prevailed and frequent soundings were taken. When the fog whistle was heard the vessel was started ahead and soon brought up on the ledges with a crash. All the boats were at once cut loose and made ready for launching.

The passengers at first were greatly alarmed, but the officers assured them that the steamer was not far from land and that there was no immediate danger. One boat was put over the side in charge of the second officer, who was sent ashore for assistance, but before he returned the steamer backed off under her own steam and proceeded to port.

NINE UNDER ARREST.

Supposed to Know Something About Murder of Italian Laborer in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Eight men and a woman, all Italians, were arrested today on suspicion of knowing something of the murder of Antonio Manzzio, an Italian laborer, whose body, sewed up in a mattress, was found on the banks of the Wissahickon creek Sunday morning. Death was due to a stab wound. The identification of the man led to the finding of his boarding house. Enough evidence was found there to cause the police to arrest the proprietor, Tomasso Niglio, aged 50 years, his wife, son and six boarders.

Neighbors assert that they heard a quarrel in the house Saturday morning and saw a mattress taken away in a wagon from the house on Saturday night. Bloodstains were found in the house and the wagon has also been located.

RAISULI TAKES TOWN.

Work on Custom House at Tangier Discontinued Because He Threatens.

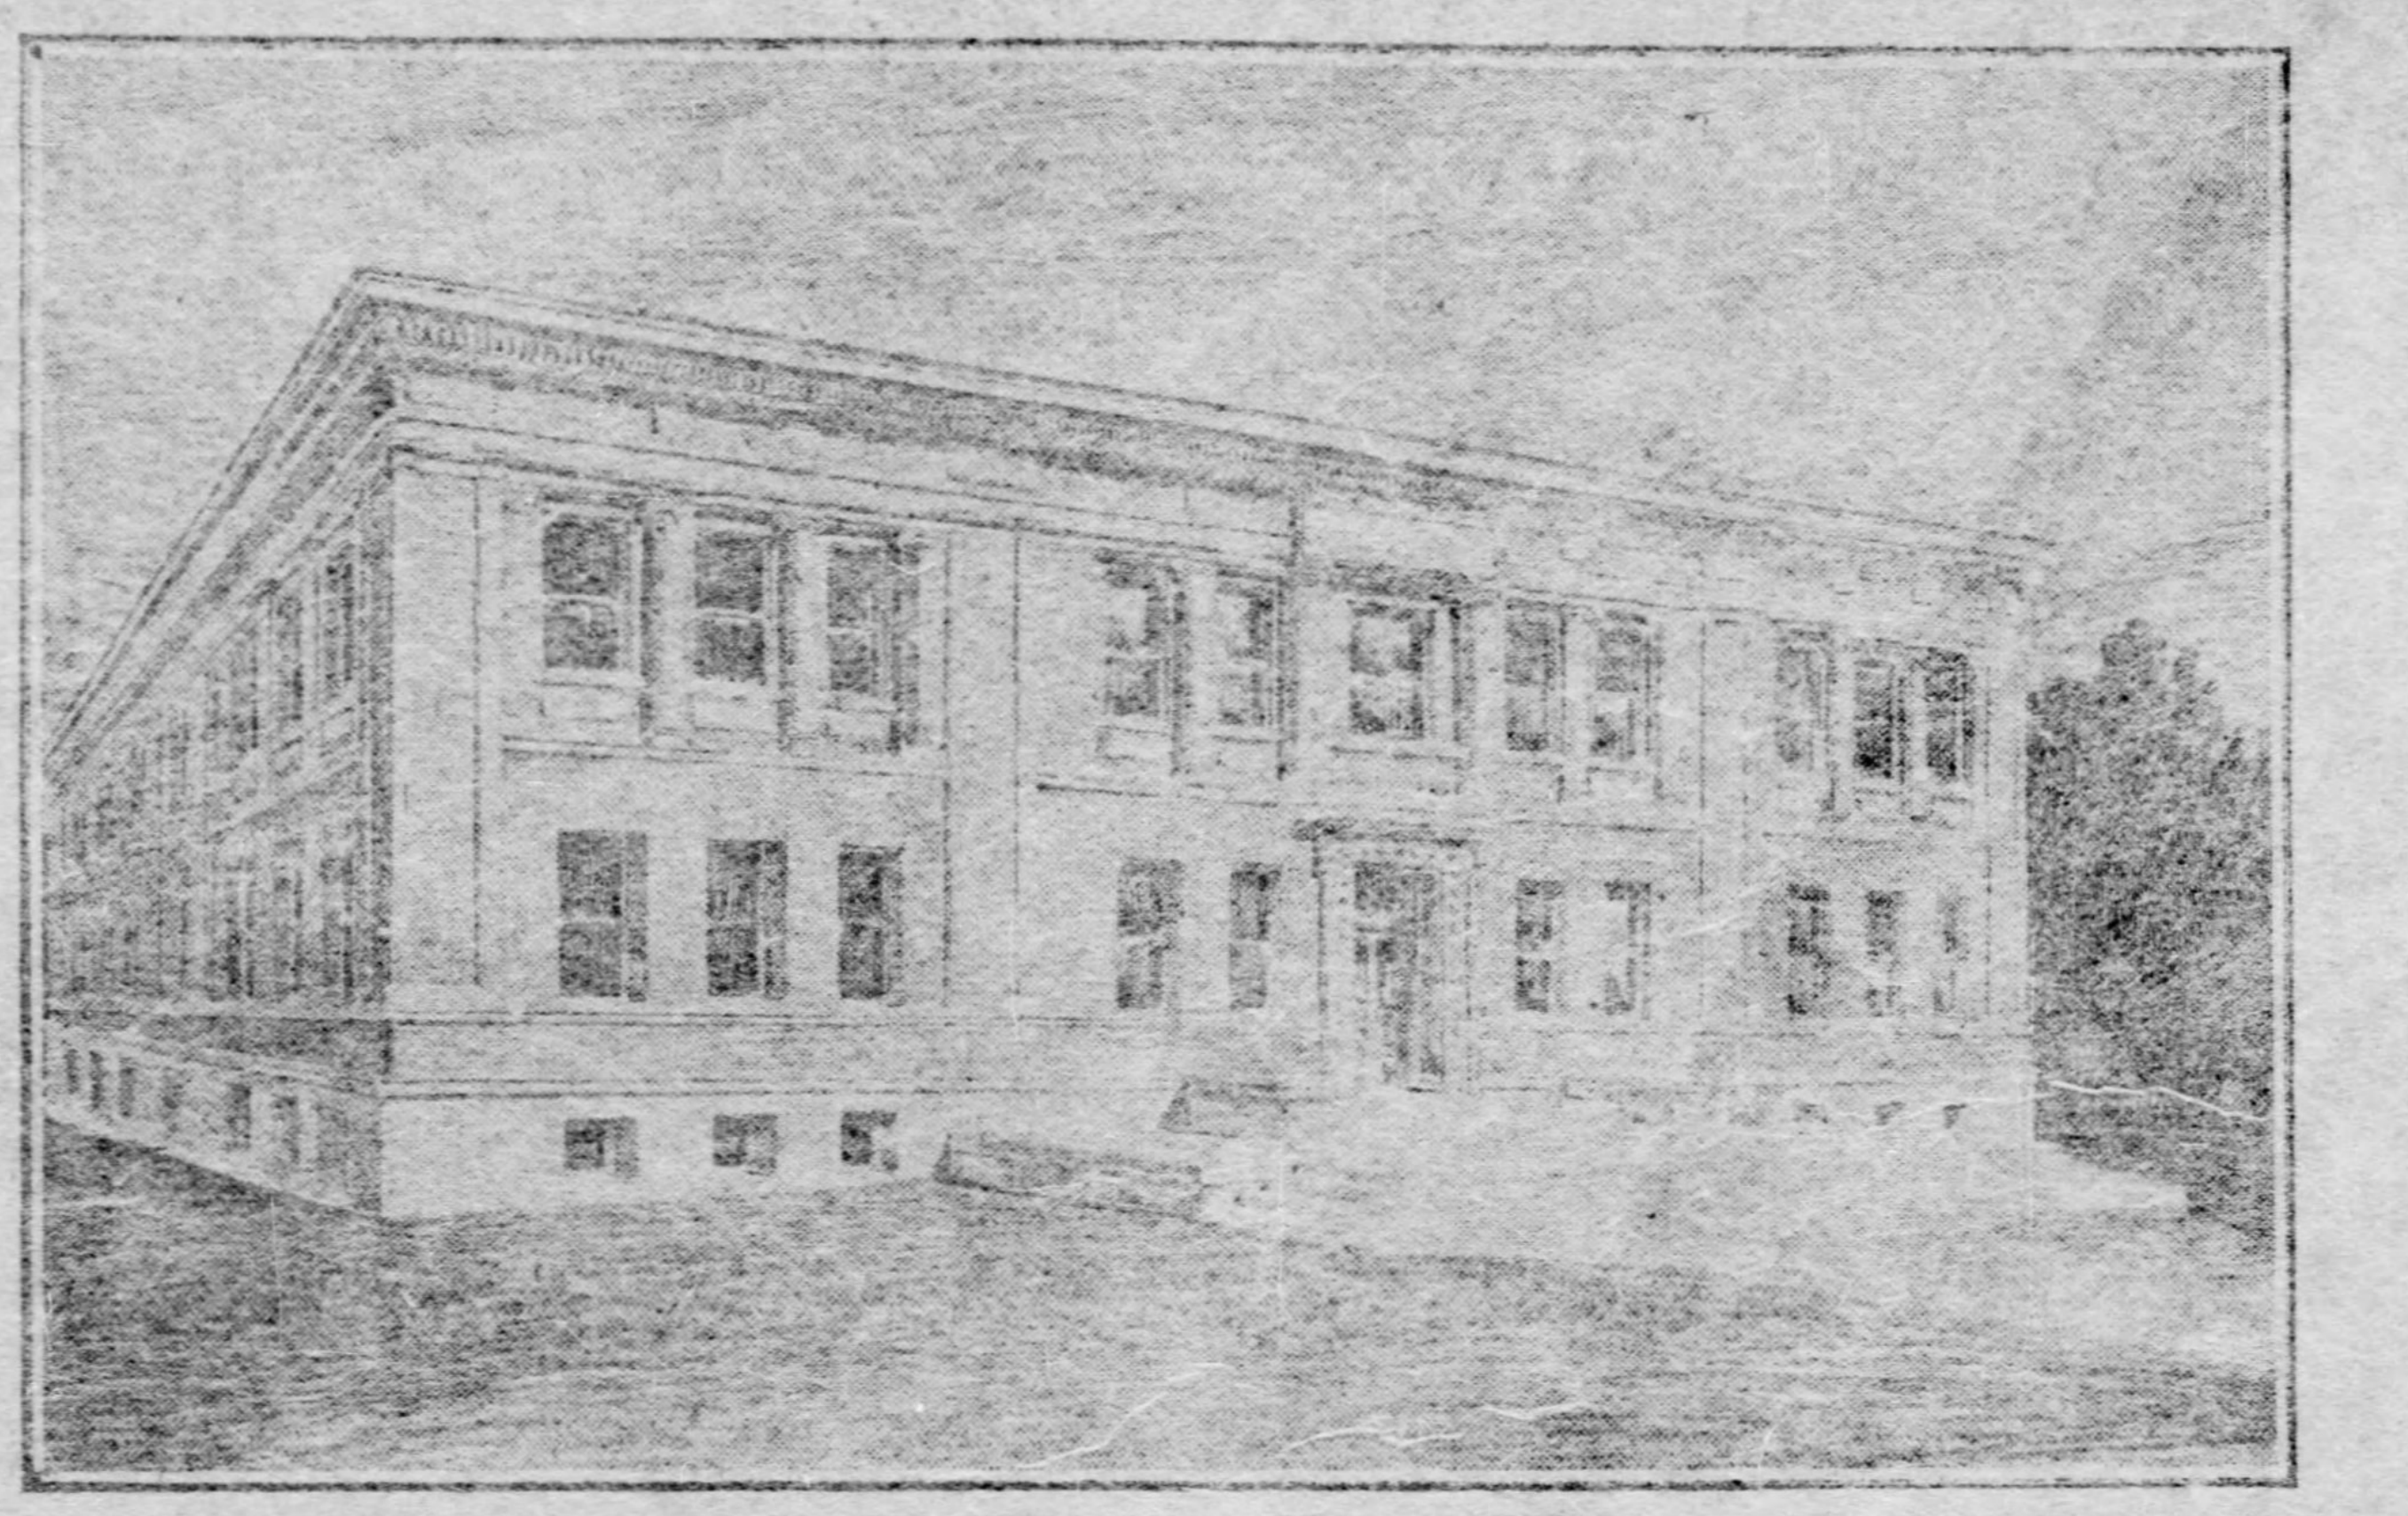
TANGIER, July 11.—According to news from the interior, the bandit Raisuli and his tribe made a raid on Ghard and after two days' fighting Raisuli was victorious. The tribe looted many cattle.

Owing to threats sent by Raisuli and the neighboring tribes to Mohammed El Torres, the foreign minister, work on the new custom house in course of erection here has been discontinued. The tribes said they would raid Tangier should the work continue.

Flood Subsides.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—With the exception of a part of Kansas avenue, in the lower part of Armourdale, the flood water in the Kansas City (Kan.) suburbs has practically disappeared. It will be several days, however, before some of the streets in the lower portion of Armourdale are dry.

NEW SCHOOL PLANNED FOR BELLEVUE



Bellevue's population has again overrun her present school facilities, and on Saturday night the board of education decided to build a $50,000 school house in the First ward. The site has a frontage of 150 feet in Grant and Bryant avenue and 250 feet along Jefferson street. Architect William J. Shaw was selected to design the building, which will be finished by September 1, 1905. It will contain 11 school rooms with all the modern applicances, and will be built of Indiana limestone, mottled pressed brick and white terra cotta. Last year the same architect built the Third ward school house in Bellevue, costing $50,000, at Jackson street and Orchard avenue. There is a strong feeling among the First ward residents that another lot, 50x250 feet, should be purchased to make a larger school ground. In addition to the Bellevue school houses Mr. Shaw designed the public school buildings at Avalon, Swissvale, Warren and Coudersport, and is now building the Jane Leonard and the Thomas Sutton memorial halls at Indiana, and will erect the new Beltzhoover school house.

WOMAN AND HER BABY FOUND DEAD IN WELL

Two Hundred Men With Bloodhounds Are Seeking Murderers in Indiana.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11.—One of the most mysterious crimes that ever took place in Indiana, and which has resulted in the death of a young mother and her three-months-old baby, is causing intense excitment in Henry county.

After supper Sunday evening William Starbuck, a prosperous farmer near the village of Greensboro, drove into the town. It was after 9 o'clock when he reached his house. He was startled by the screams of a woman, and he recognized the voice as that of his wife, who seemed to be in agony. He followed the sound, which led him to an abandoned well. He found his wife there, bruised and bleeding and a nervous wreck. The injured woman was lifted from the well and carried to the house.

Neighbors were summoned and the absence of the baby was noted. The well was dragged and the body of the infant was lifted to the surface. An examination disclosed no water in its lungs, and the theory is advanced that the child was smothered in its mother's arms while she was defending herself from attack, and that both woman and child were then thrown into the well by the assailant.

Half an hour before her death a physician attempted to get a statement. She said that her assailants entered by a window. Nothing in the house was disturbed, and the only theory that can be advanced is that of an assault.

A tramp was arrested, but he established the fact that he was many miles away on Sunday. A trail a half-mile from the house was struck and is now being followed by more than 200 persons, led by bloodhounds.

Dede-Agach is the capital of the province of the same name in European Turkey and is the terminus of a branch of the Belgrade-Constantinople railway.

Chaplain Talked to Boys Brigade.

The Rev. C. L. Thurgood, chaplain of the Third Pennsylvania regiment of the United Boys' Brigade of America, delivered last night the annual lecture, a monthly feature of the regimental gatherings, at 126 Dithridge street, the temporary headquarters. Mr. Thurgood's subject was "The Land of Topsy Turvey." He described a journey from Pittsburgh to San Francisco and a voyage to Honolulu and Australia, a trip from which he returned some months ago. The next lecture will be entitled "Sparks from Campfires," and will consist of talks by officers of the regiment.

TELEGRAM OF KAISER STRICTLY UNOFFICIAL

Berlin Papers See No Impropriety in Emperor Sending Russians Message.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, July 11.—The semi-official newspapers deny that any political character attaches to the telegram sent by Emperor William to the colonel of the Wiborg (Finland) regiment, of which the emperor is honorary colonel-in-chief, congratulating the regiment on the prospect of meeting the Japanese, adding that he was proud it would have the honor of fighting for its emperor, the fatherland and the fame of the Russian army, and expressing his sincere wishes for the regiment, with a prayer that God might bless its standards.

The papers recall a similar message sent by the emperor to a regiment of British dragoons, of which he was honorary colonel, before its departure for South Africa during the Boer war, and point to the fact that his majesty, at the spring parade at Potsdam, expressed to the Japanese military attache his admiration for the bravery of the Japanese troops.

They say that the message was purely a courtly and military one, from a soldier's point of view that the greatest honor a regiment can have is to be sent to the front. The concluding prayer was merely for the welfare of the Wiborg soldiers and the expression of sincere wishes was only a desire that they should add to their laurels as a regiment.

The deduction from the message by a section of the St. Petersburg public these papers say, that the emperor's telegram presages a German alliance, cannot be shared by the Russian government, which well knows that this would be no advantage, since Russia has more troops than she can forward to, or employ, at the seat of war, and they point out that a breach of neutrality on the part of Germany would give the signal for a universal war.

The opposition papers content themselves by saying that the zeal of the semi-official press doubtless is due to the impression created by the telegram declaring that Russian mourning would be German mourning.

AN AMATEUR CYCLONE.

One Man Killed by Lightning and Five Injured by Flying Debris in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—A terrific storm of wind, rain and hail prevailed in St. Louis and vicinity for a short time this afternoon, causing considerable damage to property. One man was killed by lightning and five others were injured by flying debris. The maximum reached by the wind was 60 miles an hour. The average velocity was about 48 miles an hour.

Twelve barges were blown across the river and 18 or 20 houses on Twenty-first street, between Washington and Carr streets, were completely unroofed.

PHILADELPHIA'S LOAN FOUR TIMES SUBSCRIBED

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—When bids were opened today by Mayor Weaver for the new city loan of $16,000,000 3½ per cent bonds, the largest in the history of the municipality, it was found that it had been oversubscribed more than four times. The highest bidder for the full amount was made by J. & M. Seligman & Co. of New York, which firm offered 101.036. Three offers were made for the entire amount. It is expected that the mayor will announce the successful bidder or bidders in a day or two.

Kerosene Claims Three Victims.

WALWORTH, WIS., July 11.—Three lives were lost today in a fire near this village. An endeavor to replenish a kitchen fire with kerosene started the blaze, burned to death a young woman who was at work over the stove and two children, together with the home of Chris Holtz, a farmer.

Dog Licenses Recognized.

Edgewood council last night decided to recognize dog licenses issued in Pittsburgh. The bill of the Pennsylvania Water Company for $300 rent for fire hydrants for the first quarter of this year was ordered paid, but, as the borough had been without a water supply for four days, a protest will be made.

Hair - Vain?

Why not? A little vanity is a good thing. Perhaps you can't be hair-vain, your hair is so thin, so short, so gray. Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over 40 years. I am now in my 91st year and have an abundance of soft brown hair, which I attribute to the use of your preparation."—Mrs. Mary A. Keith, Belleville, Ill.

PACKING HOUSE MEN TO GO ON STRIKE TODAY

Forty Thousand Union Employes in Chicago Promise to Quit Work.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 11.—Forty thousand union employes in the packing centers of the country will go on a strike at noon tomorrow as a result of the failure to secure a renewal of the wage agreement, which expired May 28. Both sides are ready for the contest and one of the most extensive and perhaps most bitterly fought labor struggles in years will be launched in nine cities at 12 o'clock tomorrow.

A referendum vote of the strike question was taken several weeks ago and the returns showed that the workmen are overwhelmingly in favor of quitting work rather than accept the offer made to them by the packers. At a meeting of the Chicago branch of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen of North America at Schumachers hall, No. 4650 Ashland avenue, this evening, it was unaimously decided to formally notify the employers tomorrow that unless the demands of the union are granted the men will go out at noon.

The packing houses involved in the strike include Nelson Morris & Co., Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Cudahy Packing Company and the National Packing Company. The National Packing Company controls the Hammond, Continental, Anglo-American and Omaha Packing companies. They want their employes to work without agreements. The packers offered to pay a cent less than demanded for unskilled laborers, but refused to make any change in working conditions.

MYSTERY SHROUDS WOMAN'S SUICIDE

Former Belle of Norfolk, Va., Is Found Dead in Hotel in St. Louis.

SHE USED AN ASSUMED NAME

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The body of a fashionably dressed woman was found in a room of the Hotel Milton today, where she registered, July 7, as "Mrs. M. Smith of New York." Two empty bottles were found by the side of the bed. One had contained some drug that has not yet been identified, and the other alcohol.

From statements made by the Rev. Allen K. Smith, rector of Christ's church cathedral, in whom the woman is said to have confided to some extent, her correct name is Mrs. M. K. Dantes of either New York or Washington.

Upon a promise of secrecy, the woman told the Rev. Mr. Smith that her mother's name is Mrs. Martha Wiggins, and that she lives at 111 K street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

When pressed by Mr. Smith for her reasons for using an assumed name, Mrs. Smith, or Dantes, refused to give any, remarking that she had personal reasons for not wishing to be known by her correct name.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Inquiry at 111 K street, where Mrs. Martha Wiggins, the mother of Mrs. M. K. Dantes is said to have lived, disclosed the fact that Mrs. Wiggins and a daughter, Miss Kitty Wiggins, lived in the house for several years. They left here a year ago and went to Kent, a suburb of Norfolk.

NORFOLK, VA., July 11.—Mrs. M. K. Dantes, who committed suicide in St. Louis, left here recently for St. Louis where it was understood she was to be married. She was a sister-in-law of E. C. Hathaway, vice president and general manager of the Norfolk Railway & Light Company, at whose home her mother, Mrs. Wiggins, lives. Mrs. Wiggins is 55 years old and it is feared that the news of the violent death of her daughter will result fatally.

The family here are very reticent in regard to the movements of Mrs. Dantes. The only information obtainable from her brother-in-law was that he had furnished money for her trousseau and the trip to St. Louis.

Asked whether his sister-in-law had been married, Mr. Hathaway said he did not know, but presumed she had. Miss Wiggins, as she was known here before she is said to have been married, was quite popular in society, and was a belle during the past season.

MUST SHOW GOOD RECORD TO GET INTO VENEZUELA

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—E. H. Plumacher, the American consul at Maracaibo, Venezuela, reports to the state department that hereafter foreigners who "come to the republic and want to be admitted into its territory are obliged to present to the highest civil authority of the place where they arrive the documents identifying their personality and attesting good conduct, signed and legalized by authorities of the last place from which them come." Mr. Plumacher says that American dentists who went there without an examination before the board of dentists at Caracas, were the first to suffer by this law.

STOLEN WATCH FOUND IN STOMACH OF FISH

MORRISTOWN, N. J., July 11.—(Special.)—A most remarkable restoration of a watch to its rightful owner was made here today by Mrs. John Biddle. While fishing in Budds lake, Mrs. Biddle caught a 12-pound pickerel, and in the stomach of the fish the watch was found. The Biddle house at Mine Hill was robbed three years ago and all the jewelry carried off. When the burglar was caught he said he had rowed out into the middle of Budds lake and dumped the stuff overboard. Mrs. Biddle is now considering the advisability of fishing every day.

RAILROAD ADMITS ITS NEGLIGENCE

DEAD NOW NUMBER SIXTEEN

NEW YORK, July 11.—Sixteen persons were killed and about three score injured in the rear-end collision between trains on the Greenwood Lake division of the Erie railroad at Midvale, N. J., yesterday. The official list given out here shows that 14 adults and two children lost their lives. Many of the injured are seriously injured and some of them may die.

The dead are as follows: Henry Becker, Hoboken; Walter Hodgeweddel, a child, Jersey City; Henry Kanzer, New York; Owen Murphy, Jersey City; Henry Koch, Hoboken; William Kane, Hoboken; Mrs. Agnes Lenkohl, New York; Edward McDermott, Hoboken; Henry Otterstedt, Hoboken; William Renx, New York; Henry Rohfling, Hoboken; George Scheer, Hoboken; William Weidemeyer, Jr., Hoboken; William Windeknecht, Hoboken; Mrs. Susan Palmer, New York.

Mrs. William Wistow, whose name was in the list of the dead, has been found at her home, uninjured. The body which was identified as that of Mrs. Wistow is that of Mrs. Susan Palmer. Another body, supposed to be that of E. J. Kelley of Jersey City, was identified later today as that of Owen Murphy of Jersey City. Kelley is missing.

Coroner Blauvelt of Paterson, N. J., today impanelled a jury to hold an inquest on the accident, and adjourned the inquiry until later in the week.

Oscar Georgi, claims attorney for the Erie railroad, had a conference in Hoboken today with Louis Fricke, one of the leaders in the Plattdeutscher Verein, to which organization most of the dead men belonged. Mr. Fricke says the attorney admitted that the responsibility for the accident rested on the railroad company and that the company was willing to treat with the Verein as an organization in the settlement of claims for damages, provided the families of the deceased acquiesced.

The Erie will settle with the injured through the Verein, also, if desired, Mr. Fricke said.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11.—Sid B. Redding of Little Rock, treasurer of the National Republican league, was in the city today to engage headquarters for Arkansas and the southwest for the national convention of the league, which will take place in Indianapolis October 5 and 6. "Delegations from the southwest will be unusually large this year on account of the fact that Indianapolis is the home of Senator Fairbanks, the Republican nominee for vice president," said Mr. Redding.

HAS RELICS OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON, HIS GRANDFATHER

"Eck" Hamilton George of Cecil, Md., One of Nearest Living Descendants.

WAS A LINCOLN POSTMASTER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OXFORD, PA., July 11.—Alexander Hamilton George, grandson of Alexander Hamilton, the anniversary of whose death is tomorrow, whom Washington appointed secretary of the treasury, resides in Elk Neck, Cecil township, Md. He is postmaster and storekeeper, and is called "Eck" George by all who know him well. He was born in Philadelphia 72 years ago. He says his sister, Miss Louisa George, and himself are the nearest descendants now living of Alexander Hamilton, whom he calls "grandpa." Mr. George's mother, Margaret Hamilton, died at the age of 93 and is buried in Trinity graveyard, New York.

"Eck" was a little fellow when his parents removed to Poughkeepsie, N. Y. There he was educated, and some years afterwards joined the Twenty-third regiment in Philadelphia and went to war. He served in several engagements, came north, and later settled in Elk Neck, the land of his fathers, and opened a general country shop.

President Lincoln appointed him postmaster, and he has held the office since receiving that official notice. Elk Neck star route has not been sidetracked by rural free delivery. At no time is the mail bag to the Neck overweight and sometimes the mail from there consists of a postal card.

Mr. George possesses several relics once owned by his distinguished grandsire. One is the large open-face gold watch which Hamilton wore when secretary of the treasury. The gold key and two gold bands used with the timepiece are heavy and of curious pattern. The hands of the watch are of gold, also some of the wheels, a number large and made simply. From Hamilton's table Mr. George has two silver goblets, which the former had made from Spanish coin. The goblets are oddly carved. Striking one a silvery tone hung in the air for a time. They were part of the table appointments used on state occasions in Hamilton's home. The last thing shown was a locket, on which there is a painting of a boy—"Eck" George at 9 years. It was executed by Peale. The other side has a photograph of Mr. George as he appeared on returning from the war.

Mr. George is active for his years, and expects to pass the balance of his life at his Neck home. His wife passed away some years ago, and a dignified daughter cheers the westering of his days. His eye is quick, his voice soft, his atmosphere denoting a wellbred man, but the simplicity he exhibits in everything is part of himself.

One of his pastimes is to accompany his daughter to the top of the hill in front of their home and view the five rivers a few miles away. They are the Susquehanna, Elk, North East, Bohemia and Sassafras rivers, which lose their names in Chesapeake bay.

Past the George home a hilly road breaks the uninteresting landscape down to Turkey Point light house. In the dog days of 1777, as Lord Howe's army sailed up the Chesapeake, a portion landed at Turkey Point.

ELOPING PREACHER RETURNS TO HIS WIFE

Young Woman With Whom He Fled Is Also Restored to Her Parents.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 11.—Penitence and remorse led Miss Julia Bowne to return to her home at South River yesterday from her elopement with the Rev. J. F. Cordova, pastor of her church, who is now believed to be at Oceanic, N. J., with his wife at the home of her father, Charles Emory. The pastor wrote to his wife whom he deserted:

"Ever since I left you it has been a hell on earth. There are but three things for m to do. I will have to surrender myself up for judgment, shoot myself or get you to take me back. Which shall it be?"

Mrs. Cordova told a friend of this letter and declared she would take him back, and the plans which resulted in the return of Miss Bowne were then formed, her return being the only condition on which Mrs. Cordova would join her husband. It was today that all of the parties were reunited through Harry Dudley of Berkeley Place, Brooklyn, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Cordova. Cordova and Miss Bowne notified him they were at the St. Denis hotel and he visited the parents of Miss Bowne and Mrs. Cordova at South River, when all went to New York, the Bownes to get their daughter and Mrs. Cordova to meet her husband at the Dudley home.

The committee of inquiry of the Methodist church will hear testimony Thursday on the four charges against Cordova, and he has been notified to appear there. The question of expelling Miss Bowne from the church may also be taken up. Miss Bowne seems to be happy that she is home.

Many of the people of the city declare if Cordova returns here the least that will happen to him will be to be tarred and feathered and ridden on a rail.

HADLEY, MASS., July 11.—The Right Rev. Frederick D. Huntington, for 35 years Episcopal bishop of the central diocese of New York, died this afternoon in the room where he was born 85 years ago. The end was not unexpected, as he has been in failing health for several months. Father James O. S. Huntington, superior of the Order of the Holy Cross, stationed at the Episcopal monastery at West Park, N. H., was not able to reach here before death.

HANOVER, N. H., July 11.—Dr. George P. Huntington, professor of Hebrew at Dartmouth college, died tonight of slow fever. WEALTHY ITALIAN IS FATALLY SHOT

MOB ATTACKS HIS ASSAILANT

CHICAGO, July 11.—Shot down today by one of his own countrymen, who had crept up behind him, Andrew Cuneo, member of the firm of Cuneo Brothers, fruit dealers, Dearborn and South Water streets, one of the best-known fruit importers in the United States, and said to be the richest Italian in Chicago, is dying at Passavant hospital. His assailant, Anthony Crescio, narrowly escaped lynching by a mob that closed around him after the shooting.

In less than a minute after the shooting a rope had been procured by some one in the crowd with which to hang Crescio, but the police in response to a riot call, which had been sent in, appeared on the scene just in time to save Crescio's life. For a time the police were unable to take Crescio away from the mob, but after a hard fight, in which clubs were freely used, Crescio was hustled into a patrol wagon and landed in jail.

The shooting occurred in front of Cuneo's store, where Cuneo was busy receiving friut. Crescio crept up behind Cuneo, and drawing a revolver from his pocket, shot the merchant twice before any of the dozen bystanders could interfere. One bullet took effect in the left temple, while the second penetrated the head near the base of the brain.

Crescio, who is believed to be mentally unbalanced, was until this morning employed by his brother, John Crescio, who has a wholesale fruit store a few doors from the house of Cuneo Brothers. J. H. Crescio, another brother of Cuneo's assailant, married a sister of Cuneo and after living with her for a few years, is said to have deserted her. It is believed that this, together with the keen business rivalry between his brother and Cuneo Brothers, were sufficient causes in the man's disordered brain for him to attempt to take Cuneo's life.

WHOLE COUNTRY TO RATIFY.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Oliver W. Stewart, chairman of the national Prohibition committee, has issued a call to Prohibitionists everywhere to hold ratification meetings on Friday evening, July 22. On the afternoon of that day Dr. Silas C. Swallow will receive notification of his nomination for the presidency by the Prohibition party. The Hon. George W. Carroll will at the same time receive notification of his nomination for the vice presidency.

Odd Fellows' Home Completed.

The Odd Fellows' committee of 300, which has charge of the erection of "The Wayside Inn," the new home for aged members and their wives, at Grove City, Pa., have completed arrangements for the dedication of the new building on July 21. The gathering is expected to be the largest in the order's history, and each district will be provided with 19 coaches to carry members to the dedication. One hundred members of the Rebekah lodge, the women's auxiliary of the order, will leave on July 20 to provide for the entertainment of the members.

House Blown Up; Family Escapes.

IRONWOOD, MICH., July 11.—The residence of Earl Walton, superintendent of the Brotherton and Sunday Lake Mines at Wakefield, on the east end of the Gogebic range, was destroyed by dynamite early today. The family, asleep upstairs, escaped serious injury.

A strike occurred at the mines in January against a 10 per cent reduction in wages. The old employes found their places taken when the mines resumed shipping.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband should be a woman's constant study. If she would be all that she may, she must guard well against the signs of ill health. Mrs. Brown tells her story for the benefit of all wives and mothers.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was; and the wonderful results she had had from your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time, I was a different woman, the neighbors remarked it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that, and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman.—Sincerely yours, MRS. CHAS. F. BROWN, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., Vice President Mothers Club.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

PERMANENTLY RESTRAINS COUNCIL OF CARPENTERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUTLER, PA., July 11.—(Special.)—The temporary injunction granted last January against Carpenters local No. 209 and its members and Pittsburgh district council of Carpenters and Joiners' union, restraining them from interfering with the business of Samuel G. Purvis & Co., lumber dealers and manufacturers of this city, was today made permanent by Judge James Galbreath.

The court rules that the defendants have no right to try to force the complainant firm's employes to join the union or to force the complainants to employ none but union men and the efforts to boycott the complainants' mill were unlawful. Exceptions were filed by the counsel for the union. The bills, so far as they concerned the Bricklayers' union and L. C. Wick, were dismissed. No decision has been filed in the equity suit of the Butler Builders Supply Company against the carpenters' union.

They went to Masontown Saturday and started for home together. Negly was intoxicated and Balob was sober. Balob arrived home about 11 o'clock, but said nothing about Negly. Early yesterday morning Thomas Hoover and others found Negly lying on his face by the roadside. He was conscious, and said he had sat down to rest when some one shot him. Balob was brought to jail this morning. The revolver with which the shooting was done was found a short distance from where Negly lay and has been identified as belonging to Balob. Three chambers were empty.

CONVENTION IS HELD BY ANTHRACITE MINERS

President Nicholls Suggests System of Insurance—Financial Condition Is Good.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, July 11.—The sixth annual convention of the First district United Mine Workers of America, met in Pittston today. Two hundred delegates were in attendance and the convention will remain in session for several days.

President Nicholls read his report for the year. In it he recommends that an insurance plan be adopted among the members of the union. In outlining his plan he recommends that 50 cents a month be collected from each miner in the district. The payment of this amount will entitle each miner or laborer to $500 if killed or fatally injured in or about the mines. He also recommends that an organization committee be appointed in each local to keep up the membership. He read a letter from the Scranton Coal Company concerning the payment of weighmen and check docking bosses, in which the company agrees to concede the demands made by the miners which were that the companies collect the wages of these men from the wages of the miners upon the demand of the majority of the miners from any colliery. Umpire Wright and the conciliation board decided this in favor of the miners some time ago, but some of the coal companies refused to live up to the decision.

Secretary-Treasurer John Dempsey presented his yearly report, stating that, although the financial condition of the organization is better than it was a year ago, he regretted to report a decrease in the paid-up memberships. Two new locals were added and five locals were disbanded or affiliated with other locals during the year, making a total of 166 locals in the district. The district treasury was in debt, June 30, 1903, $110.51, though at the close of the present year, June 30, 1904, after paying expenses, there is left in the treasury from all sources of collection, $20,049.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUTLER, PA., July 11.—Lightning struck a horse stable in which six carpenters had taken refuge at the Parkers Landing fair grounds Saturday. All were knocked down, and Arthur Foster was killed. The men had been putting a new shingle roof on a pavilion when the storm came up. Foster was a son of John Alexander Foster, who recently moved from Chicora to Parker, and was 21 years old. He was a member of the Chicora Lutheran church.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 11.—During a thunderstorm last night lightning struck the home of L. G. McElhaney, at Meadow Lands. The clothing was torn from one member of the family, who suffered no more serious injury than a severe shock. A loaded gun standing in a corner was discharged, the load barely missing Mr. McElhaney's head.

FRANKLIN, PA., July 11.—Lightning cut strange capers at the home of W. H. Young in Rockland township, this afternoon. A bolt entered the kitchen where Mr. Young was seated in a chair. After bursting open the cupboard door and scattering the dishes over the floor it demolished a table and two vacant chairs. The lightning then passed through the door and wrecked the porch. Mr. Young was uninjured, although he sat near the door where the lightning made its exit, and, unassisted, extinguished the flames.

Torrents of water poured down upon the town from the hillsides and flooded cellars and ruined gardens. The steeple of a schoolhouse was struck by lightning. Both the steeple and the roof were damaged.

YOUTH DIES OF ACCIDENTAL SHOT

EXONERATED BY YOUNG MAN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 11.—Fred S. Carpenter, general passenger and freight agent of the Pennsylvania & Mahoning Valley Electric Railway Company, died at 4:30 o'clock this morning, at the Shenango Valley hospital here, from the accidental revolver wound inflicted Saturday afternoon by James S. Taylor, treasurer of the New Castle Savings and Trust Company. The latter, who was connected with the N. Holmes & Sons' bank of Pittsburgh before coming here last year to manage the New Castle Trust Company, is prostrated over the affair. His wife is absent in Europe and today relatives from Pittsburgh arrived to remain with him. He is unable to attend to business and yesterday friends forced him to take a round trip to Erie, to get his mind off the shooting. He is yet unable to tell a connected story of the accident.

Fred S. Carpenter.

Others who witnessed it say that Carpenter asked to examine the revolver, but was at first refused. He insisted and finally Taylor agreed, as the men were bosom friends. Before handing out the weapon Taylor extracted the cartridges, but one remained of which neither man knew. It was this that exploded as Carpenter handed the gun back through the bank window. The injured man was thought yesterday to be doing well, but at midnight his heart weakened and he died after great suffering.

He was 20 years of age June 12 and was graduated from the New Castle High school in 1902. He was the first member of the New Castle Press club to die. He was employed two years on local papers and as a correspondent for city dailies until he became passenger and freight agent for the interurban line systems of this city and Youngstown. He is survived by his father, James A. Carpenter, two half-brothers, and his aunt, Mrs. Eva M. Peller. After the accident Carpenter told several people that Taylor was not in any way to blame.

TO PUT THE COLLECTOR ON A YEARLY SALARY

Allegheny Finance Committee Considers Measure on Delinquent Taxes.

At a meeting of the finance committee of Allegheny councils last evening a measure was considered for the repeal of the ordinance covering the office of delinquent tax collector. It proposes to eliminate the commission of the collector, to fix his salary at $4,000 a year without excess fees and to apply the 5 per cent commission to the city's use, the latter amount being collected as penalty on overdue accounts. The matter was introduced by Common Councilman R. F. Henderson and was referred to a special committee. Solicitor Stephen G. Porter gave an impromptu opinion that the measure is legal, though he will consider the matter at length later. The question will not come up before September 1, until which time the solicitor will be absent on a vacation.

A measure exonerating the Pittsburgh Union Stock Yards Company from $3,289.29 paid for water tax was reported negatively. The water was utilized in 1902 and 1903 in extinguishing fires in a fill at Herrs island. The bill was paid at that time, but the company now wants a rebate for the amount, claiming the city owed for fire protection. Those opposing the measure maintained that the blaze was not of an ordinary kind and was due to the condition of the fill.

A resolution was introduced fixing the salaries of employes of the bureau of water, and this was also negatived. The reason given was that the present ordinance gives the director the power to promote two oilers to the position of assistant engineers. Men at the River avenue station are being paid oilers wages and are doing the work of engineers. Measures were ordered printed for payments of the salaries of Librarian Eggers and Organist Koch from April 1 to the close of the fiscal quarter.

FIFTY BALLOTS FAIL TO BREAK DEADLOCK

Neighbors Are Rival Candidates for Principal of Fifteenth Ward School.

A deadlock exists over the principalship of the Lawrence sub-district, Fifteenth ward, and 50 ballots at the meeting of the school board last night did not break it. The school board is divided equally for and against the present principal, T. D. McAulis, who is a candidate for re-election. Last night W. P. Stewart, superintendent of the Verona schools, was nominated against McAulis and each man received three votes.

C. T. Bundy, William K. Hart and D. C. McDowell voted against McAulis. Lorenz Hoffman, Jacob Hartman and J. L. Treker voted for Stewart. McAulis and Stewart are neighbors in Verona. An effort to elect a secretary also failed. J. L. Treker and William K. Hart are candidates and several ballots were taken without result.

At the June meeting Treker was appointed temporarily to relieve Hart and likes the job so well that he wants to keep it. There are four vacancies among the teachers and their places will not be filled until next month. Emil Roth was re-elected instructor of physical culture.

MERGER AGREED ON FOR LEAD COMPANIONS

National and United Concerns Have Arrived at a Plan for Consolidation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—From statements today in official quarters the protracted negotiations for a merger of the National Lead and the United Lead Companies have been concluded successfully. According to these authoritative statements Daniel Guggenheim, representing the United Lead Company, and L. A. Cole, president of the National Lead Company, have reached an agreement on which the absorption will be carried into effect. It is understood that the dominant interests in both properties have signified their approval of the preliminary agreement.

It is stated that the financial plan will not be announced until the latter part of September. So far as could be learned the scheme provides for an increase in the capital stock of the National Lead Company for the purpose of absorption. The present total capital of the National Lead Company is $30,000,000. The United Lead Company has not distributed any stock, although its capital is $15,000,000, with a bond issue of $9,000,000.

ALEXANDER DODDS.

DRIVER PREVENTS DISASTER.

Sprang on His Team as They Started Across Tracks With 1,200 Pounds of Dynamite.

The presence of mind of William Zimmerman, driver for the Arthur Kirk & Son powder works of Sharpsburg, prevented the explosion of 1,200 pounds of dynamite near the Sharpsburg station of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad yesterday. Zimmerman halted the team by the side of the tracks near the station.

While a shifting engine was passing one of the horses shied, was struck by the engine and knocked down. Regaining its feet the horse started to pull the wagon across the tracks directly in front of the engine. Zimmerman sprang on the back of his team and pulling on their bits succeeded in stopping them and backing the wagon off the track before the engine reached it. The incident caused a panic among the passengers at the depot.

Chinaman Loses Gold Teeth and Mushrooms.

Charging him with stealing his gold teeth and $1.50 worth of mushrooms, Joe Bing, a Chinese laundryman of 306 Grant street, made an information yesterday before Alderman Groetzinger against Charles Pender of Grant street. It is alleged that Pender crawled through the laundryman's window on the evening of July 1 and appropriated the grinders while he was sprinkling a mouthful of water on some shirts and that two choice bottles of mushrooms went out of the window at the same time Pender did. Pender declares he has already been discharged twice on the same charge and gave bail for a hearing today.

PARKER TO MAKE HIS OWN CHOICE

NORMAN E. MACK EXPLAINS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—National Democratic Committeeman Norman E. Mack of New York tonight sent the following message to William F. Sheehan at New York, making clear the exact status of the new national committee, and when it will hold its first regular meeting, in order to dispel all rumors that have arisen regarding the organization of the new committee:

Senator James K. Jones will, under the instructions given him by the resolution passed by the convention Saturday night, call a meeting of the national committee as soon as he confers with Judge Alton B. Parker, the nominee of the party for president, and his friends, and learns from them the date fixed for notifying the nominees of their selection by the convention.

He will then call a meeting of the national committee to be held in New York city, it being Judge Parker's wish to meet as many as possible of the national committeemen in attendance upon the meeting.

It is for this purpose that Chairman Jones will first consult with Judge Parker in order to make the dates of the notification and the national committee meeting coincide, and thus afford the candidate an opportunity to meet the men who will lead his campaign in the various states.

At this meeting the national committee will elect a chairman, secretary, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms. The committee will then take up such other matters as may properly come before it at that time. The national committee will, of course, consult Judge Parker and his friends before organizing.

So many garbled reports have been sent out that I deem it necessary to make this statement, as made to me by Chairman James K. Jones, who has been chairman of the national committee for eight years.

ATLANTA, GA., July 11.—Clark Howell, national Democratic committeeman from Georgia, spoke this evening of the St. Louis meeting of the committee after the adjournment of the convention, as follows:

In the matter of the selection of the chairman of the National Democratic committee there shall be no room for apprehension that the choice will not only be satisfactory to Judge Parker, the party's nominee, but more than that, the committee will be guided in its action by Judge Parker's expression on the subject.

This is the first time in many years—perhaps ever, that the chairman of the national committee has not been chosen at the meeting of the committee immediately after the adjournment of the national convention. It has been the uniform custom that the new committee organize immediately after the adjournment of the convention for the choice of a chairman who has always been named in accordance with the desire of the presidential nominee. Until the St. Louis convention adjourned it was assumed that Thomas Taggart of Indiana was the choice of Judge Parker, and the fact that a majority of the executive committee favored him grew out of that current understanding.

If it should develop that Judge Parker does not wish Mr. Taggart, but prefers some one else, it goes without saying that the committee will be guided accordingly at the meeting to be held at a later date in New York.

Reception for Bryan Is Planned.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Brooklyn at St. Louis.

The Pirates won yesterday's game from Boston, 10 to 4, but the cost of the victory was such as brought sorrow into the camp of the players, as well as the spectators. Catcher Phelps was hit on the head with a pitched ball and was carried from the field in an unconscious condition.

The accident happened while Phelps was at the bat in the third inning. Pittinger was pitching and the call at the time was one strike and three balls. The next pitch sent in was an inshoot, and the batter had no time to get out of the way. The ball struck Phelps on the left forehead near the temple and he dropped. Dr. Berg, the club physician, finding the player unconscious, had him carried to the club house where, after a half hour's work, he was restored to consciousness and was removed to his home. The physician stated that while the blow was a severe one and the player will be laid up for a week or more, there was no fear of fatal results.

The afternoon was not an ideal one for baseball by any means, as the dark, lowering clouds threatened a downpour at any moment and the playing field during the early and closing innings was so dark that the players could hardly be seen by the spectators, and how they managed to keep the ball in sight was a mystery. From the fourth to the seventh innings, old Sol peeped out long enough to let the 2,500 spectators know that he was still doing business at the old stand. The dark afternoon was just suited for a speedy pitcher and for that reason the call to duty was tendered Sam Leever.

The curves served up by Samuel were very much to the liking of the Boston batsmen, who tore off 12 hits during the nine innings, and it required the fastest kind of fielding to keep these hits from developing into an equal number of runs. Leever did not display any speed to speak of and relied mainly on his curves, which were bumped good and hard to all parts of the field. The schoolmaster also developed streaks of wildness which proved costly, as three of Boston's four runs were forced in by Leever. These wild streaks happened in the fifth and eighth innings, when Sammy lost the location of the home plate and gave four bases on balls. In the eighth inning Manager Clarke sent another pitcher out to warm up, but Leever steadied down and finished the game in good style.

Pittinger, who is one of Boston's best pitchers, was given a severe bumping by the Pirates and these hits, helped along by a number of costly errors, produced the 10 runs scored. The visitors' infield was wobbly, particularly Abbaticchio at short, who piled up many errors. In the eighth when Leever developed his wild streak, Manager Buckenberger lifted Pittinger out of the game in order to send in a strong batter, there being runners on all the bases, but the change was not successful. Fisher pitched the final inning for Boston and his delivery was just what the Pirates wanted and a succession of hits produced three runs.

Wagner scored the Pirates' first run in the second inning by a daring display of base-running. He reached first on a fumble, went to second when Raymer dropped Needham's throw and scored on Sebring's out at first, Tenney's throw to catch him at the plate being wild. In the second Phelps and Leever singled in succession and Phelps was forced in with a run when Pittinger gave bases on balls to Leach and Beaumont. Errors by Abbaticchio and Delehanty and a three-bagger by Wagner scored two runs in the fifth. Ritchey opened the sixth with a single, was sacrificed to second and scored on a fine single by Leever. A dropped fly by Geier, a base on balls to Wagner, a sacrifice by Bransfield and a single by Sebring netted two runs in the seventh and a single by Leever, a two-bagger by Leach and singles by Clark and Wagner produced the last three tallies in the eighth.

Delehanty scored Boston's first run in the fourth when he singled, stole second and scored on Reymer's single to left. In the fifth Carney and Needham singled in succession and Leever followed with bases on balls to Tenney and Abbaticchio, forcing Carney in with a run. In the eighth the schoolmaster again grew wild and forced two more runs in which wound up the Boston tallies. The score:

THE PIRATES SECURE ANOTHER NEW PITCHER

Latest Addition Is Twirler Case of Springfield Club—Camnitz and Cash Given in Exchange.

The Pittsburgh club last night purchased the release of Pitcher Case of the Springfield (Ill.) club in the Three I league. Case will report here this week and will be tried out in one of the games with Philadelphia.

Case was signed upon the recommendation of Manager Fred Clarke, who read a letter that President Dreyfuss received from a veteran player recommending him. When the Pirates went to Youngstown last month Clarke hustled out to Decatur, Ill., and watched Case win a championship game. He was much impressed with his pitching, and at once entered into negotiations for his release. The Minneapolis club had some claim to the player, and Springfield did not want to part with him during the season, but President Dreyfuss is out to strengthen the pitching department of his club at any cost, and he wired last night agreeing to give Camnitz and giving Minneapolis its own price for the privilege of doing business with Springfield. Manager Donnelly of Springfield notified Clarke later that he would send Case on at once. Camnitz left at 8:30 for Springfield.

Clarke is working to get his pitchers ready for the important New York series. The first game will be played here next Saturday. The chances are that Phillippe will not be able to work then, so Clarke hopes to have either Lynch or Flaherty pitch the opening game. Lynch may work today. He tried his arm yesterday. It is sore, but he managed to control the ball.

Phelps, who had to be taken home in a carriage last night, will be out of the game for two or three days. Dr. Berg says he must be kept very quiet.

CANADIANS IN LEAD.

Americans, However, Get 132 Runs for Loss of Three Wickets.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 11.—The thirty-sixth annual international cricket match between Canada and the United States, the latter represented by players picked from the various Philadelphia cricket clubs, was begun today on the grounds of the Merion Cricket club at Haverford.

The Canadians scored 182 runs in their first innings, and when stumps were drawn for the night the Americans had accumulated 132 runs for the loss of three wickets. For the visitors T. C. S. Saunders and Captain Symons made 61 and 51 runs respectively. J. B. King, for the Americans, had a fine inning of 49.

TWO WOMEN SHOOTERS.

They Are Taking Part in the Tournament at Bisley.

BISLEY, ENGLAND, July 11.—The annual meeting of the National Rifle association opened here today with every promise of success. The competitions, which are spread over a fortnight, has attracted very large entries, including two women members of clubs. The prize list aggregates $50,000. The earlier competitions were unimportant.

The council of the National Rifle association meets tomorrow to decide on the disposal of the Palma trophy. It is thought that it probably will be handed over to the custody of the Canadians, who won it in 1902.

P. A. C. and Scholastics.

There will be fun galore this evening at Friendship Park. Lew Wentz will turn loose his P. A. C. team on the Interscholastics, and the hottest affair of the season for the park promises to be enacted. The school boys have beaten clubs that P. A. C. failed to win from, and for some time there has been much jesting as to the relative strength of the teams. Wentz will send Bill Rankin to the firing line, while he will be opposed by either Don Doyle or Frank Eastley. Wallace Portser of Greensburg will not be in harness for the Scholastics this evening, but Tom Murray of Pittsburgh college will be on the receiving end.

BREESE'S GREAT FEAT.

MOUNT PLEASANT HOUSE, BRETTON-WOODS, N. H., July 11.—(Special.)—Steam knocked out gasoline in the first day's climb to the summit of Mount Washington and F. E. Stanley, the twin brother of the designer, piloted the light six-horse power runabout in its record-breaking 31:41 2-5 scurry up the eight-mile road to the clouds. James L. Breese of the Automobile Club of America, just previous to the arrival of Stanley by a trip in 34:09 4-5 in his 40-horse power Mercedes, had erased the accomplishment of his predecessor.

The one from whom Breese snatched the laurels was A. E. Morrison. Morrison gained his temporary possession of the honor from Percy Perry, who made the journey in a 24-horse power Pierce in 44:31 4-5. Pierce took the record figures from H. Ernest Rogers, a Brooklyn (Mass.) enthusiast, whose companion was Dan A. Esles, Jr. Rogers was timed in 46.07 2-5.

L. J. Phelps, the holder of the 1903 record, began the climbing promptly at 5 o'clock this morning. Phelps did the trip in 56:15 2-5 in a 24-horse power machine of his own construction. The only other climber besides the five record holders to get within the hour was Harry Fosdick, who guided a 20-horse power Winton to the top in 50 minutes, having been allowed four minutes for a block in the road, caused by a disabled machine. Alexander Winton tried out in full touring, and his new four cylinder did the climb in 1 hour and 33 minutes, and expressed himself as satisfied with its first performance. The list, besides those previously mentioned, includes the following: Benjamin Smith, seven-horse power Oldsmobile, 1:06:46 4-5; A. L. Prescott, seven-horse power Prescott, 1:08:34 1-5; G. J. Peacock, seven-horse power Stanley, 1:10:29 2-5; H. W. Alden Smith, four-horse power Oldsmobile, mbmhmh 20-horse power Electric, 1:15:21 4-5; Benjamin Smith, four-horse power Oldsmobile, 1:25:14 1-5; Frank Nutt, 12-horse power Haynes, 1:32:25 2-5; W. B. Jameson, six-horse power Waltham, 2:00:38 3-5; E. S. Cameron, six-horse power Cameron, 2:07:08 3-5. The class winners were Stanley, Breese, Morrison and Smith.

MAN RECOVERS FROM PECULIAR AFFLICTION

Patient in Baltimore Hospital Was Unable to Control Laughter or Tears.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, July 11.—A man afflicted with a nervous disease that destroyed his control of laughter or tears, the first case of its kind in the world to be cured, was announced today by Drs. George L. Preston and Leonard K. Hirschberg, of the staff of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He had difficulty expressing himself. His memory was bad and he had much difficulty in swallowing and breathing regularly. He suffered no pain, slept well at night and had a good appetite. The man is white, 38 years old and a clerk by occupation.

His parents are dead from causes unknown. There were no nervous diseases, tuberculosis, alcohol or cancer in his family so far as he knew. His illness began with a apoplectic stroke one year before entering the hospital. There was no loss of consciousness. His arm and leg were paralyzed from which he partially recovered. A month before entering the hospital he had a second apoplectic attack with loss of consciousness. After this latter attack he had been unable to walk well or use his arms successfully or speak in his proper tone of voice. The case was one of bulbar paralysis and although a recognized malady is the first found in the United States. The patient was treated internally with mercury for a complication of skin disease and externally with electricity for over a year. He has been dismissed from the hospital in good health.

IS TOO BUSY PAINTING TO HARVEST MUCH HAIR

Tonsorial Artist Seeks Opening at Esopus, Where Barbering Is Now Side Line.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 11.—A barber from New York was in town today prospecting for a spot where he could set up a shop.

Up to the present time the only barber in or about Esopus is a painter, who shaves beards twice a week and cuts hair every two months in a little back room of the now famous Quinn Inn. But the painter is at leisure only at noon and before 6 o'clock in the morning. So many men who wish to be shaved oftener have arrived in town that outside talent is expected to cut down the painter-barber's trade.

The barber who came today strolled up to Rosemont behind the reporters bound for their afternoon call at the home of the Democratic presidential candidate. Judge Parker did not know who he was, and supposed he must be still another newspaper man.

He laughed when he found out who his caller was, although he was introduced as a representative of the Toledo Blade by one mischievously inclined scribe.

Realizing the situation, Carr swung himself over the engine, got out on the pilot, and, reaching out, grasped the child's clothing and drew it from the very jaws of death.

SENATOR CLARK LONG REMARRIED

Surprises His Daughters by Announcement of Wedding Three Years Ago.

ROMANCE OF A MINING TOWN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 11.

The public is apprised of the marriage of United States Senator William A. Clark to Miss Anna E. LaChapelle, on May 25, 1901, at Marseilles, France. This is the culmination of a romance that began about nine years ago.

Tardy of announcement, it is true, for three years have elapsed since, in Marseilles, France, the ceremony was performed that made the handsome child of the western mining fields the bride of the many times millionaire and United States senator. And with the announcement of the marriage comes the tidings that it has been blessed by the birth of a girl, now quite two years old.

Senator Clark informed his daughters, Mrs. Clark Culver and Mrs. Lewis Rutherford Morris, of his marriage, shortly after his arrival from Europe in the steamship Teutonic, on June 30. He was then on his way to St. Louis to take part in the convention proceedings. The daughters were much surprised when their father made known the secret that he has kept so well for three years. Their surprise was particularly keen because they had never objected to their father remarrying.

It was while in one of the mining towns where his interests lie that Senator Clark, about nine years ago, was present when the miners and their wives and families were enjoying a Fourth of July celebration. There were all manner of costumes, gaudy and grotesque, worn by the young men and women, but that which particularly caught the eye of Senator Clark represented the Goddess of Liberty. It was gracefully worn by a young woman, probably 35 years his junior. Senator Clark made inquiries and learned that the goddess of impersonation was Anna E. LaChapelle.

Senator Clark pursued his inquiries. He learned that LaChapelle, the father of the girl, was a French Canadian physician, who, with a wife and their family, had turned to the United States and its western fields for a livelihood. LaChapelle died suddenly in Chicago, and soon after this event Senator Clark decided to extend financial assistance to the family, not for Anna LaChapelle alone, but for her widowed mother and the children. He was introduced to Mrs. LaChapelle and thus met her children. He recognized that Anna was endowed with unusual intelligence.

Senator Clark made the girl his ward soon after this, and provided her with the opportunities for such tuition as he considered she should have. It was an education that began in seminaries in this country and was finished in schools abroad, where the climax came with the opportunities for extensive travel.

Mrs. Clark is at present in Paris.

MASCOT OF THE TEAM KILLED BY A FOUL BALL

Richard O'Donnell, aged 11, died at the South Side hospital last night from injuries received during a game of baseball in Bailey park, Thirty-second ward, on Saturday evening. The lad was the mascot of one of the teams and was standing near the catcher watching the progress of a game, when he was struck by a foul ball which fractured his skull. The boy's parents live at 13 Washington avenue.

PERSONALS

A special train with 240 members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine left the Union station last evening at 7 o'clock for Atlantic City, where the imperial council of the world will hold a meeting. In the party of Pittsburghers were 85 women. The train consisted of nine Pullman sleepers and a baggage car. As each woman boarded the train she was presented with a souvenir consisting of a white fez and a parasol, to which was attached a yellow ribbon with "Mystic Shrine, Atlantic City." The men were given a drinking glass, on one side of which was printed a woman bathing and on the other Atlantic City. The committee of arrangements for the party consisted of George W. Gosser, August Daub and George W. McCandless. The potentate of the Pittsburgh lodge is Capt. W. S. Brown. A delegation of Shriners passed over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this morning at 1 o'clock from points west of South Chicago. The train consisted of six Pullman sleepers and a baggage car.

J. M. Tyson of New York was a passenger on the Pennsylvania Limited last night, on his way to Kansas City on business. "It is marvelous the amount of uses concrete is being applied to," said he. "The time is not far distant when this material will supplant steel. It is being used in making various kinds of building blocks. Its quality is equally as good as many kinds of stone being used in construction work."

"The flood which visited Punxsutawney last week did far more damage than has been reported," said John T. Meyers, while waiting for a train home after spending yesterday in Pittsburgh. "A large part of the crops were more or less destroyed. The wind broke down several fields of corn and wheat."

"The mines along the Monongahela river have started up and the indications are the miners will have steady work for several weeks," said Abraham Quinlan of Black Diamond. He was in Pittsburgh on business yesterday and left last night for home. "For the past six months," he continued, "the mines have practically been shut down."

Attorney Charles F. McKenna, who was recently appointed judge of the federal court of Porto Rico, will take up his duties in the island in September. Mr. McKenna is at present in New York.

PROTEGE OF J. P. MORGAN LIVES WITH BROKEN BACK

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Among the passengers on the Atlantic transport Minneapolis, which arrived to-day, was Louis M. Gardner, who is said to be en route to Milwaukee, where he has relatives. It is further said he is a protege of J. Pierpont Morgan.

The fact that the young man is an invalid and that the arrival was made mysterious by both the officials of the line and the steamship officers attracted considerable attention on the dock. This was not less noted when, as soon as the vessel reached her dock, a representative of Mr. Morgan arrived to look after the young man's comfort.

Gardner is said to be living in spite of a broken back. He occupied the best suite of state rooms on the Minneapolis and his wants were looked after by a comely young nurse, who was in constant attendance. The young man had the best of attention from the entire ship's company and a special steward was assigend to look after him.

Gardner is 20 years old, and, from what could be gathered on the pier, he was injured three years ago in London by a fall. Since that time he has been in a private hospital and under the care of the best English surgeons.

While walking down a principal street of New York one day, Gardner was attracted by a runaway. A swaying coach came down the street, dragged by two frightened horses. The young man dashed out, grabbed the frightened brutes and brought them to a standstill. The mother of the child offered Gardner a reward which he refused. Then she gave him her card, telling him if he ever needed assistance to call upon her.

Gardner then disappeared. The card bore the name of Mrs. J. P. Morgan.

MILWAUKEE, July 11.—The story surrounding the injury and consequent friendship of Gardner with the family of J. Pierpont Morgan reads like a fairy tale.

Gardner is the son of Charles Gardner, a former saloonkeeper of this city. Nearly 15 years ago, when Rudolph Giljohn was conducting vaudeville bills in the exposition building, Gardner, then a lad, came to the notice of Marie and Dunham, aeriel performers, who were appearing there. He was tumbling before the building one morning when Dunham's attention was attracted. He questioned the lad and offered to take him with him. The boy accepted and followed his friends to London, afterward returning to New York.

Soon after Gardner returned to London. It was there he fell, missed the net and sustained serious injuries. News of the accident appeared in newspapers. With it came a story of Gardner's brave act in saving the Morgan child. Seeing the report, Mrs. Morgan took the first steamer for London and provided the best possible surgeons and nurses. Gardner has undergone several operations since his accident three years ago. None have proven altogether successful, but his future comforts are assured by Mrs. Morgan.

GERMAN ARMY OFFICERS BUSY WRITING BOOKS

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 11.—The financial success of Lieut. Bilse's sensational military novel, "From a Small Garrison," has given impulse to hundreds of other young officers to write books, said to contain similar disclosures.

One large publisher says during the last month he has received no less than 150 manuscripts from officers in the army, who all claimed that the tales which they told were absolutely true and that everyone would recognize the identity of the persons portrayed. One lieutenant even offered a number of original letters, said to contain very compromising statements in which even princes of a royal house were implicated. Even the scandal in which Count Von Morbach was involved, and which only recently cropped out, has given an enterprising young lieutenant material for a novel of Berlin high life at the court of Kaiser Wilhelm. Of course, this book will never be allowed to appear.

PRIEST YET IN DANGER.

The Doctors Not Determined Whether Sexton's Knife Thrust Entered the Brain.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 11.—The condition of the Rev. J. P. Barry, pastor of St. Ann's Roman Catholic church, who was stabbed Saturday morning, is still believed by the physicians in attendance to be dangerous. They are more hopeful tonight, however, than at any time since the assault. The knife which John Berry, the assailant, used, was thrust through the priest's left eye, completely destroying the sight. A second blow from the weapon cut into the priest's abdomen, severing the intestines. The physicians are not yet determined whether the thrust into the eye pierced the brain.

Berry was given a preliminary hearing today. Thus far he professes ignorance of his act. He is believed to be insane, having served a term in a Cleveland hospital for the insane.

PENNINGTON STILL IN JAIL.

Airship Promoter Hopes to Get His Liberty Today.

E. J. Pennington is still in jail. It had been thought that he would secure his freedom yesterday and a Cleveland automobile manufacturer, it was stated, would go on his bond. Pennington's attorney, Harry L. Goehring, visited the jail in the morning, and it seemed that the prisoner would be released at once. Then the negotiations suddenly fell through.

Mrs. Pennington, or Mattie LaMar, as she is also known, visited the jail in the afternoon and left a box of dainties for the prisoner. She was accompanied by Willie West, who was engaged by Pennington as a messenger boy. Attorney Goehring hopes to get his client out of jail today. He does not consider the suits entered by Cleveland parties seriously.

POSTOFFICE OFFICIALS SAY PITTSBURGHERS WERE DUPED

Pedro Alvarez, alias Frederick Hill, who was captured in New York on charges of fraudulent use of the mails, attempted to catch unsuspecting victims in Pittsburgh. A number of letters written by Alvarez to Pittsburgh people have been intercepted by local postoffice officials. His scheme was to address a letter to a person who had recently died, saying that a partial claim on a lucky lottery ticket would be sent upon receipt of $2. The letters usually were opened by some member of the family of the deceased, and in most cases the $2 would be forwarded. It is said that the man made $50 a day through his scheme.

Prisoners Doing the Work.

Prisoners at the Western penitentiary, in lower Allegheny, yesterday began excavating for the foundation of the new conservatory, for which Henry Phipps recently donated $5,000. The convicts will erect the building under the direction of Lord & Burnham of Irvington, N. Y., who built the Phipps conservatory in Schenley park. The building will be 100x20 feet and the contractors expect to have it completed by September 1.

Seventh Ward Crusade Still on.

Constable Peter Auslander's crusade against Seventh ward gambling houses continues, and in defiance of his orders for the closing of poker games, it is declared that several establishments are still wide open. The constable conferred with District Attorney Stewart last night to plan more energetic measures against the illegal houses on the hill, and as a result will make additional charges against violators.

Park Employes Fined.

Twenty-five employes of Kennywood park were before Justice J. Clyde Miller of Homestead last night for working on Sunday. Two were fined $25 and costs, the decisions in the cases of 14 were held over and 9 more cases were held over until Wednesday.

NEWSPAPERS FOR RESULTS

A Buffalo newspaper says that the general passenger agents of the railroads are tired of wasting money in advertising in catchpenny publications and some of the magazines.

They show a tendency to increase their newspaper advertising, which they can better afford to do by saving the considerable cost of using valueless publications. They realize more and more that the newspapers bring the best and earliest results.—National Advertiser.

PICNIC LASTS TWO DAYS.

Sporting Contests, Dancing and Other Attractions to Support Orphans.

The orphans' picnic, which every year is an event of interest in Catholic circles, begins tomorrow in Calhoun park and will last two days. Workmen are busy building 11 booths, one for each parish, which will be in charge of the ladies, and the pagoda is being erected for the use of the little girls who will sell pictures of the 900 inmates of the orphans' home for whose support the picnic has been held annually for many years.

A keen rivalry has developed among the women in charge of the 11 parish tables and inducements are offered to secure the honor of getting the largest patronage. There will be dances day and night in the pavilion.

There will be sports in abundance, including baseball games and boxing contests. It has been arranged that the 20 policemen, who will be on the grounds, will not interfere. The prizes in the sporting contests will be diamond rings and the victors will have the privilege of selecting rings for themselves or their best girls. The person who wins the ticket drawn will get a free trip to the St. Louis fair or Atlantic City, and if the person holding the first number drawn does not appear the next number will get the prize. Patrick Dolan and Bishop J. F. Regis Canevin will be in attendance.

Prominent New Jersey Promoter Charged With Conspiracy.

A. C. Oliver, a business man of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., was arrested at a Pittsburgh hotel yesterday on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, it being alleged that he had been charged with conspiracy before Justice of the Peace George B. Marshall of Windber, Somerset county. John Duncan, a lumberman, brought the warrant to Pittsburgh for service. It is alleged that Oliver was the promoter of a lumber company and had secured subscriptions of from $50,000 to $150,000 for stock.

The other stockholders are residents of Southern Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and upon investigation they said they discovered that the holdings of the company had been turned over to Oliver's wife. Oliver was traveling with his attorney, who said he was surprised at the action.

WELCOME IS WAITING.

Pittsburghers Will Sample Old-Time Virginia Hospitality at Wheeling.

WHEELING, W. VA., July 11.—(Special.)—Despite the fact that Wheeling's hospitality is already taxed to the limit to care for the Republican state convention which convenes tomorrow and which has brought to this city the largest crowd ever seen at a political gathering in West Virginia, special effort is being made by the business interests to show the trade hunters of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Pittsburgh, scheduled to arrive here tomorrow afternoon, a sample of old-time Virginia hospitality.

The Board of Trade has appointed a committee of men who are leaders in commercial, banking and professional circles to look after the Pittsburghers. The committee will meet the train on its arrival from Moundsville at 3:30. The visitors will be placed on open trolley cars and shown the city. If time permits and the visitors have the inclination, cars will cross the river and visits will be made to the Ohio towns of Martins Ferry, Aetna, Bridgeport and Bellaire. At 6 o'clock a run will be made to Wheeling park, where the state convention meets, and there a chicken and waffle supper will be served by the Ladies' Guild of St. Matthews church.

The board of trade will have other things included in Virginia hospitality in a nearby pavilion for the comfort of the visitors. There will be music, short talks and a general exchange of good fellowship.

AUSTIN BEACH.

Passed Bogus Money.

Several Braddock merchants complained yesterday to the police that counterfeit dollar bills are being passed by two men in the borough. From the descriptions furnished the police believe that the same men who were putting bogus money in circulation in Pittsburgh and the Monongahela valley during the Christmas holidays are the ones who are working in Braddock.

SOCIETY

The nomination of Henry G. Davis of Elkins, W. Va., for the vice presidency, early Sunday morning at the Democratic convention in St. Louis, has been the occasion of much pleasant gossip among the young people of Allegheny and the East End, who were personally acquainted with him. Since his summer residence, Graceland, adjoined that of his son-in-law, Senator Stephen B. Elkins, in the beautiful mountain town named for Mr. Elkins, Mr. Davis was frequently to be seen at the house parties which his grandchildren entertained during the summer months. The little group of Allegheny girls and men, which included Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Mrs. William C. Robinson, Miss Darlington, William B. Scaife and others of the Yale and Princeton men of the last few years were included among the young people who have been entertained by Senator and Mrs. Elkins as friends of their children. Only a few years ago, a year or so after Mrs. Ricketson and Mrs. Robinson made their debut, one of the most delightful of these house parties was held, and then the Elkins mansion was one of the finest of the new summer mansions and its size and its charm were regarded as quite beyond anything else in Western Pennsylvania. It stands amid the most beautiful of mountain scenery in West Virginia and its location is ideal for summer house parties, with its fine drives and exceptional fishing and hunting. Senator and Mrs. Elkins' children include their daughter, Miss Katherine H. Elkins, and four sons, Davis Elkins, a Harvard man of '99; Stephen B., Jr., a graduate from Yale in 1900; Richard Elkins, who took his degree in Princeton in 1901, and Blaine Elkins, who is still a student in Princeton. Their mother is Mr. Davis' eldest daughter, Miss Hallie L. Davis.

The Summer Social Register.

The statistics of the Summer Social Register, which has just been issued, indicate that of the 8,246 families belonging to New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Baltimore, St. Louis, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and the southern cities from Richmond to Atlanta, who have sent their summer addresses, 3,684 are summering inland and 2,883 are at the seashore.

Strange to say, the increase of about 10 per cent in the inland resorts as compared with but a slight change in the number of seashore residences has been typical of these statistics for the last five or six years. Eight hundred and seventy-one families are abroad and 450 of these sailed since April, an increase of some 15 per cent as compared with last year; 126 families have returned in the same period; 137 are summering on their yachts; 510 persons have married within the last quarter, an increase of some 40 per cent compared with last year.

There is noted the deaths of 126 men and 102 women, an increase as compared with last year which may be partially accounted for by the addition of Pittsburgh and the southern cities from Richmond to Atlanta. The names, descriptions and illustrations of 683 yachts appear opposite the names of their owners and are also to be found in the yacht index at the back of the book.

Woman's Club Year Book Out.

The Woman's club of Pittsburgh, the pioneer women's club in Western Pennsylvania, has issued its year book. It appears in a neat form, with subjects for discussion throughout the coming club season. Miscellaneous topics will be taken up, but particular attention will be paid to literature and current events. The Woman's club is one of the few local women's organizations which takes little part in the general civic work which is being conducted by the Pittsburgh club women. It is not a large club and its purpose is more in the direction of social and intellectual intercourse. It is very active, however, in the summer vacation school and playground work, the Grant school being under its supervision, and also the Sherman avenue school in the Second ward, Allegheny. Its officers include Mrs. Robert D. Coard, president; Mrs. James McKelvy, first vice president; Mrs. W. F. Price, second vice president; Mrs. Alexander C. Latimer, recording secretary; Mrs. Amos Sawhill, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Charles W. Gerwig, treasurer. The executive board consists of the officers and Mrs. F. D. Rosenstock, Mrs. F. R. Wade and Mrs. Charles R. Wray.

Sorosis Plan of Work.

The year book of Pittsburgh Sorosis has appeared in its customary dainty dress of green and white. Its program for the coming year is confined to the study of Russia, its history, literature, art, science, social life and customs, while the current event will relate largely to the progress of the Russian war with Japan unless the unexpected happens and the combatants lay down their arms.

The officers of Pittsburgh Sorosis include Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, president; Mrs. William A. Black, first vice president; Mrs. William Shelby Berry, second vice president; Mrs. J. B. Elsaman, recording secretary; Mrs. W. W. Kerr, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James German, treasurer. The directors include Mrs. S. Brenneman, Mrs. W. H. Denniston, Mrs. James Mills and Mrs. William H. Crump.

European Custom of Exchanging Rings.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Morsing of Swissvale avenue, Wilkinsburg, entertained last Friday evening to celebrate the engagement of Miss Anna Egnell of Stockholm, Sweden, and G. E. Spog of the erecting department of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. The European custom of exchanging engagement rings was observed. Many of the guests were the Scandinavian engineers connected with the Westinghouse interests, who are personal friends of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Caldwell's daughter, Mrs. Giraud Fountain, with Mr. Fountain, who have been in Stockbridge for several weeks, will sail for England Wednesday on the Baltic.

Hay Ride and Barn Dance.

Invitations have been issued by Bert A. Herrod and Ross A. Harbaugh of the East End for a hay ride and barn dance next Thursday evening. A ride of about four miles will terminate in the dance. Special music has been engaged. After the midnight supper the party will return home. Those attending will be for the most part East End young people, and the guests have been limited to 14 couples.

An Old-Fashioned School.

"Ye District School at Blueberry Corners" will be given by the Young People's Christian union on Thursday, July 14, in the Eleventh United Presbyterian church of the West End. James Miller is training the performers and a few of Pittsburgh's prominent singers will appear.

Departures from Pittsburgh.

Mrs. E. E. Sanderson of South Negley avenue, East End, will spend the summer at North East on the Lake Erie shore.

Mrs. Tener's Children's Party.

Mrs. George E. Tener entertained with a party at her home in Beaver street, Sewickley, yesterday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Frances Tener. About 30 children were present. Outdoor games were played. Refreshments were served and a group picture of the guests was taken.

Delegate Elected.

At the special meeting of the Women's Press club held yesterday afternoon in the Hotel Lincoln Miss M. Blanche Craighead was elected a delegate to represent the club at the meeting of the International League of Press Clubs at Put-in-Bay July 16 to 23 inclusive. Miss Marion Bonsall will be the alternate.

Bread Street

A street famous in London as the birthplace of John Milton, the poet, who was born there Dec. 9th, 1608.

Bread Street was so named from the market in which bread was sold, the bakers of London being forbidden to sell bread anywhere except in this market.

If this queer old idea were in force to-day the great demand for Uneeda Biscuit, the world's most famous food, would make it necessary to name every street in every city—

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

TRUST COMPANY MADE NO MISTAKE

Wm. H. Donner Must Account to His Brother for Union Steel Company Stock.

KENNEDY AND WISEMAN TRIED

In framing the decree in the orphans' court in the W. W. Card estate, the simple error of substracting a claim of $5,255 from the total balance for distribution, instead of from the amount awarded to the trustee, a matter which often happens in court, led to subsequent petition for correction filed for form's sake at the suggestion of the orphans' court. No mistake had been made in the account in any particular or by the trust company, and the substaction from the wrong column could not have affected the account in any manner. The total amount of the estate was $1,285,556, and the subsequent claim of $5,255 was deducted from that side of the column, when it should have been deducted from $1,169,833, the difference in the hands of the trust company as trustee, which was not a mistake in the account or in the estate.

Judge Brown handed down an opinion in favor of Frank Donner in his suit against his brother, William H. Donner. The plaintiff gave his brother $25,000 to invest when William H. Donner started the Union Steel Company, and claimed that he was entitled to a pro rata share of the profits that ensued from the promotion and sale of that company. The defendant held that the money was only used as an investment and not for the purchase of stock. Judge Brown finds that Frank Donner bought $25,000 worth of stock from William H. Donner's interest in the company and is entitled to four fifty-fifths of that interest. William H. Donner held a one-fourth interest and the entire profits on the sale were $7,390,600. William H. Donner is declared to be a trustee for his brother and liable for an accounting.

The jury in the riot case brought against Eddie Kennedy and Richard Wiseman by Roger O'Mara, went out at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and had not found a verdict when criminal court adjourned. Last New Year's day O'Mara got into trouble with Kennedy and Wiseman and Harry McDonald, in Fifth avenue. He preferred a charge of riot, but for various reasons the case never came to trial.

Stranger Stayed in Jail.

McDonald, who was a stranger here, laid in jail, while the others were out on bail until a few weeks ago, when he was released on his own recognizance. He has left town apparently and did not answer when his name was called yesterday, so the case went on without him.

M. K. McMullin and F. A. Clark, doing business as M. K. McMullin & Co., entered suit against William Reid to recover $102,077 66, alleged to be due on an account. The plaintiffs say they are brokers and on or about April 28, 1902, they were employed by the defendant to purchase stocks on his account. They did this, they aver, and from that time until the present the defendant has dealt with them on the same stock. The account between them, it is averred, shows the amount sued for as owing the plaintiffs.

Eyler & Henry have entered suit against Amy H. DuPuy and others for $15,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiffs as tenants, by the alteration of the Hamilton building.

The Tarentum Traction Passenger Railway Company has begun equity proceedings against David Baker to have removed an obstruction to the railway. It is alleged the defendant at Boyd street and Second avenue constructed a rigid arm or platform of wood and iron that projects over the tracks and prevents the operation of the street cars at that point.

The following executions were issued: H. J. Gauss vs. the Sterling Pickling & Preserving Company, $3,150; D. W. Morgan vs. the Rev. N. A. Mackey, William Johnson and J. E. Brudley, $75.

John McInnes and his wife, Bell, yesterday entered suit against Joseph Peters and William Stephen, to recover $500 damages. The defendants, it is alleged, were throwing a baseball in Strayton street, Allegheny, when it struck Mrs. McInnes on the chest, dislocating her right clavicle.

Suing in Two States.

In the case of John B. Fox of Chicago, against the Grant Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, in the United States circuit court, an opinion was handed down by judge Buffington. Fox was the patentee of a soda water fountain and alleged the defendant company infringed on his patent. He asked for an injunction, which Judge Buffington granted, pending a decision of the Chicago courts in the case, where a like suit has been entered.

Decrees in divorce were made in the following cases: Lulu Payne against William Payne, on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment; Valena Masson against Frank Masson, desertion; Ada B. Alexander against John P. Alexander, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Jane Black entered suit against Andrew Berger for $10,000 damages. She alleges that on April 2, 1904, she was run down by an automobile driven by the defendant. She alleges she sustained internal injuries by being knocked down and dragged by the machine.

In the equity suit of Findley Gilkeson against Mrs. Euphemia Thompson and others, Andrew G. Smith, executor of the will of John Long, and one of the defendants, has filed answer. The answer is similar in many respects to that filed by the Thompsons and he avers that at the age of 87 the decedent was capable of transacting business. The answer avers that Long determined that he would make distribution of the bulk of his estate, during his life time, and in assigning the mortgage to the Thompsons followed the disposition he had shown towards them in his will. The disposal of the estate, the answer avers, was entirely due to Long's own notion. Fraud and duress on the parts of the defendants are denied absolutely.

OPPOSED TO GERMAN YOUNG TALKING POLISH

Officials Refuse to Allow School Children to Spend Summers in Poland.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, July 11.—A number of school children of Polish parentage in this city are exceedingly disappointed because they will not be allowed to visit the Polish provinces this summer. For some years it has been the custom of Polish farmers in Poland and Polish residents of this city to exchange children during the summer vacation, ostensibly because it was thought the city children would be greatly benefited by a vacation in the country.

The German officials, however, now say that the farmers in the Polish provinces take the Berlin children into their homes to teach them the Polish language and inspire hatred in them against Germany, and for this reason the school authorities have ordered that no child attending public schools is to be allowed to spend his vacation in German Poland.

SLOCUM WITNESS MISSING.

Young Woman, Whose Testimony Is Wanted, Disappears from New Jersey.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—The federal grand jury that is investigating the Slocum disaster resumed its session today and may be ready to indict by the end of the week. Miss L. C. Hall, the bookkeeper of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company, has thus far failed to appear. Marshal Henkel's men found her in Orange, N. J., last week, but when the marshal of the Eastern district of New Jersey attempted to serve upon her a subpoena, forwarded to him from New York, Miss Hall had gone, and the subpoena was returned marked, "Not found."

Clerk Leary of the United States district attorney's office, upon information that Miss Hall was somewhere in Connecticut, traversed a considerable section of that state yesterday in his effort to serve her with a subpoena. He, too, failed to find her. Her lawyer professes ignorance of her whereabouts. She is ill, he says, and is on a vacation. The process servers are of the opinion that for a sick person on a vacation she moves about with a surprising rapidity.

MORGANZA PAROLE WAS CONDUCTING QUEER SCHOOL

Glen D. Martin, the boy arrested last week for soliciting aid for an imaginary orphan asylum, has been found to be a parole of Morganza, and was returned to that institution. The youth is charged by Pittsburgh detectives as having opened a school for the education of boys into the arts of theft, it being declared that he was tutoring a number in the game which he worked.

JAHN PLACED IN SHERIFF'S CHARGE

Court Finds He Was Well Enough to Have Been Tried With Aurora Cupps.

HOT CLOTHS BLISTER HIS FACE

County Detective Robert G. Robinson took J. Henry Jahn into criminal court yesterday afternoon on a process issued by Judge Frazer. He was accompanied to Jahn's home in Hoboken by Jail Physician A. V. Chessrown. They found Jahn out of bed and after making an examination the doctor said he was able to be in court, even though his eye was a little red and swollen.

Jahn had told a sensational story of being held up on a lonely road near his home, Saturday night. A shot, it is alleged, went through his hat, and he fell down unconscious. He acknowledged to Detective Robinson that he had kept hot cloths over his eye for hours, which caused an apparent blister. He looked very strong in criminal court and brightened up considerably when he found he would get out of going to jail last night.

In the morning the case of Aurora Cupps and her sister, Mrs. Evaline N. Schopfer, for the alleged murder of the latter's husband, Charles T. Schopfer, was to have been put on trial. Jahn was indicted as an accessory and was the principal witness for the prosecution. When the case was called for trial before Judge Frazer District Attorney Stewart asked for a postponement on the grounds that Jahn had been assaulted Saturday night while going to his home and was unable to appear.

The attorneys for the women asserted that the assault was a ruse to secure a postponement and that Jahn had not been injured. They also claimed a postponement had been sought last week on the allegation that Linnie Wolford, Jahn's stenographer and a witness in the case, was ill. They asked the court to make an investigation. Detective Robinson was sent to Jahn's house.

When the court had finished its business in the afternoon, Jahn, who had sat in the corner with his wife since being taken into the room, was called before the bench.

Judge Frazer opened up on Jahn by asking, in not a gentle voice:

"Why were you not in court this morning as you should have been?"

Jahn explained, in a voice that was hardly audible, that he had been assaulted and that his physician had ordered him to stay in bed for a couple of days. Jahn told the court that he had some papers in his safe at home that he would need for the trial today, and asked to be allowed to go home for them. He also stated that he was expecting to hear from Miss Wolford, who he said was near Philadelphia.

The court instructed Detective Robinson and Deputy Sheriff John Picket to accompany Jahn to the telegraph office in Allegheny to see if an answer was there for Jahn from Miss Wolford. If the answer was there it was to be taken by Robinson. The deputy sheriff was then to go with Jahn to his home and remain with him all night and bring him into court for the trial this morning.

WOMAN CAPTURED MAN WHO TRIED TO ROB HER

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Imprisoned in her store by two thieves, Mrs. Mary Herman of 395 Harmon street broke open a door, attacked the men, and held one until a policeman arrived. The other fled as soon as she began showing fight. The men called and, showing badges, said they had come from the board of health to make an inspection of the plumbing. One of the men started back into a rear room, while the other stood in front of the door. The one in the rear suddenly called to her. Hardly was she inside the room when the door was slammed and she found herself a prisoner. Then hearing the cash register bell ringing, she knew she was being robbed. Mrs. Herman screamed and beat upon the door until it swung open.

The man at the door fled as Mrs. Herman approached, but the other met her attack and began striking her in the face. They fought and struggled in the store and then out into the street. Mrs. Herman was screaming all the time, and several pedestrians rushed to her aid. The man was held until a policeman came. He gave his name as Frank Lawlor, and said he lived in Newark.

GUATAMALIAN ANTS DESTROYING BOLL WEEVILS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The effectiveness of the Guatamalian ants in checking the ravages of the boll weevils in the Texas cotton fields has been tested and Mr. Cook, the expert of the department of agriculture, in a telegram to Secretary Wilson today announces that the ants promptly destroyed the weevils and the Texas red ants as well. The telegram was the subject of great satisfaction to both Secretary Wilson and Dr. Galleway, the chief of the bureau of plant industry.

Cosmopolitan Club Opens.

The Cosmopolitan club, which is made up of waiters from most of the big restaurants and downtown clubs, opened its rooms in Tunnel street last night with a reception, to which there were many invitations. Quite a crowd gathered and the guests were amazed to find how elaborately the rooms had been fixed up and how dainty was the luncheon prepared for them. Music and fun lasted far into the night.

TUNING A PHYSICIAN.

He Got Out, and Then in Tune.

If coffee has you where your nerves demand it each morning you have a wreck ahead sure.

Think back for a year and notice how the sick spells grow on you instead of getting less.

You are running into nervous prostration or some fixed disease absolutely certain, and when it suddenly takes full possession you will find nothing, absolutely nothing, in drugs that will heal you. Nature demands penalty for the daily hurt to the nerve centers by coffee, and you must pay the full price.

A physician of Cornwall, Ont., says of himself: "For years coffee was to me what rum is to the toper, but I kept getting worse and worse in health.

"I suffered from continuous nervous twitching, insomnia, restless, miserable nights, nerves all gone. Craving for coffee was intense, but it put me lower and lower in health. Something must be done, so I tried leaving off the coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. The first trial wife and I were both disgusted, for we were careless in brewing it, but we went carefully into the subject of preparing Postum and found we had only allowed it to brew about five minutes, and that won't make good Postum. So next time it was boiled full 15 minutes after boiling began, then served with good cream and it was toothsome and delicious. That marked the beginning of my return to health. Now I sleep well, the old twitching has disappeared, and in short I am well again. My good wife has also been much benefited by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. We have abandoned the old coffee for all time."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason why so many intelligent people and physicians drink Postum in place of ordinary coffee.

Lots.

LIBRARY ACRES.
ACRES AT LOT PRICES.

Believing that the public is tired paying six hundred, one thousand and up to sixteen hundred dollars for country lots only thirty feet front, we have succeeded in getting a company of men to put on the market a plan of one, two and five-acre lots at the low price of from five hundred to one thousand dollars.

Why should you pay one thousand dollars for a thirty-foot lot when we can sell you two acres (equal to 16 thirty-foot lots) for one thousand dollars, and only thirty-five minutes' ride from the postoffice when the new tunnel is completed, and that will be in a month or two.

Streets are all laid out, boardwalks laid, gas on the premises, fruit and shade trees beyond number, many springs of fine, cool water, and the ground is rolling just enough to insure perfect drainage.

This is certainly giving the people what they want and at investment prices.

The entire plan will soon be sold out and you had better come out soon. Salesmen on plan daily and Sunday.

If you want to make money buy Library lots.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

CAPITAL FOR BUSINESS PURPOSE—One of the leading features of my business is to consider for clients the subject of capital for good enterprises, especially manufacturing, in which cases I am usually successful, but not always. Prefer proposition already in successful operation, but requiring additional capital to keep pace with a healthy demand. Projects, untried and commercially unknown, especially if presented by persons totally without capital, cannot be considered, because the investor would not accept them and it would only be wasted energy on my part to submit them. This proposition is made only to a solid, successful and energetic type of business men of good reputation who have faith in their own enterprises and desire my services for the legitimate requirements of their business. To such persons I would extend an invitation to call upon me in perfect safety as to the matter of undue publicity. If, after consultation, incorporating should be deemed advisable, that feature can also be transacted through my office in proper legal form.

NEW YORK STOCKS CLOSED SLIGHTLY LOWER

Trading Fell Off as Values Declined—Industrials Held Up Better Than the Railroads—Local Coal Stocks Closed Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The net result of yesterday's New York stock market was declines ranging from ¼ to 1 per cent. The industrials held better than the railroads, the decline in United States Steel issues being only ⅛ per cent and in Amalgamated Copper ⅜, while in Reading the loss was ⅛ per cent, in Pennsylvania the same amount, in Atchison and St. Paul ½ each, and in Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific ¼ per cent. National Lead closed ⅛ higher and Southern Pacific ¼ higher. The market, however, was much more interesting than these net changes would indicate. London quotations were firm and higher, and private cables reported that foreign financiers were reassured by the final outcome of the St. Louis convention. There was some hesitation at the opening on this side, but continued strength of stocks like Reading and the Pacifics, together with support of Metropolitan, tended to give a firm tone to dealings during the first hour. After that there was extensive profit-taking in Union and Southern Pacific, but the market seemed to take the offerings well. During the afternoon trading was dull and prices drooped. The declining tendency became a little more pronounced in the final dealings, and the close was at or near the lowest of the day.

The strength of the Steel issues was again looked upon as significant. According to Wall street reports the bulk of the buying of Steel preferred and the sinking fund bonds was by private-wire houses, and there was therefore a disposition to credit the real source of the buying to Pittsburgh and the west. Inquiry here failed to discover any particular buying for Pittsburgh account. Still, there is a more cheerful feeling in the iron and steel trade, but the actual improvement so far is more in the way of inquiry regarding future delivery than in orders. This is not the season of the year for a revival in the iron trade, and while confidence in the future is unimpaired, there is little expectation of increased business during July and August.

The reaction in the railroad list was probably influenced by the strength in wheat, which advanced from ¾ to 1½ cents for the various options in the Chicago market, which was broad and active. Chicago was affected by the reports of the extent of the damage by the western floods, estimates of the loss in Kansas alone ranging from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels. The Michigan state crop report was also very unfavorable, indicating only about half the wheat yield of last year.

The well sustained strength in grain and the drooping tendency to railroad stocks added to the interest that was felt in the government crop report. The latter was not published until after the close of the market. It was much more favorable than expected. There was a further slight improvement in the condition of winter wheat, which was placed at 78.7, compared with 77.7 a month ago and 78.8 a year ago. If the estimated damage to winter wheat in shock which occurred since the compilation of the government's figures should prove to be exaggerated, and weather conditions should be favorable for the remainder of the harvest, the total yield is not likely to fall very much below that for last year. The condition of spring wheat was high, being placed at 93.7, against 93.4 a month ago and 82.5 a year ago. The spring wheat crop is now practically over the period when it is threatened by damage from drought. The initial report of the condition of corn estimated it at 86.4, which compares with 79.4 a year ago and a 10-year average of 89.8. Last year's corn crop was with one exception the largest ever harvested, and the condition of the present crop is 7 points higher than at the corresponding date a year ago. On the whole the crop report may be accepted as very encouraging, and in some particulars there has been an improvement since the date of the government's figures.

There was no change whatever in the money market, call loans being quoted at 1 to 1¼ per cent, the final loan being at the lowest rate. The feeling in the street is hopeful, particularly as to the future course of investment stocks, but there will naturally be some hesitation until after the quarterly report of the United States Steel Corporation is made public, which will be two weeks from today.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange the only stock to display any activity was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which sold off from 58⅝ to 58¼, and closed at 58⅜. The common stock declined to 14, but recovered to 14½. River Coal preferred declined to and closed at 20¼. Crucible Steel preferred rallied to 37 and United States Steel preferred to 58¾, but both were dull. Westinghouse Electric was firm, advancing to 79 and closing within a fraction of the best. Bank and trust company shares remained dull. Bonds were firmer, Brewing 6s advancing to 112 and Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s to 99½ sales and bid.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The directors of the Monongahela River Coal Company are scheduled to meet this morning at 11 o'clock to take action on the semi-annual dividend. The stock yesterday sold at 20¼, the low record established last month, and closed at 20¼ bid, 20½ asked. The common stock was quoted at 8 bid, 8¼ asked. The directors of Pittsburgh Coal will also meet to take action on the quarterly dividend on that stock. The latter declined to 58¼ and closed at 58⅜. In the case of Pittsburgh Coal the regular dividend is looked for, while in the case of River Coal preferred it is possible that action will be deferred until the end of the fiscal year.

The firmness of the steel stocks is believed to be based more upon prospective improvement at the present time. Crucible preferred advanced to 37 and closed at 36¾ bid, and the common was firmer at 4½ bid at the close. There were no sales of the latter.

There was a fair demand for Pittsburgh Brewing common, which rallied to 25⅝ and reacted to 25, closing unchanged for the day. The bonds were firmer, advancing to 112.

The offerings of Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s under par seem to have been cleaned up and the price closed firm at 99½ bid.

A small lot of Pittsburgh Plate Glass changed hands at 115, an advance of $2 a share over the last previous sale.

The advance in National Lead common yesterday to 24½ was an event which a number of Pittsburgh traders have been waiting for the past few weeks. A strong bull tip on the stock was circulated here some time ago, but the market was slow in responding to it. The advance yesterday was said to be based upon a deal that would take the place of the recently abadoned proposition for a consolidation with other interests.

American Sewer Pipe opened firmer at 20, declined to 19¾ on the marketing of small lots, and closed at 19¾.

One of the best posted Pittsburgh iron brokers was yesterday asked his opinion as to the Wall street reports of improvement in the trade. He said: "The only improvement is in the number of inquiries, but so far they have not developed into actual orders. This is not the time of year for improvement in the iron market. If it comes, as we all hope, it will begin to make its appearance in September. Of course the steel stocks would likely discount the event of actual improvement, and I think that is what they are doing now. You will recollect that formerly the directors of the United States Steel corporation met the first Tuesday in July to take action on the dividend. The date was changed after the April meeting to the last Tuesday in the month. It is reasonable to infer that the directors now have the estimates before them, and it would be natural, if these estimates are more favorable than expected, that the hint would be dropped to some of the friends of members of the board. This would account for the recent activity and strength in Steel preferred and sinking fund bonds."

The earnings of Louisville & Nashville for the fiscal year ended June 30 increased $395,000. The directors yesterday declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent.

The application of Wabash to list on the New York exchange $10,000,000 of common stock is significant of the passing of control of all the Pittsburgh extension properties to the hands of Wabash proper. Wabash pays to the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company $10,000,000 of its own common stock, and receives in exchange the entire capital stock of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company. This company recently purchased Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, control of Wheeling & Lake Erie, and all the other properties built in the interests of the Goulds in and around Pittsburgh. These properties cost in all $30,000,000. Wabash obtains voting control of them by issuing $10,000,000 of common stock to the syndicate. The stock purchased by Wabash is not expected to produce any revenue for the "other income" account of Wabash in the near future. In fact it is likely to be some years before the stock of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company is in a position to pay dividends. The first mortgage bonds outstanding amount to $25,000,000, and the second mortgage bonds to $20,000,000. The interest on the first mortgage bonds is compulsory, but the interest on the second mortgage bonds is payable only if earned for the first six years.

The Wood street addition of the Farmers Deposit National bank was opened to the public yesterday, and was inspected by the many friends and customers of the great institution.

Baltimore & Ohio has sold the $1,000,000 of 50-year 4 per cent bonds due 1948 which it is authorized to issue for the fiscal year 1904 for additions and betterments. The original reserve under this clause of the mortgage was $27,000,000, which could be issued at $1,500,000 per annum up to the end of the fiscal year 1903, and $1,000,000 per annum after that. The present issue of $1,000,000 is the first year's allowance under the reduced rate. The amount issuable at $1,500,000 was $6,000,000 and the present issue brings the total so far up to $7,000,000. There is a reserve of $20,000,000 still in this fund, issuable at $1,000,000 for the next 20 years.

Railroad traffic officials in their weekly summing up deprecated any serious fears of the floods in the southwest and were quite agreed in reporting an improved feeling over the business outlook based on crop prospects and a hopeful sentiment for betterment of business activity. The day's reports of railroad earnings, both gross and net, contained nothing to help sustain the market and reports were circulated and denied of a prospective new stock issue by Canadian Pacific.

The International Steam Pump and constituent companies report for the year ended March 31 shows surplus before dividends of $1,606,617, a decrease of $165,900.

Wall street gave some attention yesterday to the comtroller's report of conditions of national banks throughout the country, in connection with the semi-annual reports of the New York trust companies, and the very large proportion of the year's increase in reserve of the trust companies and of outside banks, which has accumulated on deposit with the New York city banks, was commented upon. The effect is to increase the ultimate reserve obligations upon the New York banks in relation to the general banking fabric of the whole country.

The gross earnings of Illinois Central for May decreased $249,231, and the net decreased $300,034.

The Rund Manufacturing Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent.

A very interesting discussion presented in the Financial Chronicle illustrates the extent to which earnings have been reinvested in betterments. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern has within five years spent $33,000,000 upon its property, out of earnings, a sum equal to 66 per cent of its entire capital stock. The total similar expenditures of Delaware, Lackawanna & Western during only three years have been about $14,000,000, which is more than 50 per cent of the stock capital. The Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburgh spent in three years some $38,000,000 out of earnings, or as much as the Pennsylvania railroad paid in dividends in that period. During five years the Chicago & Northwestern has spent out of earnings $30,000,000; and the Illinois Central has so expended over $17,000,000. Almost everyone is familiar with the huge outlays made in the same way upon the Harriman lines, notably Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. All the smaller roads have done the same sort of work, the Norfolk & Western, for instance, having so set aside $8,000,000 in four years. And all these figures cover only the appropriations specifically made out of earnings. They of course do not include the large sums which the companies have been spending under the guise of maintenance charges.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

July dividends of Colorado mines will approximate $500,000. The Portland will disburse $180,000, Vindicator $33,000, Mary McKinney $30,000 and El Paso $50,000. The mines in San Juan district will distribute $150,000 more. Gilpin and Clear Creek counties seldom publish, but an estimate is $60,000. Labor troubles in Cripple Creek and Telluride have resulted in increased showing in outside camps. Hundreds of expert miners have been deported from the trouble districts and given work elsewhere. Skilled miners have always been scarce in Colorado, and their coming to outside camps has been very satisfactory. With the Portland's extra dividend of 3 cents per share this month, the total dividends to date will reach $5,197,000. The Vindicator has paid $1,000,000 and the Mary McKinney $630,000.

The Phoenix & Eastern road is now completed to the mines and will make a connection at Benson with the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, which will give a direct line to Bisbee and the Copper Queen's Douglas smelters. At Benson it will connect, also, with the Southern Pacific's main line. Much of the grading of the Phoenix & Eastern to Benson has been done.

The Shattuck and Arizona company is enlarging the old prospecting shaft on the lower edge of its ground, closest to the Calumet and Arizona, and will sink there. When depth is reached a tunnel will be driven into the hill. The company is estopped from driving a tunnel from the surface, as the ground where it should debouch belongs either to the Copper Queen or the Calumet and Arizona.

The Lake Superior and Pittsburgh will sink a three-compartment shaft about half a mile east and south of its northern shaft, on the Alice claim. This company is closing arrangements with the Copper Queen to utilize one of the furnaces in the latter's Douglas plant for the smelting of ores already found on its 1,000 and 1,100-foot levels. The winze from the upper level is down 90 feet, or low enough to be put out by the 110-foot drift south, when the latter is projected far enough, and is still in the rich ore that has characterized it for some time. This assures a depth of 160 feet of this 20 per cent ore, all oxides and manganese.

Diamond drills are still working at the Calumet and Cochise and Bisbee and Wolverine, but there are no results of interest.

The work of dismantling the old Copper Queen smelters is progressing rapidly. In a short time nothing will be left but a few piles of scrap and brick. All machinery of value is being carried to the new plant at Douglas. The old smelters stood on a dump of copper slag made when they were making black copper direct from the oxides in the furnaces, without bessemerizing. This slag is very rich in copper, carrying anywhere from 2 to 10 per cent and possibly even more. The entire dump, with what other dumps are alongside, weighs about 1,000,000 tons, and it will be gradually shipped to the new smelters and re-used. It is estimated that the company has not less than 50,000,000 pounds of copper in these waste dumps, all of which can be saved by processes now in common use.

The mill of the Bald Butte company was started at Helena, Mont., last week for a permanent run. Development work will be continued in addition to the regular operation of the plant. The drift on the new vein recently struck is in 63 feet, showing seven feet of ore which assays from $25 to $50 a ton in free milling gold. About a year ago, after having paid more than $1,300,000, or several times its purchase price, in dividends, the Bald Butte ceased to yield. The directors, however, had faith that the property was not worked out, and instead of paying dividends out of the $100,000 reserve, decided to use that fund in development work. The result shows that the move was a judicious one, as a comparatively small amount was expended before the new strike was made. The vein is apparently a parallel to those which made the Bald Butte the most noted gold producer in this section for many years.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, July 11.—There was an advance of 2s 6d in the prices of spot tin at London, that delivery closing at £118 2s 6d, while futures were unchanged at £118 7s 6d. Locally tin was a little higher on spot in sympathy with the foreign advance, closing at $25 85@26 15. Copper was a shade lower in London, where spot closed at £57 5s and futures at £57 2s 6d. In the New York market copper was firm, closing at $12 62½@12 87½ for lake, $12 50@12 75 for electrolytic and $12 25@12 30 for casting. Lead was also a shade lower in London, where it closed at £11 13s 9d, but remained unchanged in New York at $4 25@4 35. Spelter was unchanged in both markets, closing at £22 in London and at $4 85@4 95 in the local market. Iron closed at 51s 9d in Glasgow and at 43s in Middlesboro. Locally, iron was unchanged. No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $13 75@14 25; No. 1 foundry, southern, and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, at $13 25@13 75. Pig iron warrants are nominal at $9 00.

WALL STREET ASSUMES CAUTIOUS ATTITUDE

NEW YORK, July 12.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says:

It was apparent that the general disposition to take profits and assume a more cautious attitude was the keynote of the stock market yesterday. To many the action of prices after the first half hour was a disappointment. The slightly reactionary tendency, which became more pronounced as the day wore on, was clearly unexpected by the professional element, which was, in the main, responsible for the advance in security prices last week. The tactics adopted in the closing days of the week were such that yesterday a fair proportion of public interest could have been expected. There was some of this buying, but it was comparatively small, so small, in fact, that when the trading element began to take profits they found that the absorptive power was too limited to convert all their paper gains into cash. The effort to realize was constant in the day's operations.

The inception of the reactionary tendency did not result from any developments over Sunday, so far as surface indications went. There might have been some hesitancy created on account of the coming crop report of the government, which, at this time of the year, is usually an important document. Political news, in view of the declaration of the Democratic nominee regarding the gold standard, could easily have been construed as benefiting the financial situation, but the developments on that matter fell flat on the market. To all appearances the market was wholly under professional control and influenced by their operations. Many expressed great curiosity to see the effect on the stock market of the declaration of the Democratic standard-bearer on the gold question and were disappointed. The inference was drawn that the gold question was already a settled issue.

SHOWMEN HAVE TROUBLE.

Property Owner Arrested With Son in McKeesport and Women Fight.

Because some employes of a carnival company in McKeesport were trying to drive stakes near his sidewalk, Jacob G. Leisure, aged 80, and his son Albert were arrested on Water street. Leisure is a property owner and objected to move from his property. An officer interfered and the son went to his father's rescue. The boy was arrested, and when the father followed to the McKeesport Central station he was also locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. The son is charged with interfering with an officer.

The father came to Pittsburgh yesterday to consult an attorney about taking out an injunction against the show people. Women attacked some of the showmen with brooms because they attempted to put up stands in front of private dwelling houses.

Accounts Being Audited.

The national trustees of the Amalgamated association began auditing the accounts yesterday. Following this meeting the executive officials are to have a meeting to consider the situation of the association. The bi-monthly settlement of the puddlers and finishers will take place tomorrow.

Nothing Startling in Lower Southwest Development

The best well drilled in the lower southwest was the South Penn Oil Company's second test on the Z. A. Merryfield farm, north of the Fallen Timber run development, Wetzel county. The oil was encountered in the Big Injun and the well produced 125 barrels the first 15 hours. In the Richwood Run district, in the same county, Trees, Brast & Dixon have drilled their test on the C. B. Highland farm through the fifth sand and like all of the upper formations, found it barren. A light gas pressure was developed in the Gordon. On Churches Fork, near Burton, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has lost a bit in its test on the Sarah Anderson farm and is fishing. The well is producing better than 100 barrels a day.

In the Wick district, in Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company's gusher on the J. W. Ankrom farm is declining rapidly. From Saturday morning to 7 o'clock Sunday morning the well produced 1,050 barrels and the ensuing 24 hours produced 825 barrels. This is a drop of almost half from the first 24 hours' production, after it had been drilled deeper. The following shows the gauges of other good producers in the development: Carter Oil Company's Nos. 3 and 7, J. W. Musgrave, 50 and 100 barrels respectively; Duff Bros. & Bower's No. 8, Charles Ankrom, 95 barrels; Bartlett, Riddle & Brown's No. 1, Delana Ankrom, 50 barrels, and the Melrose Oil and Gas Company's No. 4, on the T. H. Ewell farm, 165 barrels.

On the east side of the Folsom district, in Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the M. P. Dye farm to the top of the Gordon and has shut down to move back the boiler. In the same district the same company has drilled its second test on the Lucy Bennett farm through the Gordon and is now drilling in the state below. No oil or gas was developed in the Gordon. The same company has drilled its No. 3 on the F. A. Parish 16 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas. In the Salem district the South Penn company has drilled its No. 3 on the Alva Robinson farm five feet into the stray above the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas.

In the Ponds Creek district, Ritchie county, the Cameron Oil Company has drilled its test on the S. Bumgardner farm through the Big Injun and found that formation barren. A light gas pressure developed in the Keener sand. In the same district the Carter Oil Company's No. 3 on the Douglass reserve is holding up at 110 barrels a day. North of the Yellow Creek district, in Calhoun county, the South Penn Company's No. 1, a Maxon sand producer, on the R. E. Gardner farm, is holding up at 150 barrels a day.

Near Beall Mills, Lewis county, the South Penn Company has drilled its test on the G. I. Means farm through all sands and has a duster. In the Folsom district the South Penn Company has given its No. 4 on the C. R. Robinson farm a shot and the well produced 200 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. In Meade district, Tyler county, Bruner, Stewart & Co. have completed No. 3 on the J. B. Keilar farm and have a 5-barrel pumper in the Keener sand. Near Friendl, in the same county, the Ohio & West Virginia Oil and Gas Company has completed its second test on the J. C. Barker farm and has a show for an 8-barrel pumper in the Keener. Down in Cabell county the Big Lime pool, near Milton, is producing 240 barrels a day. There are still 10 wells in the producing list.

In the Lewisville district, on the Ohio side in Monroe county, the Pure Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Louis Stenger farm and has a gasser in the Big Injun. In the Graysville district E. A. Bream has completed his No. 2 on the John Dougherty farm and has a show for a five-barrel pumper in the Keener sand. At Newport, Washington county, the Boston Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Frank Dennis farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

Seven miles southeast of the Adams pool in Harrison county Black & Co. have taken up a block of leases consisting of 1,000 acres and will drill some test wells. They expect to catch a southeast extension to the old development. Near Georgetown, Beaver county, Pa., J. H. Johnston has completed his No. 3 on the Clark Wilton farm and has a very light pumper. In the same district E. McCready has completed No. 4 on the James Kirk farm and has a show for the same kind of a well.

MORED SALES WERE NOT MADE

Two Manufacturing Plants in First Ward, Allegheny, Will Move Out of City.

EDGEWORTH DEALS OF $25,000

Rumors have been rife for a week or more of big deals pending in the First ward of Allegheny. Among the buyers mentioned were the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, and Henry Phipps. One property which was reported Saturday to have been sold to Mr. Phipps is the plant of the Graham Nut Company, 92x264 feet, extending through from Rebecca street to South avenue. This property is said to be wanted by Mr. Phipps as an addition to his playground, but although a deal for its purchase was on some time ago, no sale has been consummated. The Graham Nut Company has nearly finished moving its plant from Allegheny to Neville island, where it has eight acres of ground and will employ about 100 men. Another property, which was said to have been bought by the Baltimore & Ohio, is the Eagle paint and varnish works at 225 Grant avenue, a short distance from the old wooden bridge at the Point. This property has a frontage of 100 feet in Grant avenue. At different times the Baltimore & Ohio has considered its purchase, but no deal has been on for the property for some time, and it is likely that a large addition may be built to the plant soon. The Baltimore & Ohio was also credited last week with the purchase of the foundry plant of Taylor, Wilson & Co., Ltd., at the Allegheny end of the Point bridge and occupying three-quarters of an acre. This rumor was also denied by the management yesterday. The company last year bought seven acres at McKees Rocks, and owing to its cramped quarters in its present location, will probably move there soon. Property owners along Grant avenue are at sea just now, owing to the uncertainty as to the disposition of the Point bridge. If it is raised 35 feet, as a recent survey indicated, the approach would practically ruin several manufacturing properties near the bridge, as they would be hemmed in between the elevated roadway and the Baltimore & Ohio tracks.

Edgeworth's Landmark Sold.

The Thomas Shields homestead at Edgeworth station has been sold to a prominent local builder through the office of Samuel W. Black & Co. for about $25,000. The property is one of the best-known in the Sewickley valley, having been in the Shields family for over a quarter of a century. The house is nearly 60 years old and was formerly occupied by Thomas Shields, Jr. It is a 12-room brick dwelling, standing near the center of a plot 196x330 feet, at the corner of Edgeworth lane and the Ft. Wayne station property. The residence will be torn down and on the plot the new owner will build four reception-hall brick houses and four stables. These properties will sell for at least $10,000 each. It is also rumored that the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company will take the railroad end of the property for a station site, as there has been talk of a new station at Edgeworth for some time. The property is between the holdings of Mrs. J. Haworth and Henry M. Long, and is also near the fine residence of N. D. Jones and the home of Dr. F. J. Murray.

Through the Aronson Realty Company Thomas Hackett has sold to a downtown business man 1414 Fifth avenue, adjoining the property of the Merchants Savings and Trust Company, for $26,000. The lot is 24x115 feet, making the rate of sale $1,083 a front foot or $9 42 a square foot.

A property belonging to the estate of the late J. O. Brown, on the north side of Irwin avenue, near Wightman street, has been sold to E. M. Brown to James P. Barker for $17,000. The property consists of a large brick house on 100x227 feet, and was bought for a home.

Considerable surprise was manifested Saturday at the low bids received for the W. S. Elliott property in North Braddock, which was offered at public auction. Last year Mr. Elliott got the land, 80 acres, partly ready for an allotment, and disposed of a few lots. It was then decided to dispose of the property together. It adjoins Shady park and is only 10 minutes' walk from Copeland station. The reservoirs of the Pennsylvania Water Company and of Braddock borough are on the land. Few bidders were on hand Saturday and the highest offer made was $400 an acre. This is only about one-half what the property has hitherto been considered worth, and the sale was accordingly postponed. It is said that the farm will now be divided into 10 or 20-acre plots and be sold to different buyers in the hope that higher offers may be received.

Aspinwall Church to Cost $20,000.

The contract for the United Presbyterian church at Aspinwall has been awarded by Architects McCollum & Dowler to J. L. Love & Co. The church will cost approximately $20,000.

Architect F. C. Sauer has awarded the contract to Martsolf Brothers for the three-story business block to be erected by J. Reeves at Seventh avenue and Thirteenth street, Beaver Falls, at a cost of $30,000.

Architects Thomas W. Boyd & Son have awarded the contract to the Butler Builders' Supply Company for a three-story brick warehouse and stable for Edward E. Abrams and C. N. Boyd at Butler, to cost $10,000.

Architect J. A. Long has plans for a three-story frame hotel for J. B. Williams at West Saultsburg, Pa., to cost $10,000. Architect Ludwig Dick is preparing plans for a $25,000 store and apartment building to be erected in Forbes street.

The distinction between a single building and a tenement block was the subject of an interesting controversy between architects and the bureau of building in Boston last week. Architects Spofford & Eastman applied for a permit for a single house for a building 228 feet long and 56 feet wide on the ground that it did not have brick party walls. The permit was refused and an appeal was made by the architects, which was sustained by the court. The plans divide the building into nine separate and independent sections, three stories high and covered with a flat roof, but as no partition walls were to be built the court held that it was a single structure.

The latest addition to the ranks of real estate men is G. A. P. Bowman, who was until lately in the employ of the Mellon National bank. Mr. Bowman has opened an office at 1127 Park building, and proposes to do a general real estate business, paying special attention to the marketing of suburban properties and to the mortgage business.

Lawrenceville: Conrad Dippel sold to E. E. Erickson an improved lot, 20x110 feet, in Forty-fifth street, near Lawrence avenue, Seventeenth ward, for $6,000.

Keating street: J. M. Keenan sold to James J. Masterson an improved lot, 15x53 feet, in Keating street, Eleventh ward, for $1,600.

Yoder street: John Hern sold to B. J. Sammon 21x124 feet, in Yoder street, Twenty-third ward, for $1,500.

Belmar place: The Pittsburgh Trust Company sold to Addison Bricker 25x93 feet in Homewood avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $1,700.

Building permits were issued yesterday to Eugene Wentz for a two-story brick veneer dwelling in Powell street, Thirty-second ward, to cost $2,400; W. R. Fisher, two-story brick dwelling in Quincy street, Twenty-seventh ward, to cost $2,500, and H. Swagger, two-story frame dwelling in Idlewild street, Twenty-first ward, to cost $1,000.

The board of directors of the Union Realty Company yesterday denied an unfounded report that they were seeking to dispose of their rent department. This is positively not for sale to anyone on any terms. They have recently acquired the services of C. C. Wager, formerly with Samuel W. Black & Co., one of the most experienced and efficient rent men in the city, who has complete charge of their renting department, and the increase in their rentals during the past few months has been eminently satisfactory.

Samuel W. Black & Co. sold to W. R. Brown the 7-room modern brick dwelling, 200 Renova street, Twenty-third ward, for ment, the house being rented at $40 per month.

BUTTER IS REDUCED; EGGS TAKE A JUMP

Marked Advance on Oranges, Potatoes Hold Steady—New Jumbo Melons Here.

The Elgin butter telegram announced a reduction of ½ cent yesterday afternoon and changes have been made below, accordingly. While some dealers thought conditions pointed to lower prices, others expressed themselves early yesterday that a reduction would surprise them. The butter supply has been quite heavy of late. There was a sharp advance in eggs yesterday; selected stock sold as high as 20 cents; good candled brought as high as 19 and 19½ cents and quotations have been changed accordingly. There was no change locally in the cheese situation. If there ever were three strong articles in the grocery market they are flour, sugar and coffee just now. Advances have been made on all three lately and conditions are favorable for still further changes of the same kind.

Oranges took a decided jump yesterday; the supply of navels is quite low; new Valencia lates are moving in small supply; quotations advanced 50 cents. New Albany, Ga., jumbo watermelons arrived yesterday for the first time this season, the total arrivals in this line were 22 cars with demand good. Nine cars of peaches came in and the stock was wanted. Two cars of apples, 8 cars of cantaloupes, 2 cars of cucumbers, 2 cars of onions, 8 cars of tomatoes, 34 cars of potatoes and 16 cars of miscellaneous products arrived; tomatoes are easier and potatoes are about steady. Business was reported good in almost every line yesterday, especially in view of the day being Monday.

There were no developments in the local hay, grain and feed situation. The supply of oats was liberal and sold off well, offering at about 46 cents. Millfeed is very slow and No. 1 timothy hay is offering at about $14 with the usual small amount of trading.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania 16 cars oats, 13 cars hay, 6 cars corn, 1 car straw, 1 car feed, 1 car hay and straw; Baltimore & Ohio, 3 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars oats, 1 car feed, 1 car hay.

Dealers charge an advance of $3.00 a ton on hay and millfeed, and 5 cents per bushel on grain from warehouses in less than carload lots.

WEATHER REPORTS CAUSE FLUCTUATION IN WHEAT

Opening Easy, but Bulls Again Gain Control of Pit, and Close Is Strong.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 11.—The appearance of the weather map and a preconceived idea among traders that crop damage had been exaggerated augmented by somewhat larger world's shipments than were expected, gave the wheat market an easy start. The cables were also a factor in the temporary weakness, as was also an expectation in some quarters that there would be a bearish crop report by the government. Messages from a district where a superabundance of rain has already fallen, with more in prospect, and claims of damage from rust from other sections of the wheat belt, began to come in and bull sentiment asserted itself. September advanced under a brisk demand from shorts, and the close was strong. The later tone was helped by a decrease of 1,656,000 bushels in the amount of wheat on passage. Clearances of wheat and flour were also smaller, being equal to 327,000 bushels, against 516,000 last week. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 301 cars, which, with local receipts of eight cars, made a total of 309 cars for the three points, against 271 cars a year ago.

The weather was considered all that could be desired for corn. As a result the market showed decided weakness at the start. For a time prices resisted the influence of the strength in wheat. The sympathy between the two cereals, however, is credited with having sustained corn values to such an extent that despite predictions of free movement of the coarser grain in the near future, the close showed September steady and but a shade lower. Local receipts were 161 cars.

Oats were easy, the weather, chiefly of the most favorable character, being the governing influence. September opened unchanged, declining under free liquidation by cautious longs, but rallying with the better tone in other grains to 32⅜c. The close was fairly steady. Local receipts were 91 cars.

Larger receipts of hogs than anticipated gave the market for products a weak start. Offerings at lower prices were small, however, and were readily taken for local short account. That element, moved by the wheat strength, sought to cover sales. A better tone followed.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 16 cars; corn, 263 cars; oats, 179 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

The Tornado, Enterprise, Carbon, Voyager, Stella Moren and Volunteer left during the day with tows for the Ed. Roberts and the Valiant; the former tow of 17 boats and the latter of 13 boats. The Tom Rees is expected in today and will be put out immediately with 12 boats and six barges. The John A. Wood will leave today with a tow of 20 boats and the Pacific will take 12 boats and five barges. These will be sent by the River Coal Company. The Jutte Company sent the Charley Jutte with a big tow to Louisville yesterday.

The water is more encouraging than ever to packet men, and from indications these lines can run out of Pittsburgh until late in August. The boats are all running regularly and all had fair trips in and out yesterday, particularly the Woodward.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5 points in sympathy with steady European markets and light primary receipts as compared with those of last year. Orders were pretty well divided and the market ruled generally steady, closing dull net unchanged to 5 points higher, the partial loss having occurred in the last few minutes. Sales were reported of 14,250 bags, including July at 6.00c; August at 6.05c, September at 6.15c, December at 6.35@6.40c, March at 6.70c, April at 6.80@6.85c, and May at 6.90c. Coffee—Spot Rio steady; mild, firm.

Corporation and Financial Notes.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., July 11.—Dr. Ralph Elmergreen was today appointed receiver of the Hadden-Rodee Commission Company upon petition of creditors who alleged that the company committed acts of bankruptcy by inviting a compromise with creditors. The company, it is claimed, suffered through the Woodward failure in New York.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—N. L. C. Kachelmacker has been elected president of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron Company. He succeeds Arthur L. Brownlee, who had been in office only six weeks. Officials of the company state that the cause for Mr. Brownlee's resignation is because he is obliged to be in Europe to attend to some personal business matters.

FALL RIVER, MASS., July 11.—Most of the Fall River cotton mills resumed operations today after a 10 days' shutdown. Many of the manufacturers are tiring of the curtailment policy which has been in force here nearly four months, and as soon as a new agreement, now being worked out by many members of the Fall River Manufacturers association, is formally assented to, it is expected the mills will be more active.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $1,450,280; government receipts from internal revenue, $1,420,195; customs, $700,262; miscellaneous, $106,097; expenditures, $3,070,000.

Railroad Officials Investigating Cause of Steel Cars Rusting

Ever since the steel car came into use the owners have had considerable trouble caused by rust. To guard against this car destroyer is a difficult problem which is to be solved. A number of railroads combined together to devise a plan to remedy the evil and they appointed a committee to make a report on their investigation. The committee received answers from the representatives of 45 roads, of which 18 were operating steel cars in the following service: Bituminous coal trade, 38,815; anthracite coal trade, 1,150; general trade, 17,474. The answers to the questions indicate a very wide difference of opinion as to the best methods of overcoming this trouble, and also shows a wide variation in the method of removing rust and scale from steel cars, preparing the metal for painting and the character and number of coats of paints applied. In general the methods pursued in the treatment of steel cars are as follows:

Inside of car—Wire brushes, scraping, sand blast and hammering, and in one case, after cleaning, the car is blown off with compressed air.

Outside and underneath—Wire brushes, scraping and sand blast, and in one instance, gasoline paint burner and scraping.

Character of paint used for first coat varies from graphite paint, carbon paint, red lead and lampblack and oil, to the various patented paints now on the market. For the second or succeeding coats practically the same character of paint is used, with the exception of a few roads, which use their standard freight car color.

The number of coats of paint applied varies from two to three.

The time between paintings varies from 18 months to three years. The majority of answers indicate, however, that there is no specified time for painting, it being done whenever the condition of the car requires. One road states that it has discontinued the painting of steel cars, while another road follows up its cars very closely, and whenever rust appears it is removed and the spot repainted.

Ticket Broker Imprisoned.

Judge Thayer, in the St. Louis United States district court, sentenced to 15 days in jail Edward J. Gildersleeve, a ticket broker, who disobeyed an injunction restraining him from selling railroad world's fair excursion tickets. On a previous occasion the judge had fined Gildersleeve $150 for a similar offense; for a second offense he fined him $250. The judge said: "It is clear fining the defendant has no effect and the court feels compelled to try the expedient of sending him to jail."

May Reduce Illinois Freight Rates.

Executive officers of western roads met and discussed the report that the railroad and warehouse commission proposes to order a reduction of 25 per cent in freight rates in Illinois. The railway officials were unanimously of the opinion that rates in Illinois as a whole are lower than in other western states and that it would be unjust for the state commission to order any general reduction in rates.

Completing Double Track.

The Pennsylvania lines have put into operation six miles of second track between Alliance, O., and Atwater. Work is now progressing on six miles between Atwater and Rootstown. When this is finished the Pennsylvania will have a double track line from Cleveland to Alliance, with the exception of 12 miles north of Rootstown. It is said work on this section will be begun at once.

Pushing Warehouse Project.

Rapid work is being done on the structures of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse Company at South Second street. G. W. Johnson of the company stated yesterday that the buildings will be completed by March, 1905. Within 60 days, he said, 1,000 men would be at work on the buildings.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special.)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has sold the $1,000,000 of 50-year 4 per cent bonds, due in 1948, which it is authorized to issue for the fiscal year of 1904 for additions and improvements. NEW BANK ENTRANCE FORMALLY OPENED Patrons of the Farmers Now Have the Convenience of a Wood Street Door.

The Farmers Deposit National bank opened its new Wood street entrance yesterday and quite a number of people were there to look over the addition. Invitations had been issued to the public through the columns of the newspapers, and in consequence people turning the corner at Fifth avenue and Wood street took the short cut through the new banking house to catch the odor of roses and breathe the fragrance of palms.

The bank has an unusually large counting room. A number of innovations have been announced and every effort will be made to use special facility in handling customers. With a front door and back door on two of Pittsburgh's prominent thoroughfares, the officials say there will be no danger of congestion during the rush of heavy business. With its marble pillars and frescoed ceilings the new banking room looks very fine. Many stopped to admire the decorations yesterday.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 11.—(Special)—The various classes of the summer school opened this morning with very large attendance. One of the earliest arrivals at Chautauqua this morning was George E. Vincent, the principal of instruction. He has been on an extended trip through the west and south and came here directly from Athens, Ga., where he met many Chautauquans.

"I found them very enthusiastic and friendly," he said. "Several of them intend to visit us this summer and all of them look toward the mother Chautauqua as the mecca of their educational ideas and hopes. Wherever I went I was warmly welcomed by Chautauquans whose loyalty towards their alma mater (for we can well use the term) was a cheering and happy feature of my trip."

The Chautauqua Women's club for 1904 had a good opening this morning, a large number of women going to Alumni hall at 9 o'clock for the first session. The unusual fact that all of the officers were present at the first meeting was especially gratifying. All women are welcome at this sessions of the club each morning. Tomorrow morning President Faunce will address the club.

The Boys' club building was a busy place this morning, as the regular work for the year began today. A large number of boys registered, while those already registered took their places in the various sections and departments of the club. About 100 boys have registered thus far, which is an excellent showing for the opening day of the club season.

Dr. William H. Hickman, president of the board of trustees of Chautauqua institution, received on Saturday a welcome letter from John E. Martin, a stalwart friend of Chautauqua, who has ever been keen in perceiving its needs and has always been ready to respond to them. He starts a fund to reimburse the institution for the losses occasioned by the recent fire and the expenditures made necessary by it. He proposes that 20 persons give $100 each to pay for the temporary buildings now being erected, and trusts that $500 will be given in smaller amounts by friends.

Aside from the numerous concerts on the Chautauqua platform a series of recitals by members of the faculty of the Chautauqua school of music will be given for the benefit of those who desire to carry their interest in high-class music further and along special lines. The first of these recitals was given this afternoon.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES MAY END RATE WAR

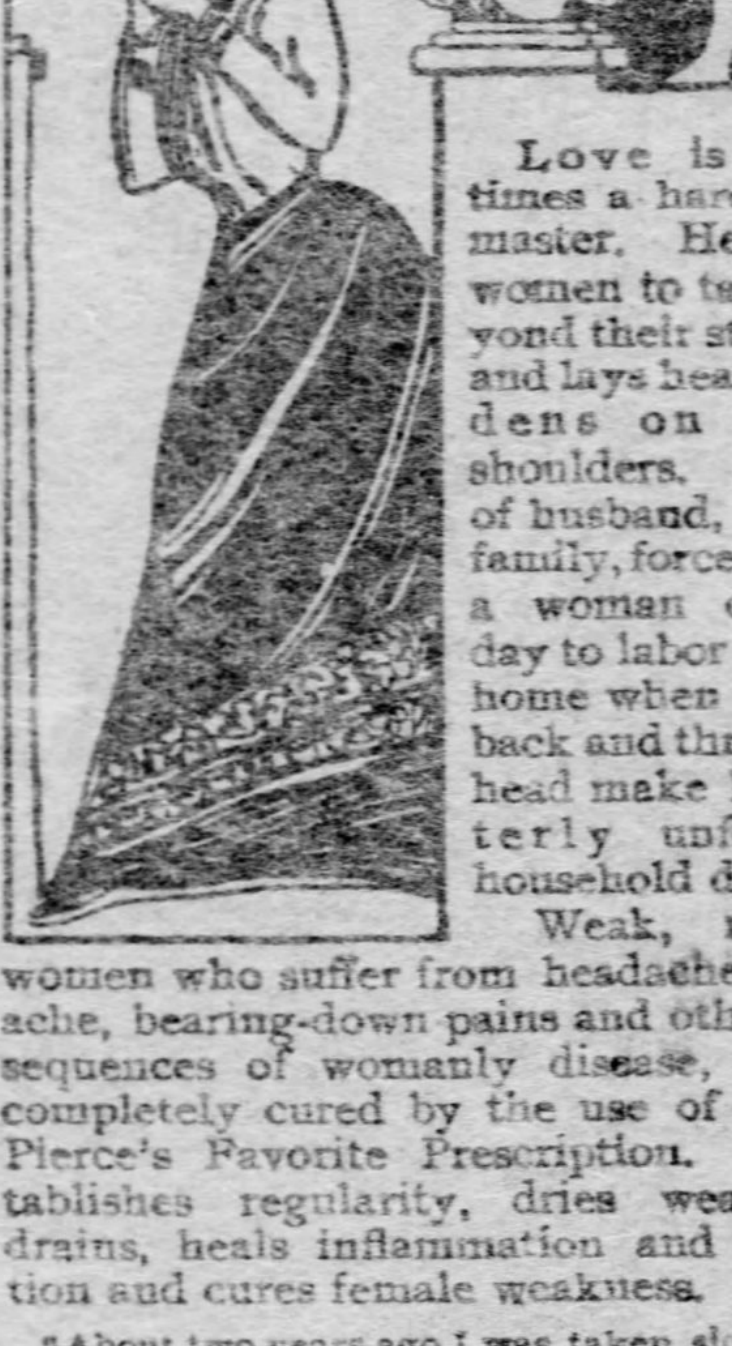
Trouble Is Over Division of Territory, Which Is Likely to Be Arranged.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 11.—Unless unexpected obstacles are raised by the representatives of the steamship lines at the further conference to be held with the president of the board of trade, Gerald Balfour, the emigrant rate war will be settled within a few days. This means that the $10 rate will immediately be abandoned and that emigrants bound for America must pay $27.50, the rate charged before the struggle began. It developed today that Director General Ballin of the Hamburg-American line had been active in endeavoring to settle the difficulties with the Cunard line, and there is no question that Mr. Balfour's intervention was due in a measure to a suggestion of Herr Ballin some time ago, that the president of the board of trade act as arbitrator.

The basis for the settlement has not yet leaked out, but Lord Inverclyde, chairman of the Cunard Steamship Company, has insisted on the right of his line to have some of the Austrian-Hungarian and Italian emigrant traffic, which Herr Ballin held belonged to his company. From the Cunard viewpoint the German lines have no right to use the control stations established on the frontiers by the German government to prevent the entrance of undesirable emigrants, and which have been handed over to the charge of the shipping lines as a means to increase their own business at the expense of the other lines by the simple expedient of refusing admission to any person not provided with a German line ticket.

The officials of the German lines contend that the procedure is entirely justifiable and would not have been adopted had the Cunard line, which controlled the Scandinavian emigration, refrained from interfering with the Mediterranean business. It is believed territory will be arranged satisfactorily.



Love is sometimes a hard taskmaster. He drives women to tasks beyond their strength and lays heavy burdens on their shoulders. Love of husband, love of family, forces many a woman day by day to labor for the home when aching back and throbbing head make her utterly unfit for household duties.

Weak, nervous women who suffer from headache, backache, bearing-down pains and other consequences of womanly disease, can be completely cured by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"About two years ago I was taken sick and it seemed as if I had no nerves at all," writes Mrs. P Woodbeck, of Delray, Mich. "Could not work an hour in the day without being tired out. I doctored first with one physician, then with another, but did not receive any benefit. One would say one thing and the next something else. I had almost given up when I thought your medicine might help me, so I wrote to you asking what to do. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so and could see a difference right away. I only took four bottles in all and felt better than I had in a long time. Can work all day now and not feel tired as I would in an hour before taking your treatment. I think it is the only medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure dizziness and sick headache.
